

THE NAPANEE

9brook
7eo 11 feb 00

Vol. XXXVIII] No. 25 —JNO. POLLARD, Editor and Publisher.

NAPANEE, ONT., CANADA—FRIDAY

Hosiery - Bargain - Day THURSDAY, JUNE 8th

ON THURSDAY, JUNE 8th, COMMENCING AT 9 A.M., WE WILL SELL THE BARGAIN LOTS OF HOSIERY.

LOT I—Fifty dozen Ladies' Black Cotton Hose worth from 10c to 15c per pair,
OUR PRICE 5c. PER PAIR.

LOT II—Fifty Dozen Boy's Ribbed Cotton Hose in sizes 5, 5½, 6, 6½, 7, 7½, 8, 8½, 9, worth from 10c to 15c per pair, OUR PRICE 3 PAIRS FOR 25c.

POSSIBILITIES IN FEATHERBONING

FREE DEMONSTRATION

IN OUR STORE

Tuesday and Wednesday, June 13th and 14th

BY— Miss SHANKLIN, of Toronto.

We invite the Ladies to visit this free demonstration and inspect the Skirts, Waists, Cordings, etc. exhibition. Miss Shanklin will give instructions in featherboning, absolutely free of charge. Ladies bring Waists with them can have them featherboned free of charge by paying simply the cost of the Featherbone. THE USE OF FEATHERBONE has revolutionized the older methods of staying a waist, as in June, 1900, in by machine right through bone and all, becoming actually a part of the bodice, moulding it into a shape that it will retain until worn threadbare, giving to the form a graceful outline, and a decided elegance. THE CORDING EFFECTS in piping and cable sizes, the very newest and daintiest things for Collars, Cuffs, and Skirts, made in contrasting Silk or Plaids will be the correct accompaniment with Cloth or Shirt Waists.

We invite the Ladies to visit this free demonstration and inspect the Skirts, Waists, Cordings, etc. exhibition. Miss Shanklin will give instructions in featherboning, absolutely free of charge. Ladies bring Waists with them can have them featherboned free of charge by paying simply the cost of the Featherbone.

THE USE OF FEATHERBONE has revolutionized the older methods of staying a waist, as in June 1899, in by machine right through bone and all, becoming actually a part of the bodice, moulding it in such a way that it will retain until worn threadbare, giving to the form a graceful outline, and a decided elegance. Of the CORDING EFFECTS in piping and cable sizes, the very newest and daintiest things for Collars, made in contrasting Silk or Plaids will be the correct accompaniment with Cloth or Shirt Waists.

Tweed Bargain--25c per yd.

Extraordinary buying enables us to offer this week 500 yards Tweed Canadian made, all worth from 25c to 50c per yard at 25c per yard. The patterns are very neat and pretty.

The Robinson Company

PURSUANT TO A JUDGMENT OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE made in a cause Martin vs. Wartman, the creditors of Edward Fletcher, late of the Township of Camden, in the County of Lennox and Addington, farmer, deceased, who died on or about the First Day of May, A.D. 1870, are on or before the 31st Day of May, A.D. 1899, to send by post prepaid to Deroche & Madden, of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, solicitors for the Defendant, F. S. Wartman, Administrator for the deceased, their christian and surnames, address and description, full particulars of their claim, a statement of their security and the nature of the security (if any) held by them, or in default thereof they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefits of the said judgment. Every creditor holding any security is to produce same before me at my Chambers at the Court House, in the Town of Napanee, on FRIDAY, THE 2nd DAY OF JUNE, A.D. 1899, at two o'clock in the afternoon being the time appointed for adjudicating said claims.

(Sgd) S. S. LAZIER, L. M.

Dated this 25th day of April, A.D. 1899.

JUDICIAL SALE. IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE,

MARTIN VS. WARTMAN.

Pursuant to the Judgment made in this action on the 21st day of April, A.D. 1899, there will be sold by public auction with the approval of the Local Master at Napanee at his Chambers in the Court House in the Town of Napanee, on Friday, the second day of June, A.D. 1899, at 2 P.M., the following property:—

All and singular those certain parcels or tracts of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Camden in the County of Lennox and Addington, and being composed of the North part of Lot No. 44 in the Second Concession of the said Township of Camden, that is to say:—

(1) All that part of said Lot lying North of the travelled road leading from the school house at Clarke's Mill, containing by admeasurement fifty acres, be the same more or less, being parcel of land described in the Deed of Sidney Warner to Edward Fletcher dated March 27th, 1869 and registered in the registry office for the County of Lennox and Addington April 7th, 1869 in Book 6 for the Township of Camden as number 97.

(2) That parcel of land commencing at the old school house on the corner of the road leading to Varty Lake. Then westerly along said road towards Varty Lake 82 rods to John Cronk's line. Then southerly along said line 30 rods. Then easterly 80 rods to the road between Lots Numbers 44 and 45. Then northerly along said road 24 rods to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement 13 acres be the same more or less, and being the parcel of land described in a Deed from Charles Warner to Edward Fletcher, dated August 21st, 1855, and registered April 9th, 1869, in Book 6 for the Township of Camden as No. 141.

Upon the premises are erected a stone dwelling house and frame barn in fair state of repair. The land is all cleared and fairly well fenced. This property is adjoining the Village of Colebrook about one mile from Yarker Station on the Bay of Quinte Railway, and about fifteen miles from Napanee.

The property will be sold subject to a reserve fixed by the Master.

The purchaser shall pay down a deposit in the proportion of $10 of every $100 of the purchase money at the time of sale and the balance in one month thereafter without interest.

For further particulars apply at the law offices of Messrs. Deroche & Madden, Messrs. Wilson & Wilson, and W. S. Herrington, Esq., Napanee.

S. S. LAZIER, L. M.

DEROCHE & MADDEN, Plaintiff's Solicitors.

Dated this 25th day of April, A.D. 1899.

AUCTION SALE OF VALUABLE VILLAGE PROPERTY.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain Indenture of Mortgage, which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be sold by Public Auction at McElroy's Hotel, in the Village of Flinton, in the Township of Kaladar, in the County of Lennox and Addington, on TUESDAY, THE 6th DAY OF JUNE, A.D. 1899, at two o'clock in the afternoon, the following valuable Village Property, that is to say: All those certain parcels or tracts of land and premises situate lying and being in the Village of Flinton, in the Township of Kaladar, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of Village Lots Numbers Sixty-eight and Sixty-nine on the South side of Horton Street on the west side of Edward Street, in the Village of Flinton aforesaid, according to a plan drawn by John Emerson, Esquire, Provincial Land Surveyor, and registered in the Registry Office for the County of Lennox and Addington, on the eighteenth day of May, A.D. 1874.

Upon said lots are situate a frame house 20 feet by 30 feet, 2 stories high with kitchen 18 feet by 18 feet attached, and woodshed 20 feet by 18 feet, and a barn 21 feet by 36 feet.

Terms and Conditions of sale will be made known at time of sale.

For further particulars apply to MESSRS. DEROCHE & MADDEN, Vendors' Solicitors.

H. W. HUFF, Esq., Auctioneer.
Dated at Napanee this 23rd day of April, 1899.

STEAMER

"C. H. Merritt"

Best Sunday School Excursion
Steamer on the bay.

APPLY TO

J. E. ROBINSON,

at THE ROBINSON CO'S STORE, for Rates and Dates.

ANNUAL MEETING

Lennox Farmers' Institute

—IN THE—

Town Hall, Napanee

—ON—

TUESDAY, JUNE 6th, 1899

at 2 o'clock p.m.

Review of business of the year and elect officers and select places to hold meetings for the coming year. Also other important business to transact.

H. AYLSWORTH, Secretary.

DAVID AYLSWORTH, President.

TOWNSHIP OF SHEFFIELD. COURT OF REVISION.

Notice is hereby given that a court for the Revision of the Assessment Roll of the Township of Sheffield for the year 1899, will be held in the Town Hall, Tamworth, at 10 o'clock a.m., on Monday, 5th June, 1899.

All concerned will govern themselves accordingly.

JAS. AYLSWORTH,

Clerk of the Township of Sheffield.

Court of Revision.

Notice is hereby given that a Court of Revision for the Township of Richmond will be held at the Town Hall, Selby, on MONDAY, THE 5th DAY OF JUNE, 1899, commencing at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m.

All persons having any complaints against their assessment are required to attend and govern themselves accordingly.

A. WINTERS, Tp. Clerk of Richmond.
Dated at Selby, this 8th day of May, 1899.

NOTICE.

...THE...

ANNUAL MEETING

of the Napanee Water and Electric Light Co., Limited, will be held in the Secretary's Office, on 1899, at 2 p.m.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9th

for the election of officers, and receiving the auditor's statement.

ALF. KNIGHT,

Secretary.

Dated at Napanee this 27th day of May, '99

NOTICE OF MEETING.

The County Council of Lennox and Addington will meet for the transaction of general business on

Tuesday, June 6th, 1898

at 2 o'clock p.m.

All accounts must be in the hands of the undersigned not later than Tuesday, the 6th inst., in order that they may be considered.

By direction of the Council I am authorized to state that the Council will refuse to pay any accounts for goods exceeding $2.00 unless such goods are ordered by the chairman of the County Property Committee or are supplied under contract with the Council.

W. G. WILSON.

County Clerk.

NOTICE.

I hereby give notice that I am about for a transfer of Township Tavern Lot 463, issued to John Whalen, for the year 1900 for the premises at Enterprise 1 the Windsor.

MRS. SARAH X W

Enterprise, May 31st, 1899.

2 HOUSES IN NAPANEE FOR

Brick house on John street owned by Trimble. A very desirable property with garden. Possession given August 1st $1,500. Also a nice frame house on street, owned by the late Victoria Huff occupied by Sandy Armstrong. W. barn. Price $650. For particulars apply to H. WARNER.

June 2nd, 1899.

FOR SALE.

Brick house on Pinery Hill, next to Ham's, owned by Mr. Robert L. Perry, ton. This is a very handsome residence location all that could be desired, cheap for cash, or a large portion of money on time if required. Good drive and well on property. If not sold rented. Immediate possession given to H. WARNER, A Napanee, June 2nd, 1899.

Mr. Thos. Winters, who under operation for appendicitis in F Hospital last week is improving as could be expected.

A. S. Kimmerly will have a car berry boxes to hand in a few days away down. Plenty of seed corn millet always on hand. Our 25 c beats all others.

Tweed will be lighted by electric agreement has been entered into Messrs. Steinhoff & Gordon, of V burg, who will establish an electric and also a heading mill.

The Bear Mica Company, in number of Kingston citizens are in are asking the Kingston council them a free site and exemption from taxation and water if they establish refining factory.

Mr. John Briggs has the contract erection of an addition to the lately occupied by E. K. Bowen, by Mr. Jas. Minchinton, as a second store. Mr. Minchinton found the place too small for his business, and his Mr. E. McCabe decided to add an addition to the premises.

A CARD.

We, the undersigned, do hereby refund the money on a twenty-five bottle of Dr. Wills' English Pills, if using three-fourths of contents of they do not relieve Constipation and ache. We also warrant that four will permanently cure the most case of Constipation. Satisfaction pay when Wills' English Pills are W. S. Dettlor, T. A. Huffman, Grange & Bro., Napanee.

NEE EXPRESS.

$1 per Year in advance: $1.50 if not so paid.

NADA—FRIDAY, JUNE 2nd, 1899.

Day

h ILL SELL TWO

15c per pair,

, 7, 7½, 8, 8½, 9,
S FOR 25c.

BONING !

and 14th

to.

sts, Cordings, etc., on arge. Ladies bringing the Featherbone used.
a waist, as stitched
olding it in shape elegance of the figure ings for Collars, Cuffs,
r Shirt Waists.

LAND PLASTER FOR SALE

ALSO.... Lumber, Dath, Shingles, and all kinds of Building Material.
Star Portland Cement, the best in the market.

DRY MILL WOOD AND CEDAR BLOCKS.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY,
R. SHIPMAN, Agent.

Something Fine.

When you want to bake "Something Fine" you must have fine materials—and that's what we want to sell you.

High Grade Sugars. Pure Flavoring Extracts Best Baking Powders. Fine Fancy Flowers.
Creamery Butter. Up-to-Date Eggs.
Preserved and Dried Fruits.
Every Sort of Spices.

Your Baking will be successful if good materials will make it so.

J. F. SMITH.

A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

ADDRESS TO HIS GRACE.

Reception of His Grace Archbishop Gauthier on His First Official Visit to Napanee.

The first visit to this parish of His Grace the Archbishop of the Kingston Diocese since his appointment, occurred on Monday last and was made the occasion of a brilliant reception. The distinguished ecclesiastic arrived on the noon train accompanied by Mgr. Farrelly, Belleville; Dean O'Connor, Tyendinaga; Father Davis, Madoc, and His Grace's secretary, Father Meagher, and were met by the Napanee Band the Mayor and members of the council and a large gathering of citizens of all creeds. After greetings were exchanged the archbishop entered a carriage and a procession was formed headed by the band and proceeded to the R. C. Church where an address of welcome was read on behalf of Napanee and Deseronto congregations by Mr. M. J. Butler, Mayor Pruyn also delivered a short address of welcome on behalf of the citizens. His Grace made a most appropriate reply, after which an adjournment was made for lunch. In the afternoon from 3 till 4 o'clock the Archbishop examined the candidates for confirmation, and from 4 till 6 o'clock a reception was held at the presbytery. On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock His Grace held service in the church followed by the confirmation of about thirty-five children. In the afternoon His Grace left for Leamington. The church was filled to its utmost capacity during all of the services and addresses were listened to with marked attention. The church and presbytery grounds were tastefully decorated for the visit of the Archbishop.

To the Most Reverend Charles Hugh Gauthier, D. D., Archbishop of Kingston,
YOUR GRACE:—On behalf of the Congre-

pleasant duty to tender to Your Grace, a hearty welcome on this, the occasion of your first official visit to this town. I am pleased and honored to welcome you for many reasons but more particularly to evidence to Your Grace, and good feeling, which exists to-day, and I am proud to say always has existed between the Roman Catholics and Protestants citizens of this town. This good feeling has always been promoted and fostered by the several Reverend gentlemen, who have presided over this parish but by none more than the Rev. Father Hogan, whom, we all esteem and admire. We trust that your stay among us will be of the pleasantest character and we hope you may be long spared to fill your High and Holy Office. Again I wish you a hearty welcome.

Reply of His Grace, Archbishop Gauthier, to the address presented by the congregations of Napanee and Deseronto, on this the occasion of his first official visit to the parish.

As I proceed from parish to parish, in my Archdiocese, it is indeed a source of much happiness to me to be greeted, as I have been on this day, by the good people of Napanee, in this church. I thank you for the cordial welcome, you have extended to me, and for the truly grand demonstration, you have gotten up on my behalf.

My Catholic people, everywhere, take a laudable pride, in welcoming me, their chief pastor, as on the present occasion, and cordially seize the opportunity it offers, to publicly express their loyalty to my official character, as well as to give expression to the love and esteem, they have for myself personally. For this, I am most heartily thankful, for this, I am most grateful.

In your beautiful and eloquent address, you have made mention of a Mission, it was my happy privilege to express some long years ago, in this parish, out of which, you say much spiritual good did come. I am fully aware, that spiritual good was not the fruit of my eloquence, nor of my official labor, no matter how hard, but it was because the blessed words my close friend, my intimate friend, and has been for years, ever since we first met. I am much pleased at your appreciating, as you do, his priestly merits. I thank you for it, as I can fully vouch the truth of every word, you have said concerning him. The kind and good feeling, which exists here towards him is no different from that, which has always and everywhere existed towards him wherever he went, and it was always due to his untiring labor and charity. No matter what duties Father Hogan had to perform they were always faithfully and arduously performed, and it has always been the same, with regard to his work of whatever kind, and wherever he has been.

I wish again to thank His Honor, Judge Wilkison, and His Worship, the Mayor for making me welcome. Although, I have been bidden welcome by the Mayor of every town, I have yet visited, in the course of my Episcopal visitations, your town of Napanee, is the first place, in which its protestant Mayor, in the presence of the assembled people, has come into the sanctuary and so feelingly and eloquently tendered to me his cordial welcome.

I thank you very much, and I tender to my protestant and catholic friends of Napanee, who have gone to so much pains to make the magnificent demonstration, to-day, every success, and my cordial and sincere thanks.

ODESSA.

Miss B. Alyswoth and Miss Robinson Selby, have returned home after spending a few days with friends in this vicinity.

Mr. Gauge, of Sharpton, has moved into the village.

The foot walk in connection with the big bridge over the river has been improved by a new railing.

The Queen's Hotel is being improved by a new wing.

Our young men should take a driver with them on Sundays when they go away from home so that they might return before the next day.

Miss Nora Lee has returned to Watertown after visiting her parents for about three weeks.

Mrs. Sidney Warner spent a couple of days last week in our village visiting her brother, S. D. Clark, who is still very low.

Geo. Hikes has gone to St Catherines where he has secured a first-class situation.

Dr. C. W. Day Clark, of supreme court of physicians, I. O. Foresters, Toronto, is in the village at his father's bedside, S. D. Clark.

Mrs. Snider, one of the oldest residents of this locality, died Wednesday aged ninety-two.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The fact is, that of Cast. N. Napanee is on every wrapper

NAPANEE, MILLS.

The plentiful rains keep vegetation

ists, Cordings, etc., on arge. Ladies bringing
the Featherbone used.
a waist, as stitched
milding it in Jun shape d elegance of the figure.
ings for Collars, Cuffs,
or Shirt Waists.

yd.
ade, all worth from 35c

pany.

ICE.
by give notice that I am about to apply
ansfer of Township Tavern License No.
ed to John Whalen, for the year 1899-the premises at Enterprise known as ndscr, her
MRS. SARAH X WHALEN. rise, May 31st, 1899. msk. 25b

USES IN NAPANEE FOR SALE.
house on John street owned by Frank A very desirable property with barn
don. Possession given August 1st—price
Also a nice frame house on Thomas owned by the late Victoria Huffman and d by Sandy Armstrong. With good Price $850. For particulars apply to
H. WARNER, Agent.
2nd. 1899. 25dp

SALE.
house on Piety Hill, next to Mr. Zina owned by Mr. Robert L. Perry, of Boshis is a very handsome residence and all that could be desired. For sale or cash, or a large portion of purchase on time if required. Good driving house all on property. If not sold, will be Immediate possession given. Apply
H. WARNER, Agent.
ice. June 2nd, 1899. 25d

Thos. Winters, who underwent an on for appendicitis in Kingston al last week is improving as well as expected.
Kimmerly will have a car load of oxes to hand in a few days, prices down. Plenty of seed corn and always on hand. Our 25 cent tea ll others.
d will be lighted by electricity. An ent has been entered into with Steinhoff & Gordon, of Wallace-ho will establish an electric plant
o a heading mill.
Bear Mica Company, in which a of Kingston citizens are interesting the Kingston council to grant free site and exemption from tax-nd water if they establish a mica factory.
John Briggs has the contract for the
of an addition to the premises occupied by E. K. Bowen, but now Jas. Michinton, as a second-hand
Mr. Minchinton found the premises ll for his business, and his landlord, McCabe decided to add an addition remises.

A CARD.
he undersigned, do hereby agree to the money on a twenty-five cent f Dr. Wills' English Pills, if, after three-fourths of contents of bottle, not relieve Constipation and Head-
We also warrant that four bottles manently cure the most obstinate Constipation. Satisfaction or no en Wills' English Pills are used.
Deslor, T. A. Huffman, A. W.

made a most appropriate reply, after which an adjournment was made for lunch.
In the afternoon from 3 till 4 o'clock the Archbishop examined the candidates for confirmation, and from 4 till 6 o'clock a reception was held at the presbytery. On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock His Grace held service in the church followed by the confirmation of about thirty-five children.
In the afternoon His Grace left for Legeonto. The church was filled to its utter capacity during all of the services and reception. The church and presbyterial grounds were tastefully decorated for the visit of the Archbishop.

To the Most Reverend Charles Hugh Gauthier, D. D., Archbishop of Kingston,
Your Grace:—On behalf of the Congregations of Napanee and Deseronto, we desire to avail ourselves of this the first official visit of Your Grace to tender our congratulations on Your Grace's elevation to the high and responsible dignity of Archbishop of the Diocese of Kingston.
Under the Providence of Almighty God, our Holy Father Pope Leo XIII, in recognition of Your Grace's long and eminent services as a Priest, and of the unanimously expressed wish of the Clergy of the Diocese, has granted to us in Your Grace, Archbishop who holds the confidence and esteem of the Clergy and Laity to a very marked degree.
Your Grace does not come unknown to us. Many years ago it was our privilege to enjoy the benefit of a mission in this Church, conducted by Your Grace, and from which many graces and blessings flowed to the fortunate participants.
At the dedication of our first church in Deseronto, since destroyed by fire, the opening sermon was preached by Your Grace.
The universal testimony of the parishes ministered to by Your Grace during a long and arduous Priesthood, have proclaimed to the world the beneficent services rendered in the cause of charity, good-will and the well-being of your people.
We desire, in an especial manner, to tender to Your Grace, our heartiest welcome. "A caed Mille faihthe."
We extend to Your Grace, our loyalty and obedience as our Spiritual head.
We promise to faithfully co-operate with Your Grace to the extent of our powers, in all things demanded of us.
We are happy to inform Your Grace that the Catholic Mutual Benevolent Association has long had a strong Branch at Deseronto, with 138 members in good standing. Quite recently a branch of this benevolent order has been organized at Napanee. In the performance of various works of charity, and in the ennobling influences of Christian brotherhood, it has won the hearty commendation of Our Pastor.
We live in peace and harmony with our Protestant fellow citizens, enjoying their consideration and good will.
We feel, Your Grace, that we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing our appreciation and love for our beloved pastor, Father Hogan, who for so many years has had us in his care.
He is at once our wise Counsellor and good friend. His devotion to duty and wise and liberal views have contributed to the excelent feeling in this community.
In conclusion, we pray that Almighty God may grant to Your Grace, his choicest blessings, that you may be long spared to fill the duties of the high office to which, under His Providence, Your Grace has been called and which you are so eminently fitted to adorn.
We humbly ask of Your Grace to give to ourselves and our families, Your blessing.
Signed on behalf of the congregations:
NAPANEE. DESERONTO.
M. J. Butler, John Callagher, George Leamy, John Hunt,
D. J. Hogan, Michael Candon,
J. P. Hanley, Richard Davern, Hugh Mooney, Owen Smith,
Thomas Whalen, Joseph St Louis,
R. McNeil, Louis Daquette,
Thomas Trimble, James Gaulin,
Michael Marrigan,

Welcome of His Worship, Mayor Prun, on behalf of the corporation of the town of Napanee, to His Grace, Archbishop Gauthier, on the occasion of His first official visit to this Parish.

stration, you have gotten up on my behalf.
My Catholic people, everywhere, take a laudable pride, in welcoming me, their chief pastor, as on the present occasion, and cordially seize the opportunity it offers, to publicly express their loyalty to my official character, as well as to give expression to the love and esteem, they have for myself personally. For this, I am most grateful.
In your beautiful and eloquent address,
you have made mention of a mission, it was my happy privilege to have presided some long years ago, in this parish, out of which, you say much spiritual good did come. I am fully aware, that spiritual good was not the fruit of my eloquence, nor of my official labor, no matter how hard, but it was because the blessed words of Our Heavenly Father fell upon good ground, and sank deep into the hearts of a truly loyal and devotional Catholic people.
I have a feeling of real happiness, in recalling that Mission, because of the memory of the past, it brings up. I know the feelings, I had them, have been strengthened and confirmed as the years rolled by, for since then, I have had many opportunities to know you more intimately than I did then, and without any flattery can say, the longer and the more I have known you, the deeper has become the love and affection I have always had for you.
I noticed at that time, a good many attending the Mission you refer to, who were not members of our church, and I rejoiced to see it, because it gave tangible evidence that christian charity and a kindly feeling of good fellowship, existed between all the denominations in your really beautiful town. And after all these long years, what do I find to-day, when I come to you as your chief pastor and Archbishop—why, and thanks to God for it on arriving at your railway station, so tastefully decorated to do honor to the occasion, the first to grasp me by the hand, in kindly welcome, is His Honor Judge Wilkison, whom you all reverence and honor, and His Worship, the Mayor, both gentlemen worthy representatives of their respective high offices, to which they add credit and dignity, by their fellow citizens of every creed.
I thank all these good people, not of my creed, who are here to welcome me, and I am told there were many lining your streets, and helping in every way to make me welcome, and God grant this feeling of unison and harmony may always exist between you, to the peace and tranquility of your beautiful town, and to, for the best material interests of our common country.
The christian people of every denomination, realize that the teaching of Our Heavenly Master is the teaching of the doctrine, the teaching of the example of virtue, that he has given to us, "To love one another" and
"by the love, you have for one another, I shall know you." I thank God there exists this good feeling, in your community, and my earnest prayer is "May that good feeling grow and be cemented the more and more, as the years pass by."
I am very much pleased at the mention of the C. M. B. A. I have been a member for many years, and it affords me much pleasure to have them come to meet me.
Sometimes they come in their regalia, as they did to-day, to show me their kindly welcome. I like the C. M. B. A, because its members aim, not only to do good to themselves, individually, but also to others dependant upon them. I hope the good work in your Parish may be carried on and extended. The members of the C. M.
B. A. are always anxious and willing to help along every Parochial work, and are always anxious to please their spiritual guides. When a priest wishes to engage in any undertaking, all he has to do is to tell a C. M. B. A. what it is he would like done. Then there is another and a greater reason, why I take it, it is for its anxious solicitations that your mothers, your wives, or your children may not one day, be left to the cold charity of the world. You make your contributions, each week or each month as the case may be, and you know that your beloved ones will reap the benefit of your offerings and sacrifices, should God be pleased to call you before them, and this is right and deserving praise.
You have said something about Father Hogan, and I shall not attempt to speak concerning him, in his presence, as I should wish, knowing as I do his aversion for praise of any kind, may say Father Hogan is my friend bedside, S. D. Clark.

Mrs. Snider, one of the oldest residents of this locality, died Wednesday aged ninety-two.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The fac-
tr. c. r. w. n.
signature of Chas. N. Welch is on each bottle.

NAPANEE. MILLS.
The plenteous rains keep vegetation looking fine, nearly all grain is sown and looks well.
Many from here attended the funerals at Newburgh on Wednesday. Both deceased gentlemen were widely and favorably known.
Mrs. Joice and Mrs. Carscallen spent Thursday at Hamburg.
Miss Doyle is visiting at Mr. Mc-Guire's.
Miss Allen arrived last week from Toronto to visit her brother.
Word has been received from Mr. C.
Thompson, who left here last winter for Dakota, that he was seriously ill with pneumonia.
The little child of J. Asselstine has pneumonia.
Miss Lauria Dunlap, who was very seriously injured in a bicycle accident, has fully recovered.
Miss Jackson, who has had a severe attack of la grippe, is still poorly.
Mr. Robert Madden is very much improved since a course of treatment in Kingston Hospital.
Mrs. Sommerville is visiting friends at Wilton and Odessa.
Mr. Robert Ramsay left on Tuesday of last week for Manitoba to spend the summer.
Mr. W. Wilson received an ugly wound on the arm from the kick of a horse.
Mrs. Morgan entertained a few of the young people on Wednesday.
They had a very enjoyable time.
Mr. Davy has a new carriage per-chased from the Connolly firm, Yarker.
Mr. Hugh Kelly has invested in a new buggy.
Quite a number attended Kingston celebration on May 24th.
Mrs. Galeneau, of Trenton, and her two sons spent the 24th. here with her daughter, Mrs. McCall. Mrs. Mc-Call returned to Trenton with them for a short time.
Rev. G. W. Swayne the new encumber of St Jude's has taken formal charge of the appointment.

The Genuine
Paine's Celery Compound Is Never Peddled or Hawked About the Country.

Many people in this town and surrounding country have lately been victimized by impostors bent on making money easily.
These deceivers are trying to sell a preparation which they represent to be the same as Paine's Celery Compound.
A sample of this crude medicine has just come into the hands of the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound; it has been carefully tested and found to be chemically impure, and is positively dangerous to health.
The genuine Paine's Celery Compound bears the name "PAINES," and has the
"STALK OF CELERY" on each bottle.
Paine's Celery Compound—the kind that makes sick people well—is never peddled or hawked about from door to door, or sold

News Summary.

Recent Happenings Briefly Told.

CANADA.

The Canadian Pacific will build a big hotel in Winnipeg this year.

The next meeting of the International Y.M.C.A. will be held in Montreal in 1901.

Francis Blackwell, of London, has sued the local street railway for $2,000 for injuries.

It is announced that the Canadian Pacific will build a big hotel in Winnipeg this year.

The striking carpenters and contractors of Winnipeg have decided to arbitrate their differences.

Lord Minto will receive the degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Ottawa on June 21.

Peter A. McIntyre, M.D., of Charlottetown, has been appointed Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island.

A flock of sheep at the farm at Eastwood, owned by Postmaster Patterson, of Toronto, were worried by dogs, 50 bitten and ten killed.

Joseph Wilson, an agent of the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was instantly killed by falling off his wheel in front of a street car at Montreal.

The Hamilton good roads debenture by-law, for the raising of $150,000 for permanent pavements, was defeated at the polls by a majority of 110 against.

The Council at Portage La Prairie has granted the Northern Pacific Railway for its western extension a width of 33 feet on Pacific avenue as a right of way.

Capt. Porter, son of Rev. W. H. Porter, of Brantford, is second officer of the steamer Paris, and was on board when it ran upon the rocks off Falmouth.

A commission of experts on insanity will inquire into the mental condition of Donald Perrier of New Westminster, who lies under sentence of death for the murder of a woman.

The new fast service of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be inaugurated about the middle of June, probably the 18th. The flyer across the continent will be called the "Imperial Limited."

Mr. D. D. Mann of Mackenzie & Mann has signed a contract with the Nova Scotia Government to construct the Inverness Railway from Port Hastings, to Broad Cove, C.B., a distance of 57 miles.

George E. Hardy, a clerk in Carsley's, Montreal, whose mind became deranged through grief over the death of his wife, two months ago, committed suicide on Sunday by shooting himself.

The hardware firm of Adam Hope & Co., Hamilton, which compromised with its creditors on May 21, 1897, at 50 cents on the dollar, has paid every cent of its indebtedness, over $26,000 and interest.

Advices from Mr. Cran, the manager at Dawson at the Bank of British North America, say the safes and vault have been opened and the contents found intact. Mr. Cran expected to re-open the bank for business on the 28th.

The promoters of the Ottawa and Georgian Bay Ship Canal have deposited $200,000 in the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Ottawa, in accordance with the provisions of the statute incorporating the company.

The wife of Chief Logan of the Nova Scotia Micmacs, who was said to have been killed by a bear, died Sunday at Halfway River, in Cumberland County, at the age of 103 years. Her passing of the century mark was celebrated three years ago.

land for New York on Monday in an attempt to break the horseless carriage record between the two cities. The route selected is about 800 miles in length.

The historic Oxford Hotel building in Philadelphia was burned Monday, along with the stables. Policeman Robman was injured while rescuing horses, 52 of which were in the stables and all of which were saved. No insurance.

W. T. W. Ball, a well-known Boston newspaper man, and his wife were found dead in bed in a room filled with gas. Letters written by Mr. Ball disclosed the fact that it was a case of suicide. Despondency, owing to his continued ill-health, was given as the reason for the act. He was 66 years of age and his wife was 73.

Edwards Scannell, brother of Fire Commissioner John J. Scannell, of New York, is under arrest on a charge of having accepted $250 from Frank McGowan on the promise of securing McGowan an appointment in the Fire Department. It is alleged that Scannell secured this money on the strength of representations he made regarding his relationship with the Commissioner.

At Muskogee, Indian Territory, Andrew J. Mathes, the second of the thirty defendants in the celebrated Seminole burning cases, was found guilty. Mathes was a preacher, and at the time of the burning of the Indians was present and prayed loudly to God to save the souls of the boys, but made no effort to save them from his fellow-men. Mathes was tried for kidnapping.

GENERAL.

Skirmishing is still in progress in the Philippines.

Northern Africa is troubled with a plague of locusts.

Senor Castelar, the Spanish Republican statesman, is dead.

The bubonic plague is increasing in severity in Hong Kong.

The famous shrine at El Cobre, Cuba, has been robbed of jewels worth $25,000.

Madame Carlotta Crisi, the once celebrated Italian dancer, is dead at Geneva.

It now seems likely that Newfoundland will soon receive a colony of Finlanders.

Dreyfus is to be retried by a court-martial in a garrison town distant from Paris.

There is great excitement in the town of San Diale, Mexico, over the lynching of seven coloured labourers.

Serious rioting is reported at Guadeloupe between the native population and British contract labor immigrants.

The rainy season has started in the Philippines and the Filipinos are showing great activity in harassing the Americans.

The Cuban soldiery are refusing to accept the money offered by the American Government, and are keeping their arms.

The continued drought in Roumania has seriously affected the crops. Sixty per cent of the wheat crop is already destroyed.

A large portion of Astrakan, on the north-west coast of the Caspian Sea, has been submerged by an overflow of the River Volga.

It is reported that the Americans of the Yorktown's crew in the hands of the Filipinos have been subjected to barbarous treatment.

While some workmen were in filling shells at the Copeland military laboratory, some of the latter exploded and killed seven men.

GREAT FIRE AT ST. JOHN.

INDIANTOWN, A NORTHERN SUBURB, NEARLY WIPED OUT.

Two Hundred Buildings Destroyed, Nearly One Thousand People Rendered Homeless, and Two Fatalities—Area a Mile Square Fire-Swept.

A despatch from St. John, N.B., says:—The northern end of St. John city was badly devastated by fire Thursday afternoon, and evening. The flames broke out in a warehouse near the river bank at Indiantown, and, fanned by a stiff southerly gale, spread with great rapidity, first wiping out the large stores and warehouses near the wharves, and then attacking the adjacent district, where reside the people employed in the nearby saw mills and others in humble walks of life. Most of their residences were small wooden buildings, but all were comfortably furnished. The loss to these people is very great; in many cases the fire swept away all their worldly goods. On Bridge street alone one hundred dwellings were burned.

Fortunately the fire did not extend any great distance on Main street, being stopped below the street car shed, but it nevertheless wiped out

SOME FINE RESIDENCES.

The stores and warehouses of Messrs. Naz, Horncastle, Capt. Keast, the J. W. McAllary Co., and other general dealers, who do a big trade along the St. John river, were consumed, with all their valuable stocks. All the steamship lines lost their warehouses, containing more or less freight.

It was all the whole city fire department could do, after six hours hard fighting, to stop the advance of the flames, which swept over an area of about one mile square.

Over two hundred buildings were burned, and the property loss is well up to a million dollars. It is estimated that six hundred to one thousand people are homeless.

One aged woman refused to leave her house and perished in the flames. Another lady, who was in ill-health, died of the shock before her house caught.

BURNED OUT OF THEIR HOMES.

Many families of moderate means lived in the large tenements and small wooden buildings along Bridge street, and the scene on the water front was a pathetic one. As the fire worked its way down each side of the street, men, women, and children hurried out of the houses like hens from their nests, each bearing armful of household effects. These were deposited in the streets, on the wharves, or on board boats. The fire ate on and on, house after house smouldered, burst in flames, blazed furiously, and crumbled to a mass of red embers.

The wind blew the flames away from the water's edge, but as the embers accumulated intense heat was generated, and soon fire attacked the household effects piled on the piers.

Then the ferry-house and the Star line warehouse burst into flames, followed by the river steamer May Queen's warehouse, 200 feet away. These were entirely burned, but the fire got no further in this direction.

Bridge street, however, which runs parallel with the water, was burned on both sides from end to end.

ONLY THREE HOUSES REMAIN.

There were three blocks of buildings between the north side of Main street and the open country. These were all

DEEDS OF JESSE POMEROY

THE FIENDISH WORK OF A NOTorious BOY MURDERER.

Struck His Victims to Pieces After—All He Could Say Was That Some Impelled Him to Do It—Sent to Be Hanged, But It Was Commuted to Solitary Confinement for Life.

On a rainy evening in April, 1891, a man who was digging for clam in the marsh south of Washington vi a suburb of Boston, Mass., saw the way from him, about at the n of the sewer, what in the gloo looked like a child's form huddle on the mud. It was then getting and he called out. There was n answer, and so he put down his and ran over to the spot where little dark form lay. The cl were saturated with blood, and was a pool about the head or ground. The throat was cut from ear, and evidently first from side and then the other, for the a ies were so completely severed t

THE HEAD NEARLY FELL OFF

When the body was moved. The digger was almost dumfounded the discovery of such an atrocity clothes were torn and cut, and opening the child's vest he four less than 21 stabs around the heart. The poor little body was mated in other ways which sugges depth of human depravity in the derer that exceeded even the b desire to kill. There was a d track all the way from the stati the spot where the body was f which removed all doubt as to child having been led there. were the imprints of a pair of feet by the side of the imprints pair of larger size.

CRIME FASTENED ON POMEROY

The detectives made plaster ca the tracks, and obtaining the sh the murdered child from the unde er's, fitted them to the tracks in marsh. In the meanwhile the had been identified as that of H R. Millen, a child between 4 years of age. A consultation o leading detectives of the neighbo was then held. Chief Savage, o Boston police, made the discove the probable murderer. After h listened to the details of the m and the evidence obtained, he "This looks like the action of a tally or morally deranged person. if Jesse Pomeroy was out of pri should say that he had committed murder." The boy had been cot ted to a reform school some tim fore for a minor offense.

A Deputy, who was present, exc ed: "Why, that boy is out of p He was pardoned a little time ag good conduct." The detectives hi hack and drove as fast as possil the South Boston Station. Upo riving they found that Jesse had brought to the station. Immed they

SUBJECT OFF THE BOY'S BOO

As with them. There w breaky the upper of the left in the part of the boot, and a ha piece which in shape and size o ponded to the indentations in marsh mud. On the soles of both there was the peculiar tap whic attracted their attention in th ed to re-open the bank for business on the 28th.

The promoters of the Ottawa and Georgian Bay Ship Canal have deposited $200,000 in the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Ottawa, in accordance with the provisions of the statute incorporating the company.

The wife of Chief Logan of the Nova Scotia Micmacs, who was said to have died at Halfway River, in Cumberland County, at the age of 103 years. Her passing of the century mark was celebrated three years ago by a gathering of Indians from all over the Lower Provinces.

John N. Scatcherd, of Buffalo, one of the United States commissioners examining Canada's canals, said they had not before realized the great possibilities and the actual efficiency of the St. Lawrence route. With a minimum depth in the canals of 14 feet, which had now been obtained, the Montreal route would be more than ever a competitor to be reckoned with. Montreal, as a shipping port, has the world.

A queer story comes from Cariboo, B. C., to the effect that a Chinaman recently sold his two little daughters, one to a well-known Chinaman at Quesnelle for $250, and the other to a Chinaman at Soda Creek. In both cases the girls were put into wooden boxes, holes being bored to admit air, and delivered like any other goods, or small animals, such as swine. It is also said that white men gave aid in the vendor, both in preparing documents and in delivering the goods.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Viscount Asher, late Master of the Rolls, is dead.

A heavy failure in the iron trade has occurred at Glasgow.

Mr. Justin McCarthy denies that he is about to leave public life.

The London Daily Telegraph has dropped its Sunday edition.

Truth, Mr. Labouchere's paper, asserts once more that the Queen's sight is failing.

Since the Spanish United States war broke out there have been 6,200 deaths in the United States army.

Welbeck Abbey, the country house of the Duke of Portland, in Nottinghamshire, was damaged by lightning.

President McKinley has appointed an Auditor, Assistant Auditors and Treasurer for the American West Indian Islands.

Traces have been found of the wreck of the Marechal Lannes, the new French sailing vessel which disappeared on March 28 near the coast of Wales.

Sir Henry Irving, who has been confined to his rooms with throat trouble is out again, and will resume his representation of "Robespierre" at the Lyceum Theater on Thursday.

UNITED STATES.

Ex-Secretary Sherman denounces the war on the Philippines.

A dozen New York customs employees have been convicted of taking tips.

Miss Maud Adams' production of "Romeo and Juliet" in New York in two weeks netted $40,000.

Arrangements are being made for a conference at Washington on the subject of Jamaica's tariff and reciprocity with the United States.

The Gorge Railway at Niagara was sold by the Sheriff at Lockport, N.Y. It was bid in by Mr. H. P. Bissell on behalf of the stockholders and creditors for $6,184.

John Crathy, New York, wholesale papermaker, is disputing the will of his brother, who died in London, leaving $1,000,000 to a Roman Catholic Archbishop in Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kinter, Christian Scientists, are in custody at Buffalo charged with causing the death of a boy whom they "treated." The lad's parents are to be accused also.

An automobile started from Cleve-has seriously affected the crops. Sixty per cent of the wheat crop is already destroyed.

A large portion of Astrakan, on the north-west coast of the Caspian Sea, has been submerged by an overflow of the River Volga.

It is reported that the Americans of the Yorktown's crew in the hands of the Filipinos have been subjected to barbarous treatment.

While some workmen were in filling shells at the Copenhagen military laboratory, some of the latter exploded and killed seven men.

The force under Major Carter has failed to capture the Fetish chief O'ogboshi in the Benin interior, West Africa. Lieut. Uniacki, of the 19th Hussars, has been killed.

Three more cases of plague have been discovered at Alexandria, and two deaths from the disease are reported. Two cases have also appeared at Zagazig and two at Ismailia.

The Spanish Cabinet has approved the decision of the Minister of Finance, not to pay the public debt coupon due July 5 until the approval of the Chamber of Deputies has been secured.

A report issued by the sanitary inspector, reveals revolting cases of overcrowding in the Kaiserstadt, the Jewish quarter of Vienna. In one "boarding house" sixty-three persons were living in three rooms.

Sir Charles Ross, representing a United States Syndicate, has offered to purchase the municipal electric light plants of Shanghai, on condition that the purchaser is given the right to establish tramways.

Much anxiety is felt in royal circles over the condition of the health of the King of Denmark. It is announced that unless there is an immediate change for the better, the Princess of Wales, who is now at Marseilles, will start for Copenhagen.

The whole northeast coast of Newfoundland has been blocked with ice for the last six weeks the result being that navigation along the coast has been practically impossible. The people in many sections are now destitute of provisions, owing to the inability to replace their supplies and the commercial operations of almost 80,000 people have been virtually suspended.

MUNICIPAL STATISTICS.

Ontario's Assessed Wealth Upwards of Eight Hundred Millions.

Part five of the annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, comprising municipal statistics of the province for 1897, has been issued. The population was 1,990,977, and the total assessment $803,625,377; the taxes imposed thereon were $12,206,325, the rate being $6.13 per capita, or 15.19 mills on the dollar.

The population is distributed as follows:—Townships, 1,113,530; towns, 812,947; villages, 133,560; cities, 430,940; and the assessed property as follows:—Townships, $444,722,478; towns, $91,438,546; villages, $30,497,707; and cities, $286,966,646.

OLDEST OLD MAID DEAD.

Aunt Peggy Bailey Was 112 and Had Smoked a Pipe 104 Years.

A despatch from Huntington, Ind., says:—Aunt Peggy Bailey, the oldest old maid in the United States, died at her home near here on Saturday. She was born in Kentucky, and was 112 years old last March. She had been ill but once, and that was when she was between 20 and 30 years old. She had used tobacco and smoked a pipe since she was 8 years old. She retained all her faculties until about two months ago, when she became suddenly deaf, dumb, and blind, and partly insane.

accumulated intense heat was generated, and soon fire attacked the household effects piled on the piers.

Then the ferry-house and the Star line warehouse burst into flames, followed by the river steamer May Queen's warehouse, 200 feet away. These were entirely burned, but the fire got no further in this direction. Bridge street, however, which runs parallel with the water, was burned on both sides from end to end.

ONLY THREE HOUSES REMAIN.

There were three blocks of buildings between the north side of Main street and the open country. These were all of dry wood, and as the flames devoured them, people fled with whatever they could save to the rocks and hills, or beyond into the wet, marshy valley.

Thursday night the scene is a weird one. Several acres of ground are aglow with burning embers. Shelter has been provided for those who were burned out, but many grief-stricken people are wandering among the ruins.

The fire broke out shortly after one o'clock in a house owned by John Porter, on Bridge street, Indianatown, adjoining the hardware house of Naz & Son. The warehouse soon caught, and both were blazing fiercely when the alarm had summoned the fire department. All the available apparatus in the city was hurried to the scene, but it was inadequate to cope with the raging demon, which soon had possession of the whole blocks of buildings. The district with hardly an exception contained wooden buildings. The wind increased in violence. Driven by the flames fairly rushed up Indianatown. The firemen were backed from house to house, block after block.

Only once before has there been such a fire in St. John, and then, in 1877, the whole city was wiped out.

YUKON'S PROGRESS.

Modern Conveniences of Travel in the Klondike Gold Fields.

A despatch from St. Louis, Mo., says:—R. P. Elliot, a mine owner of Dawson City, has returned to the United States after an absence of nearly a year and a half, in the gold fields of the Klondike. He is full of enthusiasm over the new country.

He said: "The Yukon and White Pass Railway is now completed from Skagway to the summit of the pass, a distance of about 18 miles, and for a distance of about 12 miles farther the roadbed is ready for the rails.

"By July 4th the management expects to have trains running between Skagway and Bennett, where the passengers can take a steamer to White Horse Rapids, thence by the tramway around the rapids, about four miles in length, to the other side, where he can take a steamer direct to Dawson. When these connections are made the trip from Seattle to Dawson can be made in from 10 to 12 days."

AMUSEMENT OF A FIEND.

A Little Child Branded With Red Hot Irons in New York City.

A despatch from New York, says:—Five-year-old Morris Braf suffered agonies by being branded on the body with a red-hot iron on Monday afternoon by William Masterson, who is employed as a horseshoer at 323 Delancy street. Magistrate Kudlich Agent Weithing, of the Gerry Society, examined the boy, and found that five letters had been branded into the child's flesh, but only two were legible, J. and A., the others being blurred. Masterson was arrested and taken to court, where Agent Weithing said that from what he had been able to learn, Masterson had committed the outrage for the amusement of some bystanders.

"This is one of the most fiendish and dastardly crimes that has ever been brought to my notice," said Magistrate Kudlich, and Masterson was held in 1,000 bail for examination.

has been pardoned a little time good conduct." The detectives back and drove as fast as possible to the South Boston Station. Uprising they found that Jesse had brought to the station. Immediately they SUBJECT OFF THE BOY'S BACK. An examination of the boy's back revealed the upper of the letters in the back of the boot, and a piece which in shape and size corresponded to the indentations in the mud. On the soles of both there was the peculiar tap which attracted their attention in the impressions in the mud. They also found that the bottom of the boy's trousers were caked and stiff with dried mud, evidently of recent date, and disputably marsh and not street.

SOMETHING URGED HIM.

Pomeroy was taken to the uners, and Wood held his head in position as to force him to look poor mangled body before him do you know this little fellow, The boy trembled violently, but not answer. Wood repeated his question again and again. Finally, got excited, and tried to wiggle but finding he could not, he "Yes, I know him." "Did you know him?" In a half sobbing way said, "Yes, I did." "What made you do it?" "I don't know. Some told me to do it." "How long have you known him?" "I never saw him till yesterday morning, when he came down on the marsh." "Where do you see him first?" "He was on one of the lots near Dorchester, South Boston, and I

ASKED HIM TO COME WITH.

"And how did you get him to go on the marsh?" "I told him I had something." "And what did you kill him with?" "My knife." "Did you get the blood off your blades and the case of them were perfectly clean when it was taken from the boy's pocket at the station." "I stuck it in the mud washed it in one of the ditches marsh." "And had you no other way of killing this little boy?" "Something told me to do it." "When you started off with the flats had you any intention of killing him?" "I don't know, I meant to stick a knife into him I do not know whether I intended to kill him or not."

CONFESSES ANOTHER DEED.

After that Pomeroy would say another word, and the next day taken into Court, he pleaded guilty. He was then committed to the Charles Street Jail, for the first time. After he had been in jail Father Cook, the chaplain, visited the jail and had a long conversation with the boy cell. During this conversation made a full statement, and told Father Cook a plan of the cell beneath his mother's store in South Boston, and told him that if they ordered the stairs they would find the body of Nellie Curran, a little about 5 or 6 years old, who had mysteriously disappeared about weeks before the murder of Millen on the marsh. His mother left him in charge of the store she was absent making some purchases in the city. The little girl came to buy some candy or some other thing, and he told her he had kittens downstairs he would her. He opened the cellar door, and the little girl stepped in front of him. At the bottom stairs, he grabbed her by the hair, pulling her head violently back, her throat. Then he buried her under the stairs and covered it with ashes and rubbish.

IMPRISONED FOR LIFE.

Jesse Pomeroy is now in the Prison at Charlestown, Mass., under sentence of imprisonment for life for confinement. He was 15 years old at the time of these murders, in 1874, so that he has now been in for 25 years, and he is rapidly losing his middle life. He was first

8 OF JESSE POMEROY.

ENDISH WORK OF A NOTORIOUS BOY MURDERER.

His Victims to Pieces After Death He Could Say Was That Something Had Him to Do It-Sentenced to Life Imprisonment for Life.

A rainy evening in April, 1874, a boy was digging for clams on the south of Washington village of Boston, Mass., saw a light from him, about at the mouth of a sewer, while in the gloaming like a child's form huddled up and nud. It was then getting dark, called out. There was no answer so he put down his spade and over to the spot where the dark form lay. The clothes saturated with blood, and there pool about the head on the throat was cut from ear and evidently first from one then the other, for the arteries so completely severed that HEAD NEARLY FELL OFF the body was moved. The clam was almost dumbfounded by the sight of such an atrocity. The were torn and out, and upon the child's vest he found no less than 21 stabs around the child's body. The poor little body was mutilated in other ways which suggested a human depravity in the murderer that exceeded even the brutal of a child. There was a double of the way from the station to where the body was found, moved all doubt as to the living been led there. There were imprints of a pair of little shoes on the side of the imprints of a larger size.

FASTENED ON POMEROY.

Detectives made plaster casts of the shoes, and obtaining the shoes of the murdered child from the undertaker and fastened them to the tracks in the

In the meanwhile the body was identified as that of Horace Pomeroy, a child between 4 and 5 years of age. A consultation of the detectives of the neighborhood held. Chief Savage, of the police, made the discovery of the murderer. After he had to the details of the murder evidence obtained, he said: "The boy like the action of a mentally deranged person. Now Pomeroy was out of prison I say that he had committed this. The boy had been committed to a reform school some time before a minor offense.

At his own request, and there being no other way of releasing him, the arm of Will Schollan, a commercial traveller, was sawn off with a common hand saw, not a man coming from the poor fellow during the terrible operation with a crude weapon. Afterwards he walked almost unassisted to a nearby farm-house, but subsequently died from loss of blood.

OFF THE BOY'S BOOTS

aimed them. There was a nail in the upper of the left boot of the boy, and a hanging nail in shape and size corresponding to the indentations in the mud. On the soles of both boots was the peculiar tap which had attracted their attention in the mud. They also found deemed to be hanged, as the medical testimony brought in at the time certified that he was sane, although he had the criminal defect in moral balance, and was responsible for his acts. The whole country was excited over the case on account of its unusual atrocity and absence of all motive, and a remarkable controversy followed over the decision of the Court. Governor Gaston was overwhelmed with petitions for and remonstrances against the commutation of the sentence of the Court. The matter was undecided when Governor Rice succeeded to the head of the administration, but it was finally decided in Council in 1876 to change the decree of the Court to solitary imprisonment for life.

HER MAJESTY'S EYESIGHT.

Operation to be Performed This Week to Remove a Cataract.

The London correspondent of the New York Sun says:—"It is nearly two years since the Sun announced, on the authority of one of the Queen's principal medical attendants, that her Majesty had become almost blind. The statement was ridiculed, and even semi-officially denied. There comes the melancholy confirmation to-day in the news that Dr. Pagenstecker, the eminent German oculist, will endeavor by an operation this week to restore the sight of one eye, which has been sightless for a long time. The infirmity, which is a partial organic fault of the sight, in addition to a cataract, has made the slow progress usual in such cases, but for a long time now the Queen has been practically deprived of her eyesight. She has been loath to submit to an operation, and it was only decided on after a long family consultation. It was partly to reassure and sympathise with his grandmother that, according to trustworthy information, the Kaiser a few days ago made a secret visit to London. Dr. Pagenstecker, who is remaining in England until the Queen is ready to make use of his skill, is a famous operator, who has treated Mr. Gladstone, Sir William Harcourt, and many other prominent patients. The actual date of the operation has not been disclosed, but it is understood that it will be performed some time next week.

EIGHT PASSENGERS KILLED.

Washout Causes Disaster on the Rock Island Railroad.

A despatch from Waterloo, Iowa, says:—"The through train from Chicago to Minneapolis, over the Rock Island and Burlington railway, was wrecked at 1.15 Sunday morning at the crossing of Sink creek. Eight persons were killed and ten injured. A cloudburst had washed out the sand and gravel roadbed, leaving the track unsupported for a stretch of 20 feet. The rails and the ties held together, and there was nothing to indicate the insecurity of the road. One of the passengers killed was on his way to Minneapolis to be married.

At his own request, and there being no other way of releasing him, the arm of Will Schollan, a commercial traveller, was sawn off with a common hand saw, not a man coming from the poor fellow during the terrible operation with a crude weapon. Afterwards he walked almost unassisted to a nearby farm-house, but subsequently died from loss of blood.

ARMY WORM IN CANADA.

Rumor That It Has Made Its Appearance in Hastings County.

A despatch from Belleville says:—"Consternation has been caused among the farming community around here by the report that the army worm

MARKETS OF THE WORLD.

Prices of Grain, Cattle, Cheese, &c in the Leading Markets.

Toronto, May 29.—We had to-day a light run of stuff, light attendance of buyers, and a light trade. Only 24 loads came to the yards, including between sixty and seventy sheep, yearlings, and lambs; 30 milkers, and a few calves. There was scarcely any buying, most of the offerings being left over until the regular market tomorrow. Cattle is not quotably changed in price. Good calves are in demand.

Hogs were in light supply to-day, but prices are steady and unchanged. For choice selections (scaling from 160 lbs. to 200 lbs) 50c per pound was paid; for light fat hogs the price is 41-2c; and thick fat hogs fetch 43-8c per pound.

Sheep fetch 3c per pound. Stags sell at 2c per pound. Store hogs will not sell.

Following is the range of current quotations:—

Cattle.
Shipping, per cwt.	$ 4 25	$ 5 00
Butcher, choice, do.	4 00	4 50
Butcher, med.to good	3 50	3 80
Butcher, inferior.	3 30	3 50
Sheep and Lambs.
Ewes, per cwt.	3 50	4 00
Yearlings, per cwt.	5 00	5 50
Bucks, per cwt.	3 00	3 25
Spring lambs, each.	2 00	4 75
Milkers and Calves.
Cows, each.	25 00	45 00
Calves, each.	2 00	6 00

Hogs.
Choice hogs, per cwt. 4 75 5 00
Light hogs, per cwt. 4 37 1-2 4 50
Heavy hogs, per cwt. 4 12 1-2 4 37 1-2

MONTREAL.

Montreal, May 29.—There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, 400 calves, 600 sheep and lambs, 70 store hogs, and 200 small pigs offered for sale at the east end abattoir to-day. The butchers were out in full force, and trade was fair, with slightly lower prices all round for cattle, the decline being greatest in common and inferior stock; prime beefs sold at from 43-4 to 51-4c, per lb; pretty good stock at from 33-4 to 45-8c; and common dry cows and half-fatted animals, at from 21-2 to 31-2c, per lb. There were more than the usual number of bulls on the market to-day, and these sold at from 23-4 to 14-4c per lb. Calves sold at from $1.50 to $10 each. Shippers are paying 4c per lb for good large sheep, the butchers pay from 31-2 to 41-4c per lb. Lambs sold at from $2.50 to $5 each; only very choice lambs bring over $4.50. Fat hogs sold in straight lots, just off the cars, at from $4.50 to $4.80 per 100 lbs; and a few selects sold up to $4.90 per hundred lbs; among the store hogs to-day there were about a dozen sows, each having from 8 to 12 small pigs from 2 to 4 weeks old; some of these were sold at from $10 to $14 for the sow and her litter; the other store hogs sold at from $6 to $8 each, and the small pigs at from $1 to $2.50 each.

Wheat—The Chicago market closed strong again Saturday, and local feeling was also firmer. There is no doubt the winter wheat crop will be light. Red and white, north and west, are now held at 70c, and 68 1-2c is bid by millers. Manitobas are quiet but firm. Holders are asking rather more money.

Flour—Quiet, but tone firm. Export agents are bidding $2.75 per bbl. for straight roller, in buyers' bags, middle freights. Same in wood, is quoted at $3.15 for local account.

Milfeed—Quiet, but offerings continue light. Bran, $12, and shorts, $14, at the mills outside.

Oats—Quiet. White oats are quoted at 31-2c, north and west.

Peas—Quiet. Offer at 65c, north and west, with 64c bid.

Corn—Dull. American yellow, track Toronto, 41-2c and mixed, 40c.

Rye—Nominal.

Buckwheat—Nominal.

Barley—Normal.

board to-day 14 factories offered 1,317 boxes of cheese; three creameries 130 boxes of butter; 163-4c bid on butter by H. H. Hibbard; no sales; 143 boxes cheese sold to J. Gibson for 81-2c; 331 boxes cheese sold to Hibbard for 81-2c; 206 boxes cheese sold to J. Burnett for 81-2c; 243 boxes cheese sold to P. E. Ferguson for 83-8c; balance unsold. Adjourned to June 3rd, at 1 p.m.

Cornwall, Ont., May 29.—To-day 1,094 boxes of white and 88 of colored cheese were boarded and sold here, with the exception of 28 coloured, which were sold for 8c, all brought 81-4c. Lovell and Christmas got 488, Hodgson, Bros. 410, Alexander 107, and Ayer 317.

London, Ont., May 29.—At the market held here to-day 15 factories boarded 1,128 boxes, May make. Sales:—344 at 81-4c.

DOWN A CREVICE.

Bishop Moret's Adventure—Rescued After a Day and a Night by the Swiss Guides.

A despatch from Buffalo, N. W. T., says:—Bishop Moret and five French clergymen, bound from Hong Kong to Rome, who sought to break their journey across the continent, after landing at Vancouver a few days ago by spending a couple of days in the Canadian National Park at this point, were rescued on Wednesday from a perilous position in a mountain crevice. On Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock they started, without guides, to make the ascent of Sulphur Mountain, and lost their way. Thursday they owe their lives to the sagacity and experience of Swiss guides, recently introduced by the authorities to look after the welfare of travellers and hunting parties visiting the Canadian Rockies.

The Bishop and his party were not missed from their hotel until 10 o'clock Tuesday night, and the matter having been reported to the Superintendent, the latter ordered the Alpine guides to at once make a search. Armed with lanterns and Alpenstocks, the guides departed on their mission. After a night of tedious tramping among the pines of the mountain sides, they were rewarded by hearing their echoing calls answered from a slight crevice in the rock, into which a false step had precipitated the party. Though the crevice was but twenty feet deep, the clergymen found themselves unable to gain the ledge from which they had slipped. Ropes were lowered by the guides, and the rescue from the perilous position was quickly made. The previous afternoon and night had been spent in the crevice, 1,900 feet from the foot of the mountain, the height of which is 7,000 feet, and clothed with a pine forest.

Bishop Moret, who has travelled much, declared that had his party had almost abandoned all hope of rescue.

A REAL HERO.

A Woman Ablaze in the Presence of a Panic-Stricken Crowd—Fatal Fire in New York.

A despatch from New York, says:—At a tenement house fire in Rivington street on Thursday morning an aged woman ran into the street with her scanty clothing all ablaze and was fatally burned before the panic-stricken crowd could extinguish the flames. So rapidly did the fire spread that had it not been for the heroism of a crippled boy who lived in the house many of the tenants would have been burned in their beds. He limped through the house from floor to floor arousing the sleepers. When fourth of the top floor he found J. years old, and his 84, beside themselves with a panic-stricken cry for help. He scuttled, but his aged wife darted past him down the stairs. She ran through the flames that were roaring and managed duct." The detectives hired a and drove as fast as possible to uth Boston Station. Upon ar- they found that Jesse had been a to the station. Immediately ained them. There was a the upper of the left boot of the boot, and a hanging which in shape and size corre- to the indentations in the mud. On the soles of both boots was the peculiar tap which had ed their attention in the im- in the mud. They also found e bottom of the boy's trousers aked and stiff with dried marsh vidently of recent date, and in- bly marsh and not street mud. ETHING URGED HIM ON.

OFF THE BOY'S BOOTS

y was taken to the undertak- d Wood held his head in such a as to force him to look at the angled body before him. "Oh, know this little fellow, Jesse?" y trembled violently, but did swer. Wood repeated his ques- and again. Finally the boy ited, and tried to wriggle away, ding he could not, he said: "I know him." "Did you kill In a half sobbing way the boy Yes, I did." "What made you "I don't know. Something to do it." "How long have you him?" "I never saw him un- derday morning, when I took wn on the marsh." "Where did him first?" "He was playing of the lots near Dorchester ave- outh Boston, and I

HIM TO COME WITH ME."

ow did you get him to go down marsh?" "I told him I'd show nothing." "And what did you n with?" "My knife." "How get the blood off your knife?" des and the case of the knife rfectly clean when it was tak- a the boy's pocket at the sta- I stuck it in the mud and it in one of the ditches in the "And had you no reason this little boy?" "No, but ing told me to do it." "Well, ou started off with the boy to as had you any intention of kill- ?" "I don't know, I think I to stick a knife into him, but t know whether I intended to a or not."

JESSES ANOTHER DEED.

that Pomeroy would not say word, and the next day, when into Court, he pleaded not He was then committed to arles Street Jail, for the Sup- ert. After he had been three jail Father Cook, the prison n, visited the jail and had a nversation with the boy in his uring this conversation Jesse full statement, and he gave Cook a plan of the cellar be- his mother's store in South Bos- id told him that if they dug un- stairs they would find the Nellie Curran, a little girl or 6 years old, who had mys- y disappeared about three before the murder of Horace on the marsh. His mother had a in charge of the store while absent making some purchases city. The little girl came in some candy or some other lit- g, and he told her he had some downstairs he would show e opened the cellar door invit- the little girl stepped down of him. At the bottom of the e grabbed her by the hair, and her head violently back, he cut eat. Then he buried the body the stairs and covered it with d rubbish.

PRISONED FOR LIFE.

Pomeroy is now in the State at Charlestown, Mass., under a e of imprisonment in solitary ment. He was 15 years old at e of these murders, in April, that he has now been in pris- 25 years, and he is rapidly at- middle life. He was first con-arm of with scionian, a commercial traveller, was sawn off with a com- mon handsaw, not a man coming from the poor fellow during the terrible op- eration with a crude weapon. After- wards he walked almost unassisted to a nearby farm-house, but subse- quently died from loss of blood.

ARMY WORM IN CANADA.

Rumour That It Has Made Its Appearance In Hastings County.

A despatch from Belleville says:— Consternation has been caused among the farming community around here by the report that the army worm had made its appearance on the farm of Mrs. Boldrick, 7th concession Tyen- dinaga, lot 10, a half acre of wooded land having been denuded of leaves as completely as though the trees were dead. Experts say that the rumour as to its being the army worm is evi- dently erroneous, and that in all prob- ability it is the tussock moth. In any case it is sufficient to cause a good deal of alarm to agriculturists in this section.

NEW FORT FOR HALIFAX.

The Imperial Government to Build a Strong, New Structure There.

A despatch from Halifax, N.S., says:— The Imperial authorities have decided to construct a new fortress here. It will be located at a point near Her- ring Cove Head, south of York redoubt, facing the sea.

The new fort will contain quick- firing batteries, with the latest type of armament.

It has been decided to remodel a large portion of the interior of York redoubt for new batteries, to be placed there. The old 18 and 12 ton guns will be shipped to Quebec for de- fense purposes.

CAUGHT IN A FROG.

Shocking Spectacle In a Staten Island Rail- way Yard Yesterday.

A despatch from New York says:— In the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yard in St. George, S.I., on Monday, twenty men saw James McNamee, a switchman, pinned fast to the rails while six heavily loaded cars moved down swiftly upon him. McNamee had stepped across the tracks to throw the switch, and caught his right foot in a frog directly in front of the cars. The locomotive was not attached to the moving cars and there was no possible way of stopping them in time. Finding that his foot was caught hard and fast McNamee stooped and began to unfasten the shoe lace. Another second's time and he would have drawn his foot out of the shoe and escaped. The locomotive came and pulled the cars away, and then the shoe was cut away and the mangled body of the switchman was taken to the infirmary. He may recover, but will always be horribly deformed.

CATERPILLAR PEST.

The Provincial Government Asked to As- sist in Exterminating Them.

A despatch from Toronto, says:—The Provincial Government has been urged to take some action towards rid- ding the country of the tent caterpil- lar, which has become a pest in many sections of the province and has great- ly damaged property, especially fruit and shade trees.

In several localities grants have been made by municipalities to assist in exterminating the caterpillars. Dr. Brodie is now engaged in making an examination, and will report to the au- thorities on the best means to deal with the pest.

rather more money.

Flour—Quiet, but tone firm. Export agents are bidding $2.75 per bbl. for straight roller, in buyers' bags, mid- dle freights. Same in wood, is quot- ed at $3.15 for local account.

Milled—Quiet, but offerings con- tinue light. Bran, $12, and shorts, $14, at the mills outside.

Oats—Quiet. White oats are quot- ed at $1 1-2; north and west.

Peas—Quiet. Offer at 65c, north and west, with 64c bid.

Corn—Dull. American yellow, track Toronto, 41 1-2c and mixed, 40c.

Rye—Nominal.

Buckwheat—Nominal.

Barley—Normal.

Eggs—Receipts free; market un- changed. Dealers here are selling in the ordinary way at 11 1-2c.

Potatoes—Rather easy. On track, in car lots, potatoes bring about 65 to 70c at best. Farmers' loads, Ontario stock, sell at around 70 to 75c; out of store sell around 80 to 85c.

Beans—Choice hand-picked beans sell at $1.10, and common, at 75 to 80c, per bush.

Dried apples—Dealers pay 4 1-2c for dried stock, delivered here, and in small lots resell at 5 to 5 1-2c; evapor- ated, 9 to 10c, in small lots.

Honey—Round lots of choice, deliver- ed here, will bring about 6 to 6 1-2c; dealers quote from 6 1-2 to 7 1-2c, per lb., for 10 to 60lb., tins; in comb, at around $1.25 to $1.40 per dozen sec- tions.

Baled hay—Some movement in strictly choice. Prices are easy though. Strictly choice, car lots, is quoted at $8.50 per ton; and No. 2 at $7.75.

Straw—Nominal. Car lots are quoted at $4 to $4.50, on track.

Hops—No change of importance. Dealers here sell at 18 to 20c, and are paying holders, outside, about 18c.

Maple syrup—Prices well maintain- ed. Dealers here are selling syrup at 80 to 85c, per gallon, in tins, wine measure.

Poultry—Very little doing. Quota- tions are 11 to 13c, for turkeys; and 50 to 70c, for chickens.

Butter—Market easy, but for choice dairy selections, small lots, there is a good local demand. Creamery steady. The quotations are as follows:—Dairy tubs, new, 11 to 12c; large rolls, 10 to 11c; small dairy lb. prints, about 12 to 13c; creamery, tubs and boxes, 16 1-2 to 17c; pounds, 17 to 17 1-2c. Cheese—Quiet and easy. Quotations are new, 9 1-2 to 9 3-4c; old, 11 to 11 1-2c, per lb.

Buffalo, May 29.—Spring wheat—Better inquiry, limits fairly steady; No. 1 Northern, 89 1-2c. Winter wheat—Nothing doing; No. 2 red, 78c. Corn—Firm; No. 2 yellow, 38c; No. 3 yellow, 37c; No. 4 yellow, 35c; No. 2 corn, 35 3-4c; No. 3 corn, 33c. Oats—Dull and weak; No. 2 white, 31 1-2c; No. 3 white, 30 1-2c; No. 4 white, 29 1-2c; No. 2 mixed, 28 1-2c; No. 3 mixed, 27 1-2c. Rye—No. 1, on track, offered at 65c. Canal freights—Wheat, 2 1-2c; oats, 1 3-4c, to New York. Flour—Steady, unchanged.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Wheat closed:—No. 1 white, cash, 76 1-2c; No. 2 red, cash, 77 1-2c; July, 78 1-8c; Sep- tember, 78 1-2c.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—Wheat—In store:—No. 1 Northern, May, 71 1-2c; July, 72 5-8 to 72 3-4c; Septem- ber, 71 1-4c. On track:—No. 1 hard, 73 1-2c; No. 1 Northern, 72 1-2c; No. 2 Northern, 71 1-2c. Flour—First pat- ents, $3.90 to $4; second patents, $3.70 to $3.80; first clears, $2.80 to $2.90. Bran—In bulk, $9.25 to $9.55.

Duluth, May 29.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, cash, and May, 77 1-8c; July, 77 5-8c; No. 1 Northern, 74 5-8c; No. 2 Northern, 70 1-8c.

Milwaukee, May 29.—Wheat—No. 1 Northern, 75 to 76c; No. 2 Northern, 74 1-2 to 75c; No. 1 rye, 60c. Barley—No. 2, 400 1-2 to 41c; sample, 38 1-4 to 40c.

Toledo, May 29.—Wheat—No. 2 cash and May, 77c. Corn—No. 2 mixed, 34c. Oats—No. 2 mixed 28c. Rye—No. 2 cash, 61c bid. Cloverseed—Prime, new, $3.77 1-2 bid; October, $4.57 1-2 bid. Oil Unchanged.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Cowansville, Que., May 29.—At the scanty clothing all ablaze and was fat- ally burned before the panic-stricken crowd could extinguish the flames; So rapidly did the fire spread that had it not been for the heroism of a scrip- pled boy who lived in the house many of the tenants would have been burned in their beds. He limped through the house from floor to floor arousing the sleepers. When, at the top of the floor he found a man, 84 years old, and his 84, beside themselves with terror, the boy ran for the roof scuttle, but his aged wife darted past him down the stairs. She ran to the door, the flames that were roaring, and managed to reach the front door. She staggered down the front stairs, with her night clothes ablaze, calling for help. Several men went to her assistance and with their coats succeeded in putting out the flames that encircled her. She was taken to Gouverneur Hospital fat- ally burned.

TWENTY MILLIONS STARVING.

Further Particulars Given in the Harrowing Accounts of Russian Famine.

A despatch from London, says:—Parti- culars received regarding the famine in Russia confirm the previous har- rowing accounts. The members of the Russian aristocracy have at last awak- ened to a full sense of the gravity of the situation, and money is beginning to flow in on all sides for the relief of the starving moujiks. Unfortun- ately, charity is almost too late. The censor at first prevented the truth from being published by the Russian press. Now the facts are allowed to appear. But the famine spectre is stalking through the land. Some authorities estimate that as many as 20,000,000 peasants are starving.

The Rev. Mr. Francis, pastor of the British-American Church at St. Pet- ersburg, who did much to secure Brit- ish and American aid during the last famine, appeals to the British pub- lic to-day. He says seven provinces, cov- ering 18,000 square miles, are affected, and that 5,000,000 persons are famine- stricken and will need to be fed dur- ing the next three months.

FATHER AND SON KILLED.

Their Rig Struck by a Michigan Central Freight Train.

A despatch from St. Thomas says:— While John Johnston and his two sons Peter and John, were going for a load of stone about 8 o'clock Saturday morning they were struck by a fast train. The father was instantly killed, and one son was fatally injured, and died a few hours later. The other had his arm broken, but was not seriously hurt.

Mr. Johnston was a well-to-do farm- er and highly respected throughout the community. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church. He was about 55 years old. Besides his sons he leaves to mourn his loss a widow and four daughters, all at home. He also leaves one brother, Hugh, who lives about six miles from West Lorne.

The horses were saved, but the wag- gon was carried about 300 yards.

The train which struck the wagon was No. 55, fast freight. The engine of the train was equipped with a steam bell, which rings all the time.

ONLY TWO DIED IN BED.

Only two rulers of Russia since Pet- er the Great, have died a natural death—Catherine II., and Alexander III., the father of the present Czar.

PUREST CITY AIR.

Scientists have determined that the purest air in cities is found about 25 feet above the street, and hence it is concluded that the healthiest apart- ments are those on the third floor.

Diamond Cut Diamond

OR,
THE ROUT OF THE ENEMY.

CHAPTER XXIX.—Continued.

He found ample time to regret his decision between the first of January and the thirteenth of February.

The hunting in Hillshire was of a kind which is dear only to the most thorough-going and persevering of sportsmen. The distances were great, the country difficult, in places even, almost impracticable, and the fields were small. There was no coffee-housing, and nobody ever thought of bringing out a second horse.

As to society, in the neighbourhood of Lilminster there was, as Florence Dane had said, very little of it, and to Captain Lessiter that little was uncongenial. Two or three country gentlemen made his acquaintance, and invited him to dinner parties, solemn and dreary functions whereat he stifled his yawns and spent the evening in furtively looking at his watch and counting the lagging footsteps of time. The gentlemen of Hillshire were mostly middle-aged and pompous, great at County Sessions and local politics, their spouse were fat and placid, their daughters plain and dowdy. Even the younger married women, for of course there were a few of them to be met with, were no better than their elders, being for the most part domesticated in dispositions, and very much the reverse of smart in appearance. Lessiter was forced into the unflattering conclusion that his advent amongst them had created no excitement whatever, and that not one of them ever made the faintest effort to attract his attention.

Often during these weeks he cursed the shilling that had sent him to Hillshire instead of to the shires, often he said to himself that if things went on much longer in this fashion, he would cut it and be off to Melton and lay aside for ever the monetary inclination which had induced him to come down to such an uncongenial corner of the world.

But on the thirteenth day of February, when, as he reached the corner of a stony little lane along which the hounds were trotting up, he no longer repented him of being in Hillshire, for there, not ten yards from him, by the wayside, under the shelter of the fence, stood a bay mare pawing impatiently at the ground, and upon her, a little flushed with the wind and the exercise, sat Mrs. Geoffrey Dane by the side of her husband.

At a glance he could see that from a pretty girl she had become a lovely woman, that subtle change had passed over her which perfects, one knows not how or why, the maiden into the matron, so that she becomes all at once a fulfilled and completed being.

The sight of her gave him a great and intense pleasure. He rode up to her quickly, lifting his hat as he came, and his pleasure was in no way diminished by the swift changes that flashed across her face at the unexpected sight of him. For first she turned deadly pale, and then she coloured up furiously, a flood of crimson sweeping suddenly and tumultuously from her brow to her chin.

He shook hands with them both, and by the time he had exchanged a few words with Geoffrey and given a brief explanation of his return to England and his position at Lilminster, Angel had recovered her composure, and was able to talk to him in her usual quiet and gentle manner.

Geoffrey having ridden away a few paces to exchange greetings with a neighbour, Lessiter drew his animal close to hers, and lowered his voice:

"You are surprised to see me here, Mrs. Dane?"

"You got Dulcie's letter about my marriage?" she queried back, speaking, too, in a lower tone.

He nodded assent, although he was upon the fox, and there is a rare scent. Backwards and forwards, now near, now far, come those confused cries and sounds—ever louder and wilder as they press upon him closer. Then, all at once, silence.

Then a wild human shout rends the still air:

"Tally-ho! Ferrard, away, ay, ay!" as out flies a fine old fox, with a white tag to his brush. In a second he is well across, the field to the far side, and the whole pack comes pouring out of the wood straight upon the line in hot pursuit. And now every man and horse is off too, with an eager rush to the first fence.

They are a rough lot in Hillshire, but they know what they come out for, and they do the work before them in a manner that many a smarter field might envy. They come out, not to ride jealous of each other, to hustle one another at the gates, or to override the hounds for the sake of getting a place; they come out to hunt and to live with the hounds through the run in the best way they can.

For the most part they are farmers, who are, after all, the very bone and sinew of an English hunting field, there are also half-a-dozen country squires, and a stray stranger or two, a country doctor, and last, but not least, a hunting parson, one of the last of that now—more the pity of it—fast dying-out race of men, who were not ashamed to prove, by the force of example, that it is possible to be a God-fearing Christian and yet to ride to hounds as straightly and as keenly as any one of his parishioners.

As to the horses, they are good stout beasts, not specially remarkable for breeding or beauty, but admirably well suited to their work. They understand how to creep up their banks and through their fences, and adapt themselves to the country they are required to go in, in a thoroughly business-like manner.

With the first rush Geoffrey's big chestnut flies to the foremost place, and Angel's mare sails easily after him.

"Come on!" he cries back to her. "Go for the timber in the corner, follow me and sit tight."

The next moment he is flying over some new rails that fill up the gap in a blackthorn hedge. They are stiff and forbidding, but the chestnut clears them easily, and proclaims at the outset how well deserved is the character he has earned. Angel follows him at perhaps a trifle too fast a pace, and the little mare breaks the top bar, and lands on her nose and knees in the field beyond.

Here her firm seat and ready hands stand her in good stead, and she picks her up quickly, without parting company, and is soon in the wake of her husband again.

"That was a nasty place," said a voice at her side, "hardly fit for a lady to take. You might have had a bad fall."

Horace Lessiter was at her side. "Geoffrey told me to follow him," she answered somewhat breathlessly. "Ah, but Dane is such a bold rider. I don't suppose he has ever given a thought to the piloting of a lady before."

There was nothing to take offence at in the remark, and Angel only answered by a laugh. But when, as they neared the next fence, Geoffrey half turned back and made her a sign, beckoning her on to follow where he went, then Captain Lessiter said very seriously:

"Pray do not go for that place, Mrs. Dane, it is really not practicable. I know this country a little you know, and Dane has not hunted here before. There is a gap lower down. You had much better follow me."

Perhaps Angel was still a little behind, and he had better leave off troubling himself about her.

"If she had come with me she would have been all right," thinks Geoffrey, and he is a little bit out of temper with her.

Meanwhile the secret of the check is divulged, the fox has gone to ground in a drain, and the hounds are blown off, whilst a terrier is sent for with all haste from a neighbouring farm.

In due time the little beast arrives yelping and struggling with excitement in the arms of the man who carries him. A varmint wire-haired animal, who is as keen upon the business before him as though he were endowed with human, instead of canine intelligence. Arrived upon the scene of action, he gives one wild cry that is almost a scream, and dashes down into the drain. Soon a smothered rush is heard and inarticulate yappings from the pursuer and the pursued, and out bolts the fox with the little terrier holding fast on to his brush.

In a moment, however, Reynard has shaken himself free from his tormentor's grip and flies on again across the meadows, and in a very few minutes the hounds are on the line again and the chase is once more fast and furious.

In all the annals of Hillshire there never had been such a day as that. It was the run of the season, and the men who followed up that grey old fox to his death were never tired of retelling their wondrous experiences and adventures ere the closing scene was reached.

But Geoffrey Dane was not one of those who were present at the finish. At the very first fence he took after the check, he became aware of the fact that the chestnut was pumped. He scarcely lifted, and only managed to scramble through the great straggling hedgerow with considerable difficulty. Cramming in his spurs, Geoffrey pulled him together determinedly, and set him at the further fence with desperation. It was a stiff, thickest thorn hedge, not very high but of an impregnable solidity, and an ugly yawning ditch, wherein trickled a muddy streamlet, lay on the further side of it. The chestnut made a gallant effort, rose well, and would have cleared it; had it not been for the ditch; but the double width was beyond his stride; his hind legs dropped into the stream, and in a moment both man and horse were rolling over and over in the soft clayey ooze.

(To be Continued.)

SINGULAR SALARIES.

Millions of Laborers Are Paid With Very Curious Money.

The pastors of certain churches in the remote provinces of Australia receive their stipends by curious methods. Every quarter the members meet at the minister's house, bringing with them their contributions toward his support. These rarely ever take the form, of cash, but consist of provisions, clothes, etc., which are afterward used or sold by the pastor. A droll disadvantage attaching to this system is that a superabundance of one particular article often prevails, while another article, equally needed is not represented at all.

An employer of labor in the Midlands has adopted the odd method of paying his workmen's wages in coppers, of which in his business he receives an enormous quantity. The same master presents a bank book to every new employe, and suggests and encourages thrift by placing a shilling of each man's wages in postage stamps upon a form provided for that purpose. A number of his men have had reason to thank him for this thoughtful notion, since it has enabled them to save pounds which would otherwise have probably been wasted.

MARTYRS TO BARBAR

THE TRAGIC FATE OF A BRAVE THE CHRISTIAN BAND

Who Went Forth to Spread the Gospel in China—Nine Were Murdered, Three Were Wounded and the Missions and Burned.

The details of one of the most terrible massacres committed in the history of blood and pillage have just come to light. In the early days of the 19th century, the leading journals of the time had news of an uprising in the province of Ku-cheng, China. It was reported that some dozen or so British American missionaries had been murdered; that infant children perished in their company, and in the course of the depredations parties to the amount of thousands of dollars had been destroyed. This was the first account practically the last, though the matter was widely discussed. The circumstance leading up to the massacre and the scenes before and after only now at hand.

Ku-cheng is a walled city of 60,000 inhabitants. It lies 100 miles northwest of Fuchau, and is reached by foreigners by means of native boats plying the River Min. The British Mission House, at which principal horrors occurred, situated outside the city, about a mile across the river, and contains besides the missionaries' residence, schools for boys and girls and a ling home.

AMERICAN MISSION ESCAPED

The American Mission, in contrast to the first report, no feared death, was also outside the city and situated near the grounds. The head of the British mission was Rev. R. W. Stewart. In his charge the field at Ku-cheng and Ping-nang, which is in the province and overseen by members of the Foreign Board. To assist in this wide sphere of labor were seven missionaries, besides his wife, and a family of five small children. He was affiliated with him in this work Rev. H. S. Phillips, another clergyman, who lived in a native house inside the city. The Dr. J. J. G. mentioned was a physician attached to the American Mission.

REVOLT OF VEGETARIANS

The district around Ku-cheng has been in a state of more or less turmoil since August, 1894, when a religious sect known as Vegetarians supposed to have made a wholesale attack on all foreigners, priests, because they were so beastly kill and eat of their fellow creatures. Latter developments indicate the uprisings and constant murders were not attributable to the Vegetarians, who were, as a rule, mild and offensive peasants, but to so-called political intriguers, the fact that the rebels had been seen cooking flesh besides the ruins of dwellings they had burned, and credence to the suspicion. In 1895, two months before the main question, things began to get stormy in Ku-cheng that at the time of their respective Consuls British and American missionaries moved to Fuchau; toward the July, however, as the mandarin of the district

He shook hands with them both, and at the time he had exchanged a few words with Geoffrey and given a brief explanation of his return to England and his position at Lilminster, Angel had recovered her composure, and was able to talk to him in her usual quiet and gentle manner.

Geoffrey having ridden away a few paces to exchange greetings with a neighbour, Lessiter drew his animal close to hers, and lowered his voice:

"You are surprised to see me here, Mrs. Dane?"

"You got Dulcie's letter about my marriage?" she queried back, speaking, too, in a lower tone.

He nodded assent, although he was sitting in the dark as to the letter she meant, and then he threw at her a look of concentrated misery and reproach which bewildered her.

"Have you seen Dulcie?" she asked rather confusedly.

"No, I have not seen your sister," and he looked down and sighed deeply, playing abstractedly with his horse's mane.

"You have not yet seen her? and yet you came back six weeks ago!" she exclaimed in surprise. "Why did you come back then?"

"I could not keep away longer!" he cried, with emotion. "Oh, Angel—Mrs. Dane—how can you ask why I am back again?"

There was something to her so utterly incomprehensible in this reply, and in the agitation of his manner and the ardour of the glances which he flung at her, that she could find no words in which to answer him. No suspicion of his meaning had as yet dawned upon her. Had he not told her eight months ago that he loved Dulcie? What else, then, save his love for Dulcie, could he be alluding to? And yet, surely his manner of speaking was strange in the extreme! He had even called her by her Christian name—but that must have been a slip of the tongue. In the old days he had sometimes done so by accident. That could be no thing. But what was the meaning of those burning, melting looks he cast upon her?

And Angel trembled, turning hot and cold with a vague disquietude.

Then came a sudden movement, and her husband hurried back again to her side. Somewhat Angel had never felt so glad to see him before.

"We are off now. Keep close to me, and follow me as well as you can," said Geoffrey to her; and then the whole field filed through an open gateway into a ploughed field, in the direction of a small copse beyond it, which he hounds were about to draw.

For the present, at least, Captain Lessiter faded out of Mrs. Geoffrey Dane's memory.

CHAPTER XXX.

For the next few minutes there is an intense and breathless silence by the copse side.

It is a likely place to find in, but a nasty one to get away from, as is well known to the members of the Hillshire Hunt. The fences in Hillshire are unrelentingly trappy, and to-day are rendered still more so from the fact that the frost is hardly out of the ground yet, and lies like an enemy in ambush on the northern sides of the banks. Geoffrey whispers this to his wife, and Angel only nods. Her heart is beating almost audibly, but it has nothing to do with the love of her girlhood, who is in the crowd behind her. Angel is for the moment forgotten him, and is only filled with that intense excitement—that tension of every nerve—in the pause before action that thrills through all true lovers of the sport of things as they stand thus immovable at the covert side which the hounds are drawing.

Compared to that passion of expectation all other pleasures fade into nothingness, and love itself becomes a thing of naught.

Hush! a faint, eager whimper is heard at last. Rapidly it deepens into a vague murmuring chorus, as the rest of the pack take up the signal which old "Forester" has given. The cry increases every second, for the hounds are driving through the covert close

I don't suppose he has ever given a thought to the piloting of a lady before."

There was nothing to take offence at in the remark, and Angel only answered by a laugh. But when, as they neared the next fence, Geoffrey half turned back and made her a sign, beckoning her on to follow where he went, then Captain Lessiter said very seriously:

"Pray do not go for that place, Mrs. Dane, it is really not practicable. I know this country a little you know, and Dane has not hunted here before. There is a gap lower down. You had much better follow me."

Perhaps Angel was still a little shaken by the narrow escape she had had over her last jump, or perhaps she acknowledged the truth of his argument—that he knew the fences better than her husband did. For Geoffrey, although it was his native county, had seldom had a mount given him in Hillshire, and had never had the means or the time to know it intimately from the sportsman's point of view before. Anyway, her companion's words had their effect. Captain Lessiter shot forward in front of her, and Angel followed him, and scrambling up a bank through a gap in the hedge, was forced to acknowledge that the place was a better selected one than the one which her husband had pointed out for her.

And so it was that in their first run with the Hillshire hounds they were divided from each other, for a place is soon lost in the hunting field, and a position once abandoned, is rarely recovered during the remainder of the day. For a few fields Geoffrey looked back in vain for his wife—then a vague anxiety crept over him lest she might have come to grief, and then again he espied her far away to the right, behind him, going well, and with Lessiter three or four lengths before her, at which he was no longer anxious concerning her safety, and told himself that it was all right. In spite of which he found himself presently exclaiming aloud:

"Confound the fellow! why couldn't he mind his own business!"

Which did not in the least mean that Geoffrey was jealous, or angry, or hurt in any way; but only that a vague annoyance, he could not tell exactly wherefore, crept into his mind. How can a man be jealous about a woman he does not love! and yet he thought he would have liked her to follow him on this first day, in preference to a stranger, under whose guidance she had contrived to lose the excellent place she had been lucky enough to be in at the beginning of the run.

All this flashed through his mind quicker than it has taken to write it, and in a vague and clouded manner, and then the passing thought was gone and forgotten, for there were other things to be attended to.

All at once, after they had been running well for nearly three-quarters of an hour, a slight check occurred. There is a slight confusion on the brow of a small green hill on ahead, a holla from the huntsman, who waves his cap frantically. The master, old Squire Butterfield, who has kept the hounds in Hillshire from youth to old age, and is hale and hearty and rubicund now, at his sixty and odd years, hurries forward with a grave and anxious face. The hounds are seen no longer running straight and compact, but flying hither and thither, some one way, some another, with their noses to the ground, and their waving sterna slanting in every direction. They have lost the scent. One by one the riders came galloping up, the effects of the pace beginning to tell upon most of their horses as they stand with heaving sides, not sorry for the brief respite. Geoffrey, too, comes with the rest; he takes off his hat, and has a pull at his flask, and then he looks about for his wife, but she is nowhere to be seen; neither is Lessiter.

Either they have been thrown out, or else she is tired and has gone home. A man cannot for ever be looking after a lady in the hunting-field. If she can, she must follow; but if she is not able to follow, she must remain is not represented at all.

An employer of labor in the Midlands has adopted the odd method of paying his workmen's wages in coppers, of which in his business he receives an enormous quantity. The same master presents a bank book to every new employee, and suggests and encourages thrift by placing a shilling of each man's wages in postage stamps upon a form provided for that purpose. A number of his men have had reason to thank him for this thoughtful notion, since it has enabled them to save pounds which would otherwise have probably been wasted.

The lower grades of Indian coolies, who toil tremendously as carriers and messengers for European residents, receive their wages in rice, which is weighed out to them once a week in seven-pound bags. With this arrangement they appear to be thoroughly satisfied.

Peasants engaged in the tea trade in China receive remuneration for their toil in the shape of maize and tea, which form, as a rule their staple diet. For eight pounds of maize and one pound of native tea the ordinary hill man in the country of Celestials will cheerfully work for a week of 70 hours, and will deem himself amply rewarded.

In some parts of Siberia the peasant who labors in the salt mine rarely receives a solitary kopek for his pains. But, instead of money, he is provided with a liberal quantity of coarse, black bread, wine that tastes like vinegar, and a weekly allowance of crude salt, which he is at liberty to use or exchange for provisions at the village tea shop.

ABOUT SPRING DRESS.

Spring, and a young man's fancy, and love. Nobody denies the conjunction of that trio. But there is another one, which comes a little earlier, and which the poets have not yet celebrated in song. In the late winter a woman's fancy eagerly turns to thoughts of dress. There are women who buy winter clothes in a perfunctory way. One must keep warm. To this end one must have certain garments. Having shivered through the greater part of November, the indifferent woman goes drearily about the task of buying this necessary raiment. Her expression is one which says, "Well, if I must, I must!"

But even such a woman is not insensible to the fascination of spring clothes. The annual January "white sales" do not warm her interest. It is only those phenomenal women who live according to a schedule of the most forehanded description who in January set about the preparation of their spring wardrobes. But when March draws to a close and April comes on, then truly there are few women—and there should be none—with souls so dead that they are not touched with the wish to be in harmony with the beauty of the spring.

The duty of a woman to be always as well dressed as she can fairly be is one which has been often preached. Sometimes in vain, but not often so in the spring. Then every instinct of the universe, from the very clouds of dirt to the hearts of men and of women, is toward freshness and light. It would be a time-saving arrangement, of course, if men and women had to take no more thought about a spring wardrobe than the cloud takes about its new coat of grass; but, leaving aside the probable objections of tailors and dressmakers to such a state of affairs, there are compensations for the rest of humanity. The counters in the shops are all aglow with exquisite colors and fabrics, and if one can bring one's self to a certain point of view, it ought to be as much of a delight to look at and handle all this loveliness as it will be, a little later, to walk on the grass and count the colors of the flowers.

were not attributable to the Vegetarians, who were, as a rule, mild and offensive peasants, but to some political intriguers, the fact that of the rebels had been seen to cooked flesh besides the ruins of dwellings they had burned, led credence to the suspicion. In 1895, two months before the massacre in question, things began to look stormy in Ku-cheng that at the start of their respective Consuls, British and American missionaries moved to Fuchau; toward the 15 July, however, as the mandarin charge of the district seemed to get the rebels fairly well in hand, returned. It was on the night July 31-August 1, that the massacre occurred.

One of the points in Chinese poetry that most strikes the foreigner is the manner in which Chinese officials are not officious. There seems to be odium attached to any man's position; only the poorest spirits men are ever put in charge. Perhaps this may arise from the Emperor's reluctance to trust any one with authority. At any rate there is no cot on the globe in which law is so more than a name as in China. stated before the city of Ku-cheng a walled town containing over 600 inhabitants. The mandarin charge has at his disposal about soldiers, with absolutely auto power in time of revolt; yet on night of the massacre, on hearing the Vegetarians were out again, he retired to his own house, barricaded and surrounding himself with the tire municipal guard, refused to until the trouble was all over. one native hand was raised in defence of the helpless victims.

EYEWITNESS'S PERSONAL NARRATIVE.

No adult of the British Mission survived to tell the tale. The best count is probably that of Miss Ford, of the American Mission, who had herself the narrowest escape of the survivors. She said:

"At 7.30 in the morning I shouted and screams for the servants to get up, as the Vegetarians were coming, and were tearing down houses on the hill belonging to the English Mission. Soon after I saw a man with a trident spear. He yelped out, 'Here is a foreign woman, pointed his spear at my chest. I tried it to one side. It just grazed head and ear. He then threw it on the ground and beat me with wooden end of the spear. I after jumped down an embankment until I reached the hill, when I started to recover my breath. The yelling continued, and I saw two houses burned to the ground."

"Subsequently all was quiet, supposing that the Vegetarians were gone. I sent a servant to inquire, had happened. He returned and me to come home, stating that ladies belonging to the English Mission had been killed and others wounded, but that my house had not been troubled."

CHILDREN NOT SPARED.

"I went home, and there found Coddington, much cut about the neck and beaten all over; Mildred Ste 12 years of age, with her knee cut bleeding very much; Herbert Ste 6 years of age, with his head cut almost dead; while the baby of the Stewart family had one eye black swollen, and the second Stewart, Kathleen, 11 years of age, together with the second boy, 3 years of age, had been beaten and stabbed with spear, but not seriously injured."

"Rev. Philips, who lived in a some distance away, escaped bodily injury, but arrived only in time to see the bodies of the dead and hear the Vegetarians cry, 'We have killed the foreigners!' We heard that of the foreigners had escaped and in hiding, but Mr. Stewart did come, and we began to fear the worst. Mr. Philips went to the ruins of

TYRS TO BARBARISM.

MAGIC FATE OF A BRAVE LITTLE CHRISTIAN BAND

Went Forth to Spread the Gospel in a-Nine Were Murdered, the Rest Wounded and the Missions Looted and Burned.

Details of one of the most hor- rible massacres committed in a land of and pillage have just come to us. In the early days of August, the leading journals of the globe were of an uprising in the vicinity of Cheng, China. It was reported that some dozen or so British and American missionaries had been foully murdered; that infant children had died in their company, and that the course of the depredation pro- duced the amount of tens of thousands of dollars had been destroyed. This was the first account, and finally the last, though the mat- ters were widely discussed. The scenes leading up to the revolt, the scenes before and after, are now at hand.

Cheng is a walled city of some 100 inhabitants. It lies 100 miles west of Fuchau, and is usually visited by foreigners by means of boats plying the River Min. The Mission House, at which the horrors occurred, was situated outside the city, about a mile across the river, and contained, at the time, the missionaries' residence, for boys and girls and a found- ling.

AFRICAN MISSION ESCAPED.

The American Mission, in which, according to the first report, none survived, was also outside the walls, situated near the British mission. The head of the British mission was Rev. R. W. Stewart. He had charge of the field at Ku-cheng ng-nang, which is in the vicinity, overseen by members of the Ke-Board. To assist in this rather sphere of labor were seven lady missionaries, besides his wife. He had with him five small children. Closely associated with him in this work was I. S. Philips, another British man, who lived in a native house in the city. The Dr. J. J. Gregory was a physician attached to the American Mission.

REVOLT OF VEGETARIANS.

The district around Ku-cheng has been a state of more or less tur- bulence August, 1894, when a re- sect known as Vegetarians were organized to have made a wholesale at- tack on all foreigners, presumably because they were so beastly as to eat of their fellow creatures.

The developments indicated that risings and constant maraudings not attributable to the Vegetar- ians were, as a rule, mild and in- vasive peasants, but to some po- intrigue, the fact that some rebels had been seen to eat of flesh besides the ruins of the villages they had burned, lending credence to the suspicion. In June, two months before the massacre, things began to look so in Ku-cheng that at the advice of their respective Consuls, the British and American missionaries re- turned to Fuchau; toward the last of burned houses, and there found eight bodies, five of them unburned and three so terribly scorched as to be unrecog- nizable.

Such in brief is the testimony of a brave little woman who went out among savages for the sake of Christ- ianity. She evidently was not terri- fied at the time of her trial, at least not so much as most men would have been. The people who go out on such missions as these become accustomed to the idea of martyrdom. Yet there evident resignation makes the deeds to those at home none the less hor- rible: The punishment of the culprits was, of course, sufficiently horrible, when once the consuls got after the authorities, to gratify the most re- vengeful; but the blood of the 44 beasts who were beheaded and hung on trees could not bring back the life to the dead. And as a characteristic accompaniment to the matter, it is further stated that the soldiers who, at the command of the Emperor's representative, hurried to the scene, were caught pillaging the ruins for food and booty.

TRAITS OF THE INDIA TIGER.

More Formidable Than the Lion and Cour- ageous and Cowardly by Turns.

"Speaking of the tiger, he is easily the king of all the feline family," says Sidney Castron. "He can whip a lion, hands down, as has been shown in every case reported where the two have come together on fair terms. The tiger is as strong and heavy as the lion, is swifter, more ferocious and more dangerous. He is a thorough Asiatic in his traits, being subtle, crafty and recklessly brave and cowardly by turns, with the trouble of the hunter that he never can tell when he flushes a tiger which way the brute will run, whether from him or for him. In a fighting temper a tiger will turn upon the hunters beating the jungle on elephants, leap upon the head or shoulder of the nearest ele- phant and make things very unpleas- antly lively for the man upon his back. A tiger has been known to charge straight upon a full battalion of soldiers and come near to breaking its formation before he could be dis- posed of. Gen. Wolseley, in a publish- ed account of his march, with a detach- ment to the relief of Gen. Havelock in the Indian mutiny, tells how, dur- ing a night march, a tiger sprang into the midst of his column upon a bul- lock attached to an ammunition wa- gon and attempted to carry it away. The outcry and drove the tiger from the bullock, but he did not quit the field, but re- mained standing under a tree in full view, glaring at the procession until it had marched by. As every cartridge and every minute was precious, the order was given that no shot be fired at the tiger.

FLASHING OF TORCHES

"Nine times out of ten, on the other hand, the tiger when hunted will run straight away, or sneak and double in the thick jungle in the effort to escape. In a bit of cover he will lie as close to the ground as a rabbit, and all the outcry and throwing of stones by the line of beaters will not start him unless he is actually hit. In hunting the tiger on foot it is usual to station the lookouts in trees to watch for the first appearance of the beast. If one of them sees the tiger trying to steal past him he has only to break a dry stick sharply in two and the cracking sound will turn the tiger back. In short, when the brute once gets scared and suspicious he is one of the biggest cowards alive, who will stand wounded without coming to

FROM FRANCE TO AMERICA

THE PATHETIC STORY OF A YOUNG FRENCH REPORTER.

Haunted a Young Lady's House in Rain and Shine, Forgetful of Food and the Daily Necessities—Returned to France a Mental and Physical Wreck.

It may be, as a now famous novel- list has observed, that fiction is the highest form of truth. Many of the wildest dreams of the romancer have found their fulfillment in real life. Yet, now and then, there come before the attention of the public cases never conceived by the most daring story tellers. One of these, and one of the saddest imaginable, took its origin in Paris one year ago, and culminated only when one of the characters, alone, hopeless, almost insane, returned last week to the home he had so rashly de- serted. Men have done much for love, and are capable, while under the in- fluence of some very erratic actions. The course of the young Frenchman in question must go down on the books as a record breaker.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT.

The leading physicians and surgeons of the world held a conference in Mos- cow last year. One of the gentlemen attending this convention was a well- known practitioner from Chicago. He took his wife and daughter to Russia, and after the business part of the trip was over toured the continent with them. On returning home the parents left the young girl, a most beautiful creature, so the story goes, and, from the denouement, there is every reason to believe she is, to study the lan- guages at Paris. While boarding here in a quiet suburban family she became acquainted with a young Parisian re- porter, Marcus Allar. The boy fell madly in love with her at first sight. He hardly waited for an introduction, but in his passionate Gallic way be- gan to pour out his affection on first acquaintance. The young lady was boarding in the same house with Allar's sister, for whom she had contract- ed a sincere liking. In vain did she convey through this young Frenchman that the reporter's suit was hope- less. The other would not hear of it, and only pressed his claims the more madly. He spoke no English, and whenever his protestations grew too ardent she turned them off by appear- ing not to understand his French. Af- ter a time his attentions grew trou- blesome and she endeavored to discour- age him; but he would not be dis- couraged. So at last she left the board- ing house, and after a short time re- turned to her home in Chicago.

ALLAR STILL PURSUES.

After she left Paris Marcus Allar was disconsolate. He went about his work for a time, then gave it up. With- out the fair one life was not worth living. At last he remembered that she had always told him that in Amer- ica there was room for everyone. Not considering the drawback of knowing no English he persuaded his sister that he would do well in America, and with- out delay packed up his possessions and went to Chicago, knowing that in that city was the home of the woman he adored.

His first step on arriving there was to find the dwelling of the physician and his daughter. He had little trouble in doing that. His next step was to hire a room from which he could over- look the house of the young lady. That done he set out to find employ- ment. This, however, proved a more difficult matter. His utter lack of knowledge of the English tongue pro- vided an absolute barrier to any work in his own, the newspaper profession. In his futile search he gradually exhaust-

WHAT UNCLE SAM IS AT.

ITEMS OF INTEREST ABOUT THE BUSY YANKEE.

Neighborly Interest in His Doings—Matters of Moment and Birth Gathered from His Daily Record.

Five hundred persons are buried every year in Boston's potter's field.

The health department in Minne- apolis periodically fumigates the Pub- lic schools buildings.

Mrs. W. H. Woerman, daughter of ex-Governor Bullock, of Massachu- setts, is touring India on a wheel.

A coat of arms adopted for Deer Island, the site of Boston's reforma- tory has a deer's head above the motto, "Strong Yet Mild."

Claus Spreckles, the San Francisco millionaire, has given $80,000 to the commissioners of Golden Gate Park for a new band stand and music course.

The Chicago banks have recently adopted the policy of charging $1 a month to customers who keep a run- ning deposit account of not more than $300.

Mrs. Benjamin Harrison will accom- pany her husband when the ex-Presi- dent goes abroad this spring in the interest of the Venezuelan commis- sion.

Bishop Potter, asked what he con- sidered a woman's highest sphere, re- plied, "Wifehood, motherhood, sister- hood, the ministry of sympathy and love."

Gen. Marsh, of Illinois, has a know- ledge of military laws and tactics among the best in Congress for he has made a careful study of these matters for years.

Vice-President Hobart had the resolution of thanks for the portrait of Pocahontas handsomely engraved on parchment and forwarded to Henry S. Wellcome, of London.

Carolus Duran, the portrait painter, who is to make a second long visit to America, is said to have earned during his last stay in this country a sum considerably exceeding $60,000.

In one small township in North Carolina, Southern Pines, 4,000,000 lbs. of fruit were shipped to northern mar- kets in 1898. It was all raised by northern invalids living there for their health.

Bullock County, Ala., may be said to be strongly Democratic. At the last State election in Alabama there were 1,123 Democratic, 5 Populist and no Republican votes cast in Bullock county.

The late Joseph Medill, of the Chi- cago Tribune, was one of the wealthiest editors this country has ever known. Ten years ago the annual net earnings of the paper were $275,000 a year; now they are $400,000.

The rheumatism from which Cor- nelius Vanderbilt has been suffering is not, as is popularly supposed, a new experience for the millionaire, for he has been a victim to the disease ever since early manhood.

Bishop Rowe, head of the Episcopal diocese of Alaska, who is at present in Chicago, says there is no lack of food in the Klondike, but he does not think the country as rich as it is generally supposed to be.

When Dr. Eliot became president of Harvard, he at once donned, for the first time in his life, a high silk hat. In all the years since that time he has never been seen out of doors in any other style of headgear.

The American Bible Society circu- lates the Scriptures in 96 tongues be- sides their own speech; 28 European, 39 Asiatic, 88 Oceanic, 9 African, 9 American Indian, and 3 South Amprisings and constant maraudings not attributable to the Vegetarians, who were, as a rule, mild and inoffensive peasants, but to some pointriguers, the fact that some rebels had been seen to eat flesh besides the ruins of the things they had burned, lending force to the suspicion. In June, two months before the massacre, things began to look so y in Ku-cheng that at the advice their respective Consuls, the British and American missionaries re-to Fuchau; toward the last of however, as the mandarin in the district seemed to have re-rebels fairly well in hand, they ned. It was on the night of 31-August 1, that the murders red.

of the points in Chinese politics most strikes the foreigner is the er in which Chinese officials are officious. There seems to be an attached to any municipal on; only the poorest spirited of are ever put in charge. Perhaps may arise from the Emperor's rence to trust any one with auth-

At any rate there is no country e globe in which law is so little than a name as in China. As before the city of Ku-cheng is elled town containing over 60, inhabitants. The mandarin in e has at his disposal about 500 rs, with absolutely autocratic in time of revolt; yet on the of the massacre, on hearing that egetarians were out again, he re- to his own house, barricaded it, urrounding himself with the en- nicipal guard, refused to stir the trouble was all over. Not ative hand was raised in defence e helpless victims.

WITNESS'S PERSONAL NARRATIVE.

adult of the British Missions sur- to tell the tale. The best ad- is probably that of Miss Hart- of the American Mission. She herself the narrowest escape of urvivors. She said:

7.30 in the morning I heard s and screams for the servants t up, and were tearing down the s on the hill belonging to the sh Mission. Soon after I met a with a trident spear. He yelled 'Here is a foreign woman, and d his spear at my chest. I twist- to one side. It just grazed my and ear. He then threw me on ground and beat me with the n end of the spear. I afterward d down an embankment and ran reached the hill, when I stopped over my breath. The yells con- d, and I saw two houses being d to the ground.

sequently all was quiet, and, sing that the Vegetarians had I sent a servant to inquire what happened. He returned and told o come home, stating that five belonging to the English Mission een killed and others wounded, that my house had not been led.

CHILDREN NOT SPARED.

went home, and there found Miss ngton, much cut about the head eaten all over; Mildred Stewart, rs of age, with her knee cut and ing very much; Herbert Stewart, rs of age, with his head cut and t dead; while the baby of the rt family had one eye black and d, and the second Stewart girl, een, 11 years of age, together the second boy, 3 years of age, een beaten and stabbed with a , but not seriously injured.

v. Philips, who lived in a house distance away, escaped bodily in- but arrived only in time to see odies of the dead and hear the arians cry, "We have killed all oreigners!" We heard that some e foreigners had escaped and were ding, but Mr. Stewart did not and we began to fear the worst.

er hand, the tiger when hunted will run straight away, or sneak and double in the thick jungle in the effort to escape. In a bit of cover he will lie as close to the ground as a rabbit, and all the outcry and throwing of stones by the line of beaters will not start him unless he is actually hit. In hunting the tiger on foot it is usual to station the lookouts in trees to watch for the first appearance of the beast. If one of them sees the tiger trying to steal past him he has only to break a dry stick sharply in two and the cracking sound will turn the tiger back. In short, when the brute once gets scared and suspicious he is one of the biggest cowards alive, who will stand wounds without coming to fight, though the less he al- ways is daunted received as complete- with no show of disaffection of the de-

"The tiger at- able to panic when a f- by anything which he does not under- stand. The opening of a parabol by a lady has been known to stampede a charging tiger, and an experience somewhat similar occurred with a mis- sionary whom I knew, who, told me the story. He was crossing a patch of open country on foot when he saw a tiger stealing toward him from the jungle on one side. He had no show to run or fight, and so he did the only thing that occurred to him to do, and, dropping on his knees, prayed loudly. It was a performance evidently new to the tiger, which roused his suspicions, for he stopped, sheered away and at last went back to the jungle. Another instance was that of a civil official coming suddenly upon a tiger in the jungle. Both were taken equally by surprise, and when the man yelled out 'Scat!' the big cat turned tail and

SNEAKED AWAY.

As is generally known, a man-eating tiger is usually an old beast which has got past his time for catching game and so seeks an easier prey in human beings. But tigers born of a man-eating tigress, are always man-eaters, for they get their first lessons in hunting for their mother. A tigress teaches her whelps to hunt as a cat does her kittens, by bringing them live prey to practice upon. Ten years ago, in one of the hill districts of India, a tigress was killed, whose taking off caused much rejoicing among the natives and was told at once in many of the Indian and English newspapers. She was known all over India as the man-eater who once had given her whelps a live man to play with. She carried off the man from an open hut in the forest where some woodcutters were sleeping. His companions took refuge in trees, and from their place of safety saw her take the man alive to where the whelps were waiting close by, and lay him down before them. As the man attempted to crawl away the whelps would cling to his legs with teeth and claws, the tigress looking on and purring with pleasure. Whenever the man got too far away from the tigress, she would bound after him and bring him back. When the whelps had had enough of their sport, the tigress sprang upon the man, and holding him down with her forepaws, began her meal from his living body."

LIGHT ON THE PURE FOOD QUESTION.

Cook—What's the matter?
Waiter—Customer wants to know if you've got any turpentine.
Cook—What does he want of turpentine?

Waiter—He says he believes that if you'll mix a little of it with this currant jelly he can use the stuff for floor paint.

INSTITUTION OF THE ZADRUGA.

In Servia there still survives a wonderful old institution known as the Zadruga. It is the living together of a whole tribe, numbering about 100 persons, all under the absolute authority of one chief. He keeps all the money, makes all the purchases, and decides the minutest details of family no English he persuaded his sister that he would do well in America, and without delay packed up his possessions and went to Chicago, knowing that in that city was the home of the woman he adored.

His first step on arriving there was to find the dwelling of the physician and his daughter. He had little trouble in doing that. His next step was to hire a room from which he could overlook the house of the young lady. That done he set out to find employment. This, however, proved a more difficult matter. His utter lack of knowledge of the English tongue proved an absolute barrier to any work in his own, the newspaper profession. In his futile search he gradually exhausted his means, and at last, when almost without money, and entirely without hope, he gained courage to present himself at the house of the girl he had followed from France.

HELPLESS IN A STRANGE LAND.

That the young lady was surprised needs no saying. She was more than surprised, she was startled, and when she realized why he had traveled 4,000 miles and had thus come among strangers she was angry and a little frightened. There was but one thing to be done, however. With the kindest memories of Allar's sister she set about to find this young man some means of support. She first secured him a place as French teacher in the home of a friend, and for awhile he held it, but he neglected the duty of teaching to follow in the wake of his benefactress. Becoming too ardent and forbidden to call at the house he would stand for hours on the walk across the street from her door watching for a sight of her. Neither rain nor snow had any effect in dampening his ardor, and the coldest weather could not chill the passion which burned within him. So while he saw his adored, he lost his position as tutor. Again he was forced to seek for help, and again he was given an opportunity to take care of himself. But again to no avail.

Long brooding over his love had now begun to affect his mind. He would walk up and down the street the young lady lived upon muttering to himself, calling her name and talking of what he would do if she would not accept his suit.

FROM BROODING TO INSANITY.

But this could not last. Being without work he could not pay his rent or his board. He sold or pawned all his possessions. Even that means was soon gone, and some weeks ago he was forced to apply for assistance to the head of the French Mission on the West Side.

At the mission he was unable to communicate, except by signs with the doctor or his assistants. He took no part in any of their meetings. At meals he would sit with them, but was not of them, and understood nothing of what they were saying. Often he would suddenly break out in shrieks of laughter and could hardly be checked. Again he would weep, and tears would roll down his cheeks. He seemed to lose all control of himself. Such a course could have but one end. The Consul determined to send him back to France. Accordingly, after being well supplied with the necessary clothing, he was taken to New York and put on a liner for Paris. His pleadings when he realized that he would never more see the girl for whom he had suffered so much were most pitiable. But the case was utterly hopeless. Four months after his fatal move was made, he was on his way back to his home, ill, penniless, well-nigh insane.

WHALES' TEETH AS COINAGE.

Whales' teeth form the coinage of the Fiji Islands. They are painted white and red, the red teeth being worth about 20 times as much as the white. The native carries his wealth around his neck, the red and white of his coinage forming a brilliant contrast to his black skin. A common and curious sight in the Fiji Islands is a newly married wife presenting her husband with a dowry of whales

Bishop, Rowe, head of the Episcopal diocese of Alaska, who is at present in Chicago, says there is no lack of food in the Klondike, but he does not think the country as rich as it is generally supposed to be.

When Dr. Eliot became president of Harvard, he at once donned, for the first time in his life, a high silk hat. In all the years since that time he has never been seen out of doors in any other style of headgear.

The American Bible Society circulates the Scriptures in 96 tongues besides their own speech; 23 European, 39 Asiatic, 88 Oceanic, 9 African, 9 American Indian, and 3 South American languages and dialects.

Leo Mielziner, of Boston, has made a small bronze bust of Israel Zangwill, the author. It is no more than nine inches high, including its pedestal of Sienna marble, the glowing gold of which, with the rich green of the bronze patine, is in the perfection of taste.

Senator Depew says that President Garfield once advised him "to stop telling jokes from that day, for I have studied the American people carefully, and it will not place confidence in the man who says humorous things."

The youngest member of the next Congress will be Martin H. Glynn, editor of the Albany Times-Union, who and it will not place confidence in the town of Kinderhook, N.Y., which produced Martin Van Buren and Samuel J. Tilden.

Miss Rebecca Wiswell, the oldest living army nurse of the civil war, has just celebrated her 91st birthday at her home in Plymouth, Mass. She was born in Provincetown, and is the last living member of a family of ten children.

Dr. Merrill E. Gates, late president of the Amherst College is to succeed Gen. Ephraim Whittelsey as secretary of the Board of Indian Commissioners. He has been a member of the Board of Indian Commissioners for a number of years.

Nebraska's Populist Senator, William V. Allen, who now retires from Congress, will be chiefly remembered for his famous 15-hour continuous speech in the Senate, and for the innovation of making a valedictory address to his colleagues.

Representative Johnson, of Indiana, is the most disputative man in Congress. He is always on the other side and agrees with no one. He has a violent temper, and has been told by his physician that his passionate outbreaks are shortening his life.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., started in business life recently, being elected a director of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. He is the only son and heir of the possessor of one of the greatest fortunes in the world—a fortune that probably exceeds $30,000,000.

It is said that Senator Mills of Texas, who has retired from the Senate, is rapidly getting rich, and will probably soon be a millionaire. During his whole career in Congress Mr. Mills has been poor, but a short time ago oil was discovered on his property, and the wells are now producing great quantities of this wealth-producing fluid.

A GOOD PLAN.

The landlady looked solemnly in the direction of the delinquent one. It's a rule in this house to pay as you go, said she.

The delinquent one smiled. It's a good plan, said he; you get it all in a bunch then—or nothing!

SACRIFICE OF HORSES.

The average number of horses killed in Spanish bull fights every year exceeds 5,000, while from 1,000 to 1,200 bulls are sacrificed.

IS THIS YOUR STORY?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble and my nerves are all unstrung. I am getting pale and thin. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

What does your doctor say?
"You are suffering from impure blood."

What is his remedy?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

You must not have constipated bowels if you expect the Sarsaparilla to do its best work. But Ayer's Pills cure constipation.

We have a book on Paleness and Weakness which you may have for the asking.

Write to our Doctors.

Perhaps you would like to consult eminent physicians about your condition. Write us freely all the particulars in your case. You will receive a prompt reply.

Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

The Canadian Express

CANADIAN, FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1899

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Sir Charles Tupper has been taking advantage of the few days holidays his week to make a flying trip to the Eastern Townships and there explain, or endeavor to explain, the position of his party on various matters of current politics. An odd feature of his several addresses was that they were almost entirely reminiscent and historical. He told little anecdotes of conversations which took place between Sir John Macdonald and himself back in the eighties, he talked about incidents prior to the last general election that he had no further interest to Canada, inasmuch as the matter with which they were connected is dead and finally buried. He told of his alleged attempts to secure preferential trade with Great Britain, attempts which if made at all everybody must admit entirely failed, and upon various other subjects which increase in the importation of free goods which are the raw material of various home industries. Crude rubber and gutta percha, undressed skins, iron and steel, (unmanufactured) anthracite coal, hemp and manilla, wool, hides and skins, dyes and chemicals, etc., all show considerable increases and all of these are the raw material needed for the growing business of the factories of the Dominion. Not only are all the old industries increasing their ramifications, but new factories are springing up each week in various parts of the country, and the permanency of Canada's trade and the confidence of her people in her future, continues to grow and strengthen.

UNABLE TO HANDLE THE BUSINESS.

Although the majority of practical men anticipated a general revival of trade with the change of Government three years ago, there were not a few apparently, unprepared for quite such a tremendous and continued rush as has been experienced since. Take for instance the railway car works; several attempts have been made to score against the Government for purchasing sleepers and parlor cars for the Intercolonial Railway from American firms and the changes have been industriously rung upon the cry of, "Canada for Canadians." But from the facts given by the Minister of Railways in the House this week it was Hobson's choice with the Department. Every effort was made to find Canadian factories that could turn out the work, but in every case the firms communicated with declined to tender because they were so loaded down with orders that it was impossible to handle more. The Department needed these cars for the opening of the spring tourist season, and therefore had no alternative than to place the orders with the Wagner Palace Company whose tenders, were the lowest of the United States firms.

IT HAS COME TO STAY.

British financiers are generally credited with a reasonably clear insight into current events and fairly sound judgment. Here is what the Financial News of (London, Eng.) says in the course of an article on the Bugit: "Canada has waited a long time for her expansion, but it is not open to doubt that the time has come at last, and it is none the less satisfying because it is not coming with a boom and a rush (for Klondike, for this purpose, may be disregarded,) but is taking the surer path from a steady quickening of the national pulse."

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

If her Majesty's loyal Opposition in the Federal Parliament carries out its threat of staying all summer to fight the Redistribution Bill, they will at least succeed in establishing one fact very clearly, which is that they are prepared to oppose any measure, no matter how reasonable and necessary, that has a Liberal origin. The guiding principle in the construction of the bill is exactly what was indicated by the Premier in his speech on the address,—without disturbing existing conditions more than is absolutely necessary to restore some measure of equality and fair representation to the constituencies, the original municipal boundary lines have been returned to, and when this act becomes law any electoral map of the country will not look quite so much like a Chinese puzzle.

The Province of Ontario is that principally affected for it was in Ontario in 1898 and 1899 that the

One Dose

Tells the story. When your head aches, and you feel bilious, constipated, and out of tune, with your stomach sour and no appetite, just buy a package of

Hood's Pills

And take a dose, from 1 to 4 pills. You will be surprised at how easily they will do their work, cure your headache and biliousness, rouse the liver and make you feel happy again. 25 cents. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A GIRL'S AGE.

Feminine Attractions Do Not End With the Teens.

Habit still clings to the idea that a girl's age is either her pride or her shame, a thing for which she is to be incessantly applauded or which is to be softened off and made as easy for her as possible, says a writer in Munsey's. The humorist papers still represent the world as making jokes about Miss Elderleigh and Miss Passay; but, as a matter of fact, Miss Elderleigh and Miss Passay do all the joking there is on the subject themselves. The girl of the period has no more reticence about her years than she has about her appetite, displaying both with humorous frankness and having only scorn for the old fashioned person who would shroud her birth year in mystery.

"I'm 29, and if I couldn't get the better of that fact in people's eyes I'd give up society and take to boys' clubs," said one young woman. "Girls who fib about their age are practically acknowledging that their only power is their youthfulness and that there is nothing else in them. Well, it's their fault if it's true!"

Sweet 17 is still the age of supreme charm from the public standpoint, but as individuals we know better. A girl in her teens is too imperfectly acquainted with herself to be interesting, and by the modern standards she must be interesting even though she is beautiful. Her conversation is always concrete and generally impersonal in spite of youthful egotism, while the present ideals call for the abstract and the personal. Her vitality and freshness can no longer counterbalance this lack, for there is not now such a decided contrast between her and her older sister in this respect. A national influx of common sense has granted the latter a new lease of youth, and the disappearance of the tradition that one must be an old maid because one does not marry has given her a rejuvenating freedom from responsibility.

From 28 to 29 years, or, some say, from 25 to 30, are now the best years of a girl's life, her climax of power, for she is then gaining valuable mental ground without serious outward loss. She has discovered others and is beginning to discover herself. The first wild, restless vanity is over, and yet the world still glitters with possibilities. She has not caught up with her future, and things are still worth while.

A WOMAN'S REASON.

Why the Homely Man Was Entitled to Her Husband's Vote.

There is a government official now on duty in Washington whose face would close the doors of a beauty show with a snap before he could get within a mile of it, and yet he is not unhappy. On the contrary, he has a sunny nature that makes his face a flower garden all the year round. The only criticism that can be made of him is that he is as conceited about his homeliness as handsome men are about their beauty. That may be unusual, but it is true. The other day he was talking on the subject of his looks.

"Ten years or more ago," he said, "I was a candidate for congress in my state, with no show to win, but plenty of enthusiasm in the good cause. I had been making a tour of the district, delivering speeches, and at one place I remained overnight at a farmhouse in lieu of a tavern.

OUR STOCK DRY C

Is now and it will fore purch

Our Stock
cularly fine.
See our SH
Gent's Furn
Give us a T

ONE PRICE

CHAPTER VIII.

1. Let not thy stomach offend with rumbling, growling or gurgling noises.
2. Nor with those belchings of that arise from over-heating or fro digested food.
3. Take heed of these warnings as that prestage the approach of dyspepsia.
4. Take Dr. Von Stan's Fine Tablets, which correct all derangement of the stomach at once. They redress, give comfort, and cure—they cost only 35 cents a box—tablets in a box—at all druggists. by Detlor & Wallace.

Pleasure's Penalty.

When the doctor gives one up, people lose heart, but it was not this with the young society woman in a w Ontario city who had contracted trouble through lack of care in "wringing up" after an evening's round of pleasure. She heard of South American Kidney and pinned her faith to it to cure her an incredibly short time felt her health turning. Her suffering abated, and months from the day her physician her case was hopeless she presented to him a cured woman. Sold by & Wallace.

AN IMPUDENT TRICK.

How a Newspaper Man Scored "Beat" on His Rival.

A group of newspaper men were dining and, as usual, fell to talking. "They used to have some queer idea enterprise up in the middle north, an old timer. 'I'll give you an illustration. A young reporter named on a big daily in—never mind what was detailed to interview the governor another state who had slipped into town on a secret political mission. When to his hotel, he learned to his disgust Jackson, the star reporter of a rival

CHEAPSIDE

OUR STOCK OF RY GOODS and MILLINERY

Is now very complete and well assorted. Prices are moderate and right and it will be to your benefit to inspect and see what we are doing before purchasing.

Our Stock of Dress Goods, Organdies, Zephyrs, Gingham, and Prints are particularly fine.

See our SHIRT WAISTS, no old stock.

Gent's Furnishings and Ordered Clothing a specialty.

Give us a Trial if you have not done so before.

E PRICE ONLY.

TERMS, CASH.

W MOWAT & CO.

CHAPTER VIII.

not thy stomach offend thee
unbbling, growling or gurgling or with those belchings of gases se from over-heating or from ill-food.

heed of these warnings as signs ssage the approach of dyspepsia.
ke Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple which correct all derangements stomach at once. They relieve give comfort, and cure—and st only 35 cents a box—sixty n a box—at all druggists. Sold or & Wallace.

Pleasure's Penalty.

the doctor gives one up, most se heart, but it was not this way young society woman in a western city who had contracted kidney through lack of care in "wrapping an evening's round of pleasure.
d of South American Kidney Cure ed her faith to it to cure and in libly short time felt her health re-Her suffering abated, and three rom the day her physician hinted was hopeless she presented herself a cured woman. Sold by Dettor e.

AN IMPUDENT TRICK.

Newspaper Man Scored a "Beat" on His Rival.

up of newspaper men were chat-
d, as usual, fell to talking shop.
sed to have some queer ideas of se up in the middle north," said
mer. "I'll give you an illustrayoung reporter named Jones
g daily in—never mind where—illed to interview the governor of state who had slipped into the city ret political mission. When he got tel, he learned to his disgust that the star reporter of a rival sheet,
o the news and proposed to call

The Lady's Vow.

The Lady Ethelinda swore (Though not at all profane)
When Glory's call Sir Thaddeus bore
Across the raging main,
That she would break bread nevermore
Till he returned again!

He went, yet nature varied not
To run her usual round.

Zero was cold and ninety hot,
The grass grew on the ground,
The sun still rose in that same spot
Where it of yore was found.

He came. "In many a 'body strife,"
He cried, "the days I've sped
Since for my sake, mown, my life,
Thou hast not broken bread!"
"Nay, love, I cut it with a knife!"
That true souled lady said.

—Harlem Life.

A City of Zinc.

"A City of Zinc" is the name which may appropriately be given to the mushroom city of Portuguese east Africa, Beira. All the houses, all the hotels and public buildings, says a Natal Catholic contemporary, barracks and warehouses, are built of zinc. So great has been the speculation in building and so urgent the need for supplying the inhabitants with cheap and speedily erected dwellings that a city has been built up in six months. Thousands of tons of zinc from France, England and America supplied the material. The unpleasant impression produced by the aspect of this zinc town is heightened by the thought that men have to dwell in these houses under a tropical heat. Everything in this strange city is under the dominion of the metal. Even when a person falls ill he is carried on a zinc stretcher to a hospital, which is also, of course, made of zinc. And if he dies he is laid to rest in a zinc coffin.—London Tablet.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Women, as a rule, hate liars, yet they very often force men into that class.
No man should be elevated to the office

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr. SAMUEL PITCHEE

Pumpkin Seed -
Aloe Senna -
Rochelle Salt -
Aster Seed -
Peppermint -
Eth Carbonate Soda -
Warm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

}

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 Doses - 35 CENTS

SEE THAT THE FAC-SIMILE SIGNATURE — OF —
Chas. H. Fletcher.
IS ON THE WRAPPER
OF EVERY BOTTLE OF
CASTORIA

Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow anyone to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every pur-

IMPUDENT TRICK.

Newspaper Man Scored a "Beat" on His Rival.

of newspaper men were chat-as usual, fell to talking shop. d. to have some queer ideas of up in the middle north," said er. "I'll give you an illustra- young reporter named Jones daily in—never mind where— ed to interview the governor of ate who had slipped into the city : political mission. When he got l, he learned to his disgust that he star reporter of a rival sheet, the news and proposed to call D. Act on inspiration, he sent earing Jackson's name, and pty admitted. When he had l he wanted, he asked with gross tional impudence whether the n was really true.

governor was noted for his irasci- turned purple. 'D'you question he said.

"Don't get gay!" replied Jones ommon governors cut no ice fice."

id man foamed at the mouth. olent scoundrel!" he roared. t my rooms!" as exactly what Jones wanted, t down stairs chuckling. tly Jackson showed up. 'Here, id pompously, 'take my card to or.'

he old man looked at the paste- nearly expired. 'The blankety famous villain!' he spluttered. eard of such blankety blanked in my life! Tell that miscreant nybody else from his infernal s up here I'll kill 'em!'

ord was carried to Jackson, who y raving. Next day his paper governor all the bad names in ary and intimidated he was in bender. Jones' paper had a eriew and a big scoop. Those y times, boys!"—New Orleans aocrat.

e's a Curious Epitaph.

owing quaint epitaph was writ- eccentric character well known Clare, Ireland, by John Jack- ontributed to the papers of that the nom de plume of Terry ler—stop! This spot demands at- n, eath it lie the bones of Robert n.

unge composition was ne'er put to all company, walk in all weather; d of his pipe, his glass and his iter, ly hated grim death and cold wary one's business, neglected his nephew erected this stone.

ant impression produced by the aspect of this zinc town is heightened by the thought that men have to dwell in these houses under a tropical heat. Every- thing in this strange city is under the dominion of the metal. Even when a person falls ill he is carried on a zinc stretcher to a hospital, which is also, of course, made of zinc. And if he dies he is laid to rest in a zinc coffin.—London Tablet.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Women, as a rule, hate liars, yet they very often force men into that class.

No man should be elevated to the office of ruler unless he is perfectly straight.

Now! ignore the silent man. He is of- ten the only one in the crowd worth listening to.

Give a neighbor your skim milk and apt to kick because you didn't share the cream with him.

The darkest hour is just before the dawn, but it's difficult for a man to determine when he has reached the limit of hard luck

HOW TO BE WELL.

Paine's Celery Compound Will Overcome All Your Troubles and Dangers.

Well people have pure, clean blood, strong nerves, active liver and healthy kidneys.

If you are a sufferer from headache, or show signs of any skin disease, your blood is surely charged with impurities, and needs cleansing by that grandest of all blood purifiers—Paine's Celery Compound.

If you are nervous, suffer from prostration, sleeplessness, mental depression or despondency, be assured your nervous organism needs repair and toning. Your best and truest medicine for this work is Paine's Celery Compound.

If the liver is inactive, if you suffer from constipation and defective digestion, your only effective helper is Paine's Celery Compound.

If you have backache, if the urine is thick or bricky in color, your kidneys need immediate attention, or Bright's disease may end your life. Paine's Celery Compound cures all forms of kidney disease, and will give health and vigor to all other important organs.

The ablest physicians in America are continually prescribing and recommending Paine's Celery Compound for the troubles and dangers that have been referred to, and thousands of thankful letters from Canada's best people prove fully all that is claimed for the marvellous medicine.

Tri Carbonate Soda •
Warm Seed •
Clarified Sugar •
Wholesome Flavor.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

NEW YORK.

At 6 months old

35 Doses—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

BOTTLE OF

CASTORIA

Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow anyone to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose." See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac- simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

HIS ART HAIR GOODS ARE WORN BY OVER 100,000 PEOPLE.

PROF. DORENWEND,

Manager of the Dorenwend Co. of Toronto, Limited, Nos. 103 and 105 Yonge Street, Whose skill as a Manufacturer of HAIR GOODS has given him a world-wide reputation, is coming. He will be at the

PAISLEY HOUSE, NAPANEE,

WITH LADIES' AND GENT'S HAIR GOODS WIGS, TOUPEES, WAVY BANGS, AND FRONTS, SWITCHES ETC., IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

Ladies, now is your time, see the latest and best that the world has ever produced. If you hair is thin, plain-looking or grey, make yourself attractive and young, with one of PROF. DORENWEND'S ART STYLES.

GENTLEMEN—Why be bald, when Dorenwend's Featherweight Hair Coverings will effect such a natural change in your appearance, and you will have both health and comfort wearing them. Some of the leading people everywhere can testify to their merits. Over 36,000 wear Prof. Dorenwend's Toupees to-day. Why not you? Discard your silk caps, which do not look nice when worn in the House. Get nature's protector THE HAIR. Prof. Dorenwend's inventions will replace that which is lost.

REMEMBER—PAISLEY HOUSE, NAPANEE,

FRIDAY, JUNE 16th

N.B.—Consultation and trying on of these goods free. Those who cannot call at the Hotel should send word, and he will call at their residence. Cut Hair, especially white, will be bought or taken in exchange.

POLLARD'S BOOKSTORE

"Hartshorn" Roller Blinds in Profusion,
ALL PRICES AND PATTERNS
WALLPAPER AND BORDERS, Cheaper than Ever.
LOTS OF PATTERNS AT 4c. PER ROLL.

Washable Wallpaper a Specialty, The only paper that should be used where there are children.
LORD MAYOR PERFUMES

THE POLLARD CO'Y.

SWEEEPING REDUCTIONS

IN..... Men's & Boy's Suits

500 Suits to Select From.

In order to reduce our Clothing Stock which we find is much to large, we will offer until further notice a clear saving of 10 to 20 per cent. on all lines of Men's and Boys' Suits.

Every Man and Boy in need of Clothing should take advantage of this great money saving opportunity as our stock must be reduced regardless of profits.

Come and inspect goods and learn prices and be convinced that we are doing more than advertised.

J. J. KERR

Dundas Street, Napanee.

NEW PLANING MILL AND LUMBER YARD.

Now in full operation. All kinds Lumber, Sash, Doors and Blinds. Custom work done on shortest notice. Get our prices before buying. Mr. Embury is prepared to draw plans for parties wanting them.

Embury & Madole.

Coxall is offering this week

Epicure Canned Corn	Epicure Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce.
Canned Pumpkins	Canned Pork and Beans
Canned Strawberries	Canned Boneless Turkey
Canned Boneless Duck	Canned Boneless Chicken
Pure Assorted Jams	Pure Assorted Jelly.

W. COXALL

THE - DOMINION - BANK

CAPITAL (Paid up) $1,500,000
RESERVE FUND — $1,500,000

GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

INTEREST ALLOWED AT HIGHEST CURRENT RATES.

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT
DEPOSITS OF $1.00 AND UPWARDS RECEIVED.

T. S. HILL, Agent.

NOTICE.

County of Lennox and Addington
To Wit:
Public Notice is hereby that the

COUNTY COURT

AND GENERAL SESSIONS OF THE PEACE

NEWS FROM THE COUNTRY.

To Correspondents.—Persons sending in items from the surrounding district must sign their names to correspondence as a sign of good faith, not for publication. Any correspondence received without the name attached will not be published.

TYENDINGAGA.

The roads are in very bad condition at present owing to the heavy rains.

Farmers are done sowing, grain all looks well, but planting will be interfered with. Some however have large fields of corn planted but fear they will loose their seed if the wet cold weather continues.

Mr. Frank Cassday and wife, of Yarker, spent Sunday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hannifan.

Miss Quinland, Peterboro, is the guest her brother, Mr. John Quinland, Lonsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Kerwin, Waposs, Prince Edward Island, are the guests of Mr. John Ford.

Mr. Thos. O'Neil, who went to Camden East to visit his daughter, is seriously ill and no hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Mr. Wm. Osborne had a raising on Friday, raising his barn.

LAPUM'S WEST.

The Queen's birthday passed over very quietly here, and pleasantly for Mr. Stanley Brown and Miss Luie Reid, who were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, at the Methodist Parsonage, Wilton, by Rev. Rowe. The bride was assisted by a friend Miss Ida Bush, while Mr. Arnold Brown performed the duties of the best man. The young couple will reside here and have our best wishes for a pleasant and prosperous journey through life.

Preparations are under way by Capt. Clyde to have his troop into first class order, to go into camp at Kingston about June 6th. (not Ottawa or Niagara Falls as was reported) and with new clothes and saddlery they certainly will be.

Mr. John Dewitt is, we understand, about to leave us.

Mr. Wm. Lapum spent Sunday at his home here.

Miss Thompson spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Newburgh.

We have cancelled the sick list, if we could only say as much for the house cleaning list, it would be more pleasant for the boys.

TWO YEARS ABED.

Eight Years of Rheumatic Torment—South American Rheumatic Cure Drives out the torment in a day.

Mrs. John Cook, of 287 Clinton street Toronto, says: "For eight years I suffered as no one ever did with rheumatism. For two years I lay on my bed and could not as much as feed myself—I was so helpless. The torture was indescribable. I doctored and tried every remedy I could hear of but received no lasting benefit. I am grateful for the day when a lady friend recommended South American Rheumatic Cure. After three doses I was able to sit up in bed. I continued its use and to-day—look at me—I am as strong and active as ever in my life." Sold by Detlor & Wallace.

ODESSA.

Our genial hotelkeeper, Mr. Bennett, is making some extensive repairs to the Queen's.

Mr. A. Kenyon was in Napanee on Tuesday on business.

Mr. Geo. Lucas, who lost his barn and contents by fire on May 6th, has been pushing forward the work for the erection of a new barn and on Tuesday afternoon of this week had a most suc-

Christian Women.

In the old Roman days of Nero, were cast into the dens of lions where they died a horrible, but fortunately speedy death. The world has progressed, but ignorance still condemns thousands of innocent women to an equally painful and more lingering death.

The woman who day after day is tormented by headaches, dizziness, nervousness, lassitude, weak back and dragging sensations in the abdomen and similar symptoms, suffers a martyrdom that not even a Nero could invent. One doctor in a thousand will at these troubles to the cause—weakness of the sensitive organs, most without the true remedy.

It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes women young again. It gives strength and virility to the organ harassed by weakness and disease. It promptly heals inflammation and stops weakening drains and restores the health and vigor of youth. It banishes morning sickness and discomforts of ante-maternity. It cures new women. One letter among many says:

J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Tenn., writes: "I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum and your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are medicines for the diseases for which I recommended, that I ever used. The my wife's life at the time of change of also cured the worst case of lunacy that had with your 'Favorite Prescription' case had been under a doctor's care three

If baby dies before the doctor comes will wish you had sent for Dr. J. Medical Adviser. In paper cover, cent stamps, the cost of custom mailing. Cloth binding, 50 stamps. Dress Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A JOKE ON THE PROFESSOR

A Conspiracy of Silence That Loomis Into a Panic.

The late Professor Elias Loomis many years occupied the chair of a my at Yale and was the author of a known series of mathematical text. The truth of the following story professor can be vouched for by a number of Yale men:

Professor Loomis repeated each the junior class a course of lectures. The lectures were illustrated experiments, and in one on con-air he explained the principle of the known airgun.

The students of each succeeding they entered the room for this particular lecture found on the side of the room a note from the platform a small After explaining the operation of the Professor Loomis was in the habit of ing three of its projectiles with mathematical accuracy in the center bullseye.

The professor was always applauded this feat, but his grim face, covered tightly drawn skin of parchment never showed the slightest sign of relaxation or recognition of any kind him it was apparently only a scientific experiment to be exactly demonstrated.

One class of juniors, however, who learned of the immemorial incident the then seniors, attempted a little ment of their own, the subject mathematical and scientific humor.

Three puffs from the airgun, although the students saw that the ball was perforated as usual there was sound of applause. Professor Loomis looked a moment at the class in a way, then at the target, and then, degree of emotion he had never shown, exclaimed:

"Didn't it hit? Didn't it hit? It hit!"

A burst of laughter, followed by more in the usual applause.

THE - DOMINION - BANK

CAPITAL (Paid up) $1,500,000
RESERVE FUND — $1,500,000

GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTION.
INTEREST ALLOWED AT HIGHEST CURRENT RATES.
SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT
DEPOSITS OF $1.00 AND UPWARDS RECEIVED.

T. S. HILL, Agent.

THE - MERCHANTS - BANK OF CANADA

Head Office, — Montreal
Capital paid up, $6,000,000
Surplus, $3,000,000
INTEREST AT CURRENT RATES
PAID ON DEPOSITS.
A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTION.

W. A. BELLHOUSE,
Manager, Napanee Branch

A. S. ASHLEY,
.....DENTIST.....
40 YEARS EXPERIENCE ———
———12 YEARS IN NAPANEE.
4 Rooms above Mowat's Dry Goods Store, Napanee.

THE ROYAL HOTEL. Dundas Street, Napanee. H. HUNTER, Prop.

This commodious hotel is centrally situated having every convenience for the travelling and business public. Large yard and sheds for farmers.
Good table, best of wines liquors, and cigars
The comfort of guests is made a first consideration.

DENTISTS C. D. WARTMAN, L.D.S. C. H. WARTMAN, D.D.S. Graduates of the Royal College of Dental Sur- geons of Ontario, and graduate of Toron- to University.

OFFICE—LEONARD BLOCK, Visits made to Tamworth the first Monday in each month, remaining over Tuesday.
Rooms at Wheeler's Hotel.
All other Monday C. D. Wartman will be in Yaker
Napanee office open every day.

R. A. LEONARD, M.D., C.P.S. Physician, Surgeon, etc.

Late Surgeon of the Kingston General Hospital.
Office—N. side of Dundas Street, between West and Ro. Streets, Napanee. 51v

HERRINGTO. & WARNER
Barrister, etc.
MONEY TO LOAN AT LOW RATES
Office—Warner Block, East-st., Napanee. 5y

DEROCHE & MADIEN
Barristers,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Co-veyancers, Notaries Public, etc.
Office—Grange block.
Money to Loan at "lower than the lowest" rates
H. M. DEROCHE, Q. C. 51v J. H. MADDEN

JAS. AYLESWORTH,
POLICE MAGISTRATE for the Provincial Electoral District of Addington.
Conveyancer,
G. T. Ry. Ticket Agent,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses,
Commissioner, etc., in H.C.J
Clerk, 7th Division Court, of the County of Lennox and Addington

NOTICE.

County of Lennox and Addington
To Wit:
Public Notice is hereby that the

COUNTY COURT

AND GENERAL SESSIONS OF THE PEACE of the County of Lennox and Addington will be held at the COURT HOUSE,

IN THE TOWN OF NAPANEE

—ON—
TUESDAY, JUNE 13

A. D., 1899.

at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon of which all Coroners, Justices of the Peace Constables and other persons are required to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

GEO. D. HAWLEY, Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office, Napanee, May 31st, 1899.

FARMERS ATTENTION.

Insure your property in the Lennox and Addington Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
Because it is a Home Company.
Because it is a Safe Company.
Because it is the cheapest and best.
Because it affords the most liberal policies to patrons.
Because it insures only (isolated) non-hazardous risks, as farm property, county churches halls and school houses.

Because it is the Farmer's Company managed by Farmers in the interest of farmers of the Counties of Lennox and Addington, Hastings, Frontenac, Lanark and Leeds

Officers—B. C. Lloyd, President; I. F. Aylesworth, Vice-President; Stewart L. Daly, Treasurer; Directors—A. C. Parks, B. C. Lloyd, U. C. Sills, J. B. Aylsworth, W. R. Longmore, I. F. Aylesworth, Honorary Directors—Jas. Reid, M.P.P., A. H.
Baker, A. V. Price, C. B. Allison, Wm. Charters, W. W. Meacham, C. W. Neville, D. C. Foward, D. W. Allison, F. B. Guess, James Knapp, John
Tarrott, Thos. J. Donohoe, Peter F. Carscallen, Daniel Schermehorn, Thos. V. Sexsmith, James Murphy, James Clark, Henry Irwin. The board meets at the Secretary's office on the first Saturday of every month at one p.m.

N. A. Caton, Napanee,
Thos. B. Wilson, Newburgh Agents
Enoch Goodwin, Kingston.
M. C. BOGART, Sec'y.

EPPS'S COCOA

GRATEFUL COMFORTING

Distinguished everywhere for Delicacy of Flavour, Superior Quality, and Nutritive Properties. Specially grateful and comforting to the nervous and dyspeptic. Sold only in 1-lb.
tins, labelled JAMES EPPS & Co., Ltd., Homoeopathic Chemists, London, England.

BREAKFAST SUPPER

EPPS'S COCOA

L. O. & B. of Q. Sbt. Co. "Limited"

DESERONTO, PICTON, KINGSTON.

Steamer Hero (commencing April 20th) will leave Deseronto on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 7.40 a.m.
for Kingston and intermediate ports.
for BELLEVILLE on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 8.45 p.m.
The steamer leaves KINGSTON week days at 3 p.m.

DESERONTO, ROSEBURY, N. Y. KINGSTON Steamer "North King" commencing April 30th, will leave Deseronto for Charlotte, N. Y., (Port of Rochester) on Sunday at 10.10 p.m., arr. Charlotte 7.00 a.m. (commencing 6th
May) at 5.05 a.m. (without notice.
Right reserved to change time.)
H. H. GILDERSE, Mgr., Kingston.

RATHBUN COY, Agents, Deseronto.

up in bed. I contented its use and to-day—look at me—I am as strong and active as ever in my life." Sold by Dettlor & Wallace.

ODESSA.

Our genial hotelkeeper, Mr. Bennett, is making some extensive repairs to the Queen's.

Mr. A. Kenyon was in Napanee on Tuesday on business.

Mr. Geo. Lucas, who lost his barn and contents by fire on May 6th, has been pushing forward the work for the erection of a new barn and on Tuesday afternoon of this week had a most successful raising.

Mr. J. A. Mancur, proprietor of our rist m... is prepared to supply the demands of the public, as he has a quantity of cornmeal, buckwheat and all kinds of feed on hand.

Mr. Albert B. Root, representative of THE EXPRESS, gave us a business call on Tuesday.

Dr. Mabey has disposed of a large number of high grade wheels this spring.

Mr. Lester Babcock, of Wilton, paid
our village a visit on Tuesday.

Mr. Geo. Gates, our new tinsmith, is doing a flourishing business. His work is up-to-date and he is deserving of the patronage of all.

Mr. J. P. Clancy has moved his harness shop into new quarters.

"PIMPLY" FACES.

What a Bane—But Dr. Agnew's Ointment is a Sure Cure.

Chas. H. Lilly, 412, Luzerne ave., W.
Pittston, Pa., writes: I am a barber and meet many people troubled with pimples.
I have tried many preparations claiming to cure such, and without success, until I used Dr. Agnew's Ointment. Within the last few weeks I have used it on three very stubborn cases, and in each case it has made a cure; has cleaned off all the pimples and blotches, and left the skin clear and soft.
It's the greatest skin remedy I've heard of and a boon to 'pimply faces.' Sold by Dettlor & Wallace.

WILTON.

Mr. W. Gilliland, Sarnia, paid a short visit to his sister, Mrs. A. E.
Gallagher.

W. Burnside has been visiting his sister, Mrs. James Lewis.

Rev. H. J. Green, Plevna, preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Miss Rowe returned home Monday after spending a couple of weeks at her uncle's, Rev. H. B. Rowe.

Mrs. (Rev.) Rowe left last week to visit at her home near Eldorado.

Willie Lake is ill with scarlet fever.

A small bicycle party wheeled out to Miss Jennie Shibley's, Harrow-smith, on the evening of the 25th ult.
They report a pleasant time, notwithstanding they were caught in one of the numerous showers we are having nowadays.

E. S. Lapum and mother, Napanee, spent a few days last week at B. B.
Shibley's.

A quiet wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage on the morning of the 24th ult., when Mr. Stanley Brown and Miss Lou Reid, both of Lapum's, were united in marriage.
Only a few of the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony.

MONEY,

Bring your cash and
get a Bicycle.
50 WHEELS, NEW AND SECOND HAND, must be sold for cash within a few days. Prices from $12.00 to $40.00.

Also 2 NEW TOP BUCCIES, McLaughlin make
S. CASEY DENISON, store, north end Centre street.

One class of juniors, now learned of the immemorial immortal seniors, attempted a li-ment of their own, the sul-mathematical and scientific ture.

Three puffs from the air-though the students saw that was performed as usual there sound of applause. Profess-looked a moment at the class if way, then at the target, and the degree of emotion he had shown, exclaimed:

"Didn't it hit? Didn't it hit?"

A of laughter, follow-more in the usual applau-professor that he had not lost mathematical accuracy.

Children Cry CASTOR

Apt Quotations.

Proverbs, axioms and wise sa-been uttered by Confucius and men from time immemorial, but realize how many there are of Hood & Co's Sarsaparilla fam-two thousand and they have the ingenious plan of serving it delectable shape in thousands of with each one neatly turning a the merit of their well known
The extensive use of these original and creditable to Hood

Gentlemen. Are You Bald.

Don't miss seeing Prof. I famous Art Hair coverings, de-by him. He will be at the Pais Napanee, on Friday, June toupees and wigs that are so construction that when placed on any bald head will defy Over 36,000 gentlemen of every in life enjoy the wearing of the-to-day. They are a protection to the head and beneficial to hea-lemen, throw off those old father's caps if you are wear-your stores, offices and residence nature's own protection for bald as invented by Prof. Dorenwevalue health, youthful and nice do not stand back, but investiga-self, as no charges are made for tation. Remember, Paisley

The sloopa Gull, and Aneli edgings at the Rathbun Co's week.

The Rathbun Co. have nearly and river drivers employed on tent drives. Their output of 1 year will be the largest in the the Company.

Your Weak Spot. Perhaps throat or your bronchial tube take cold easily, take Scott's It checks any tendency in your serious lung trouble.

Burglars entered James Hug-lower Bagot st., Kingston, on 1 and stole $75 in cash. Entrance through a window. The money box in Mr. Hughes's bedroom thieves got away with the spoils wakening anybody.

Bridge street Methodist chu-ville, had a narrow escape from on Saturday afternoon last.
fore 3 o'clock a sharp flash struck the northwest corner of near the bell, and followed a south wall. At the eastern en-gallery, on the south side, was reostat used in turning on a lighting apparatus. This was smashed into fragments, ma-pieces being thrown across the gallery. Here all traces of fluid is lost. The plaster was a considerable distance, some 1 dislodged from the tower, a splintered. The interior of the was filled with a blinding light smoke was dense, although the sign of fire. The damage done considerable. Mr. Hunt, the organ-the organ with a young lady the flash came. The young stunned for a time, but soon caltelligence.

stian Women, old Roman of Nero, were to the dens ns where ied a horri- uly speedy The world progressed, urance still condemns nds of innocent wom- an equally painful and ingering death. woman who day after day is tortured adaches, despondency irritability, iness, lassitude, weak back, pains ragging sensations in the abdomen nilar symptoms, suffers a martyrdom of even a Nero could invent. Not octor in a thousand will attribute these troubles to the right cause—weakness or disease of the sensitive femi- nine organs, yet al- most without excep- tion there lies the trouble. And there is just one known remedy that reaches and cures every case.

r. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It women young again. It gives new h and virility to the organs long- ed by weakness and disease. It tly heals inflammation and ulcer- atops weakening drains and restores alth and vigor of youth. It fits for od and prepares for motherhood. ishes morning sickness and other ills of ante-maternity. It makes women. One letter among thou- says: Carlisle, Esq., of Manche- 'er, Coffee Co., writes: "I am superintend-ent of the ounty Poor-house and Asylum combined. Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite tion" and "Pleasant Pellets" are the best for the diseases for which they are ended, that I ever used. They saved 's life at the time of 'change of life.' I ed the worst case of lunacy that we ver their 'Favorite Prescription.' The l been under a doctor's care three years." by dies before the doctor comes, you ish you had sent for Dr. Pierce's al Adviser. In paper cover 31 one- stamps, the cost of 'customs and g. Cloth binding, 50 stamps. Ad- Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

JOKE ON THE PROFESSOR.

spiracy of Silence That Threw Loomis into a Panic.

late Professor Elias Loomis for rears occupied the chair of astron- Yale and was the author of the well series of mathematical textbooks. uth of the following story on the or can be vouched for by a number men: essor Loomis repeated each year to nior class a course of lectures on . The lectures were illustrated by nents, and in one on compressed explained the principle of the well airgun. students of each succeeding class as uted the room for this particular found on the side of the room ro- rom the platform a small target, explaining the operation of the gun sor Loomis was in the habit of land- ree of its projectiles with mathe- l accuracy in the center of the e. professor was always applauded for it, but his grim face, covered by a drawn skin of parchment hue, showed the slightest sign of gratifi- or recognition of any kind. To was apparently only a scientific ex- nt to be exactly demonstrated. class of juniors, however, who had l of the immemorial incident from n seniors, attempted a little experi- of their own, the subject being atical and scientific human na-

e puffs from the airgun, and al- the students saw that the bulleye riorated as usual there was not of applause. Professor Loomis a moment at the class in a startled en at the target, and then, with a of emotion he had never before exclaimed: "Didn't it hit? Didn't it hit? Didn't it hit?" of laughter followed by even in the usual applause showed the

THE FASHION PLATE.

In checked goods the pretty shaded ef- fects differ from those worn last spring in so far as the lines are finer and run diagonally in both directions, forming small check patterns.

Some of the novelties among French poplins are slightly craped in their weav- ing and have cross bars of gay color, as for example, craped ground of briar roses, pink crossed with russet and mignonette green.

Cyano red has lost favor, and its place is taken by new shades called ponceau d'Espagne (Spanish poppy), the brilliant dye called Roman red, and a handsome English current red. These colors will be used both as dress accessories and in millinery.

It is quite the mode now to have a differ- ent effect on either shoulder, a flat inser- tion trimmed band of velvet or jeweled gimp on one and on the other a trailing spray of roses or a knot of upstanding velvet or satin ribbon, or a cluster of os- trich tips.

A silk petticoat, much decorated on the lower half, with full corded frills and flounces, is now an actual necessity, since the clinging dress skirts, made without stiffness, require this extra fullness beneath to give them the proper outward flare from the knees down.

The pretty golf costume cloths will be used both for gowns and capes. The new weaves have a genuine Scotch look and show beautiful color blendings. These goods are not expensive, although they are double width and very closely resemble high priced tartans in silk and wool mixtures.

Shepherd's check fabrics will be in marked favor for two seasons to come. They are found in both simple and elaborate fabrics, in 20, 30, 40 and 50 inch widths, and they range in price from 29 cents to $1.50 a yard. They will be used for dress skirts, shirt waists, petticoats, dress accessories, linings and velvet trim- med gowns entire

THE ROYAL BOX.

Queen Victoria's annual trips to and from Scotland alone cost her close on $25,- 000 a year.

Emperor William's bed is narrow, al- most a camp bed, but his sheets are of the finest linen, and he loves a silk counter- pane. He goes to bed at 11, gets up at 5 and is restless and agitated during his sleep.

The Prince of Wales is following the ex- ample of the Duke of Wellington and sav- ing garments which he has worn on spe- cial occasions. The prince's collection will be as interesting as the duke's store of ancient trousers and swallowtail coats.

Queen Wilhelmina goes to bed about 11 o'clock and gets up early. Like her fa- ther, on rising, she takes a stroll round the park and visits the stables. Her bed- stead is of monumental size, being broad enough for six, and proportionally deep. It is whispered that her youthful majesty snores slightly.

Queen Natalie of Servia is following in the footsteps of Carmen Sylva, queen of Roumania, having secluded herself in a charming villa perfumed with the odors of roses near Florence. She is writing a ro- mance of personal reminiscences which has its beginning in Servia and its epilogue in Biarritz.

LAW POINTS.

Fraud may be proved by circumstantial evidence.

A stranger to a note indorsing it after delivery becomes a guarantor.

One taking a note purporting to be signed by an agent must inquire as to the agent's power.

A creditor holding several securities for the same debt may realize from any one of the securities.

The giving of one's note to a creditor is not, in the absence of express agreement, payment of the debt.

One defrauded by a contract should dis- affirm the same at the earliest practicable moment after he has discovered the fraud.

A partial payment of an un-

You never saw this before!

Nature's Iron!

Cures Consumption, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, by adding to your Blood Vessels each day Two Ounces of Rich, New, Red Blood. This is an entirely new form of Iron, extracted from Fresh Bullocks' Blood, and it is the same exactly as the Iron in your own blood, and known as

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids!

This represents the actual amount of RICH, NEW BLOOD added to your Veins by taking Three Capsuloids Daily.

This represents the actual amount of RICH, NEW BLOOD added to your veins by taking Three Capsuloids Daily.

C nsumption or Tubercolosis, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, and all other chronic diseases, as well as the effects of Grip, can only be cured by making plenty of New, Rich, Red Blood.

Who should take Capsuloids and why should they take them?

All who lack plenty of blood, or who are pale, and those who suffer from chronic diseases of any kind, due to lack of plenty of Rich Red Blood, should take CAPSULOIDS, because they are the only known form of Iron that agrees with every person, and which never constipates. This is the only Natural Iron.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are manufactured from Fresh Bullock's Blood at 31b Snow Hill, London, Eng., and are sold at 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50, post free in Canada, from the Canadian Branch Office.

THE CAPSULOID CO., Durham Block, BROOKVILLE, CANADA.

For sale at the following Drug Stores: W. S. DETLOR'S, A. T. HUFFMAN'S, A. W. GRANGE'S, and J. J. PERRY'S.

IN CONSEQUENCE of the death of Mr. Ford, our late partner, we have engaged Mr. Edward Huff to attend to all orders for Clothing.

A FRESH NEW STOCK IN ALL THE LATEST STYLES JUST RECEIVED.

A call solicited. Bottom prices and good work guaranteed.

T. G. DAVIS & CO.

Bay of Quinte Railway and Navigation Company

GENERAL PASSENGER TIME TABLE,

Eastern Standard Time. No. 13 Taking effect Dec. 2nd, 1891

Tweed and Tamworth to Napanee and Deseronto.				Deseronto and Napanee to Tamworth and Tweed.
Stations	Miles	No.2 A.M.	No.4 P.M.	Stations	Miles	No.1 A.M.	No.3 P.M.
Lvo Tweed	0	6 50	3 15	Lve Deseronto	0	6 50	3 15
Stoco	3	6 58	3 23	Deseronto Junction	4	7 05	3 28
Larkins	7	7 10	3 38	Napanee	9	7 25	3 48
Marlbank	13	7 25	3 55	Napanee	9	7 45	12 15
Erinsville	17	7 40	4 10	Napanee Mills	15	8 00	12 30
Tamworth	20	7 50	4 25	Newburgh	17	8 10	12 38

of the immemorial incident from en seniors, attempted a little experi- of their own, the subject being atical and scientific human na- ce puffs from the airgun, and al- h the students saw that the bullseye orfarded as usual there was not a of applause. Professor Loomis a moment at the class in a startled hen at the target, and then, with a of emotion he had never before ex- claimed: "Didn't it hit? Didn't it hit? Didn't it hit?"

of laughter, followed by even in the usual applause showed the that he had not lost his mathel accuracy.

Children Cry for

ASTORIA.

erbs, axioms and wise sayings have terred by Confucius and other wise om time immemorial, but few people how many there are of them. C. I & Co; of Sarsaparilla fame, have over ousand and they have originated enious plan of serving them up in ble shape in thousands of newspapers ach one neatly turning a point as to rit of their well known medicine. extensive use of these proverbs is al and creditable to Hood & Co.

emen. Are You Bald.

t miss seeing Prof. Dorenwend's s Art Hair coverings, demonstrated s. He will be at the Paisley House, ee, on Friday, June 16th, with s and wigs that are so perfect in ction that when placed in position y bald head will defy detection. 6,000 gentlemen of every profession enjoy the wearing of these art goods. They are a protection and comfort head and beneficial to health. Gent- throw off those old style grand- scaps if you are wearing them in tores, offices and residences and get s own protection for baldness, hair, nted by Prof. Dorenwend. If you health, youthful and nice appearance stand back, but investigate for your no charges are made for full illus- Remember, Paisley House.

sloops Gull, and Anelia unloaded s at the Rathbun Co's dock this Rathbun Co. have nearly one thous- der drivers employed on their differ- ives. Their output of lumber this ill be the largest in the history of mpany.

r Weak Spot. Perhaps it is your or your bronchial tubes. If you old easily, take Scott's Emulsion. ks any tendency in your system to lung trouble.

ars entered James Hughes' house Bagot st., Kingston, on Friday last, le $75 in cash. Entrance was effected h a window. The money was in a r Mr. Hughes' bedroom, and the got away with the spoils without ing anybody.

ge street Methodist church, Belle- d a narrow escape from destruction yday afternoon last. Shortly be- o'clock a sharp flash of lightning the northwest corner of the tower e bell, and followed a course to the wall. At the eastern entrance to the , on the south side, was situated the used in turning on and off the g apparatus. This machine was d into fragments, many of the being thrown across to the north Here all traces of the electric lost. The plaster was torn off for iderable distance, some large stones ed from the tower, and boards red. The interior of the building led with a blinding light and the was dense, although there was no fire. The damage done will be con- siderable. Mr. Hunt, the organist, was at an with a young lady pupil when ish came. The young lady was d for a time, but soon came to.—In- icer.

Fraud may be proved by circumstantial evidence.

A stranger to a note indorsing it after delivery becomes a guarantor.

One taking a note purporting to be signed by an agent must inquire as to the agent's power.

A creditor holding several securities for the same debt may realize from any one of the securities.

The giving of one's note to a creditor is not, in the absence of express agreement, payment of the debt.

One defrauded by a contract should dis- affirm the same at the earliest practicable moment after he has discovered the fraud.

A partial payment of a debt does not claim, although received as complete ment, is not a satisfaction of the debt obligation.

A claim owing to a firm of which one is a member cannot be set off against debts owing by such partner individually to the firm debtor.—Recent Decisions, Highest Courts.

The Power of a Cyclone.

Careful estimates of the force of a cyclone and the energy required to keep a full fledged hurricane in active operation reveal the presence of a power that makes the mightiest efforts of man appear as nothing in comparison. A force fully equal to 473,000,000 horsepower was estimated as developed in a West Indian cyclone. This is about 15 times the power that is creatable by all the means within the range of man's capabilities during the same time. Were steam, water, wind-mills and the strength of all men and all animals combined, they could not at all approach the tremendous force exerted by this terrible storm.

Agreeably Disappointed.

Sidney had been dining out with his parents and had eaten as heartily as any boy of 5 years well could. While the adults were slipping their after dinner coffee Sidney straightened up in his chair and emitted a deep sigh.

"What is the matter, Sidney? Haven't you had a good dinner?" inquired the hostess.

"Oh, yes'm, a great deal better dinner than I expected," said Sidney.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

When Hafiz Sung.

When Hafiz sung of roses
And bulbuls long ago.
His notes breathed bliss more lav'd
Than modern poets know.

Oh, yes, for in all gardens
The roses' blandishment
Was free to every bard, but now
They take his last red cent.
—Chicago Record.

"Example is Better Than Precept."

It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. Thousands of testimonials are examples of what Hood's has done for others, and what it will do for you.

Dyspepsia—"I was weak and had fainting spells. Dyspepsia and indigestion in severe form troubled me. Five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made me well and strong." MRS. WILLIAM VANVALKENBURGE, Whitby, Ont.

A Good Medicine—"We have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family as a spring medicine and used Hood's Pills for biliousness and found both medicines very effective. For impure blood we know Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good medicine." R. S. PELTON, publisher Bee, Atwood, Ont.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Bay of Quinte Railway and Navigation Company
GENERAL PASSENGER TIME TABLE,
Eastern Standard Time.					No. 13
					Taking effect Dec. 2nd, 1899
Tweed and Tamworth to Deseronto.					Deseronto and Napanee to Tamworth and Tweed.
Stations	Miles	No.2	No.4	No.6	Stations	Miles	No.1	No.3	No.5
Lve Tweed	0	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	Lve Deseronto	0	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.
Stoco	3	6 50	3 15		Deseronto Junction	4	7 05
Larkins	7	6 58	3 23		Napanee	9	7 25
Marbank	13	7 10	3 35		Napanee Mills	15	8 00	12 30	4 1
Erinsville	17	7 40	4 05		Newburgh	17	8 10	12 38	4 1
Tamworth	20	7 50	2 15	4 35	Thomson's Mills	18	8 20
Wilson	24				Camden East	19	8 33	12 45	5 1
Enterprise	26	8 10	2 30	4 45	Yarker	23	8 43		5 1
Mudlake Bridge	31	8 22	2 40	4 58	Yarker	23	9 00	1 00	5 1
Moscow	33				Gallbraith	27	9 15	1 15	5 4
Gallbraith	35	8 35		5 10	Moscow	27	9 15	1 15	5 4
Yarker	35	8 50	2 50	5 25	Mudlake Bridge	30
Lve Camden East	39	9 13	3 05	5 35	Enterprise	32	9 30	1 30	5 7
Thomson's Mills	40	9 18			Wilson	34
Newburgh	41	9 23	3 15	5 45	Tamworth	38	9 50	1 40	6 1
Napanee Mills	42	9 33	3 25	5 55	Erinsville	41	10 00		6 2
Napanee	49	9 50	3 40	6 10	Marbank	45	10 15		6 3
Lve Napanee	49				Larkins	51	10 30		6 5
Deseronto Junction	54			6 40	Stoco	55	10 50		7 0
Deseronto	58			7 00	Lve Tweed	58	11 00		7 1

Kingston and Sydenham to Deseronto.					Deseronto and Napanee to Sydenham and Kingston.
Stations	Miles	No.2	No.4	No.6	Stations	Miles	No.1	No.3	No.5
Lve Kingston	0	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	Lve Deseronto	0	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.
G. T. R. Junction	2			4 10	Deseronto Junction	4	7 10
Glenvale	10			4 30	Napanee	9	7 25
Murvale	19			4 40	Napanee Mills	15	8 00	12 30	4 2
Harrowsmith	19			4 50	Newburgh	17	8 10	12 32	4 4
Lve Sydenham	23	8 00			Thomson's Mills	18	8 15
Harrowsmith	19	8 20		4 50	Camden East	19	8 20	12 3	5
Frontenac	22	8 32		5 00	Yarker	23	8 33	12 45	0
Yarker	26	8 40		5 10	Lve Yarker	23	8 50		5 2
Lve Yarker	26	9 00	2 50	5 15	Frontenac	27	9 45	1 00	5 2
Camden East	30	9 13	3 02	5 25	Harrowsmith	30	9 05		5 4
Murvale	31	9 18			Sydenham	34			5 5
Newburgh	32	9 23	3 15	5 35	Harrowsmith	34	9 05
Napanee Mills	34	9 33	3 25	5 45	Murvale	35	9 20
Napanee	40	9 50	3 40	6 00	Glenvale	39	9 30
Lve Napanee, West End	40				G. T. R. Junction	47	9 55
Deseronto Junction	45			6 30	Kingston	49	10 00
Deseronto	49			6 45

R. C. CARTER, Asst. Gen. Manager G. A. BROWNE, Gen. Pass. Agent H. B. SHERWOOD, Superintendent

I BOUGHT CHEAP AND I WILL SELL CHEAP.

I purchased largely at Doull & Gibson's Auction Sale in Montreal. They were one of the LARGEST CLOTHING MANUFACTURING HOUSES in Canada, and in order to retire from business sacrificed their magnificent stock.

BIG OPPORTUNITY. GREAT GOODS. LOW PRICES.

Our great desire is to have you call and see our new SPRING LINE, it will speak for itself. The quality and style will be apparent and the price will present its own argument. Remember such opportunities do not happen every day. A look will convince you that these are no idle remarks.

A. M. VINEBERG.

The wonderful Cheap Clothier, Dundas St., Henry Block, Napanee

Trifles.

A friend once called upon Michael Angelo, who was finishing a statue. Some time after, he called again and, looking at the figure, said: "You have been idle since I last saw you."

"By no means," replied the sculptor. "I have retouched this part, polished that, I have softened this feature and given more expression to this lip."

"Well, well," said the friend, "but these are mere trifles."

"It may be so," answered Angelo, "but recollect that trifles make perfection, and perfection is no trifle."

In Holland it is customary when there is infectious disease in a house to notify the fact to intending visitors and the public generally by tying a piece of white rag round the bell handle.

Talent knows what to do; tact knows what not to do.—Chicago Record.

The Central Ontario Railway Company are advertising for tenders for extending their line to Bancroft.

HOWARD'S Heart Relief

For Palpitation, Pain about the Heart, Pressure in the Head

It causes the blood to flow naturally, perfectly, unobstructed, through every part, bringing nourishment and health to every nerve and muscle.

It promptly relieves brain pressure, heart-pain, heated swelling feet, of heart disease. Prepared by mail with full directions, at 30c. per box, 3 boxes for $2.00.

S. W. HOWARD, 71 Victoria St., Toronto, Ont.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

One of the most interesting and successful of the efforts now being made for the uplifting of peoples is the regeneration of Egypt under British guidance. There is no doubt that British occupation of the Nile country was in the first instance intended to be only temporary, that the assurances given the world by both Liberal and Conservative ministers that withdrawal would follow completion of the work of reform were sincere. But, once established, the force of circumstances and needs compelled Great Britain to go much further than had been originally contemplated, and in view of the tremendous advance made during the sixteen years since her occupation began, there will be few to question the righteousness of her tenure. Under the wise and able administration of Lord Cromer and his assistants, order has replaced the chaos left by Ismail, taxation has been reduced and revenue increased, and with the abolition of conscription a highly disciplined and effective native army has been created.

The population which, in 1882, numbered somewhat less than six millions, is now about ten millions, an increase of 66 per cent., and a total probably greater than the land has contained since the time of the Pharaohs, if not in all history. The growth of population has been accompanied with a steady increase of industries and so of prosperity and wealth, agriculture yielding more than ever before under the development of great systems of irrigation, and cheaper and better access to markets. Egypt has now about 1,400 miles of railroad, or more than Austria Hungary, and while a score of years ago a good wagon road was scarcely known, within the last half dozen years more than 1,000 miles excellent roads have been constructed. Educational facilities have been greatly increased, justice administered with even hand, order maintained, good government developed, the great work of damming the Nile and storing its waters for irrigating purposes begun, and so valid a moral title to continued control and direction created that to all demands that Great Britain evacuate Egypt there can only be an emphatic negative.

The first and most important reason of the British success is the administration of Egypt as a trust, its development and improvement not for the benefit of Englishmen, but for Egyptians, to make it a land in which they may live. Next is the employment of natives in all places in which it is possible to use them—the number of British officials in Egypt does not exceed one hundred—that is, to administer the country by British brains through native hands. Lastly, administration is carried on in a liberal spirit, arbitrary power being used without fussiness or narrow prejudice, to secure the real interests and safeguard the rights of the natives, and having for its end the development of popular government.

GIRLS WHO WEAR CROWNS.

The evident beauty of the Russian Empress' face is so overshadowed by

THE CHRISTIAN'S TRIAL.

REV. DR. TALMAGE SAYS THE ISSUES ARE TREMENDOUS.

The Case Is Above Any Court in the Land—Broken the Contract With God Is the Indictment—The Dr. Calls Four Witnesses, the World, the Conscience, the Angel of God, and the Spirit of God—A Powerful Plea for the Sinner to Prepare for the Day of Trial.

A despatch from Washington, says:—Rev. Dr. Talmage preached from the following text:—"We have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."—1 John ii, 1.

Standing in a court-room, you say to yourself: "At this bar crime has often been arraigned; at this witness-stand the oath has often been taken; at this jurors' bench the verdict has been rendered; at this judge's desk sentence has been pronounced." But I have to tell you to-day of a trial higher than any Oyer, and Terminer, or Circuit, or Supreme, or Chancery. It is the trial of every Christian man for the life of his soul. This trial is different from any other in the fact that it is both civil and criminal. The issues at stake are tremendous, and I shall this morning, in my sermon, show you, first, what are the grounds of complaint; then, who are the witnesses in the cause, and lastly, who are the advocates. When a trial is called on, the first thing is to have the indictment read. Stand up then, O Christian man, and hear the indictment of the court of high heaven against thy soul. It is an indictment of ten counts, for thou hast directly or indirectly broken all the ten commandments. You know how it thundered on Sinai, and when God came down how the mountain rocked, and the smoke ascended as from a smouldering furnace, and the darkness gathered thick, and the loud, deep trumpet uttered the words: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die!" Are you guilty or not guilty? Do not put in a negative plea too quick, for I have to announce that "all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God. There is none that doeth good; no, not one. Whosoever shall keep the whole law, yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all." Do not, therefore, be too hasty in pronouncing yourself not guilty.

This lawsuit before us also charges you with the breaking of a solemn contract. Many a time did we promise to be the Lord's. We got down on our knees, and said: "O Lord, I am Thine now and for ever. Did you keep the promise? Have you stood up to the contract? I go back to your first communion. You remember it as well as if it were yesterday. You know how the vision of the cross rose before you. You remember how, from the head, and the hands, and the side, and the feet, there came bleeding forth these two words: "Remember Me." You recall how the cup of communion trembled in your hand when you first took it; and as in a sea-shell you may hear, or think you hear, the roaring of the surf even after the shell has been taken from the beach, so you lifted the cup of communion, and you heard in it the surging of the great ocean of a Saviour's agony; and you came forth from that communion-service with face shining, as though you had been on the Mount of Transfiguration; and the very air seemed to Stop! O World with the greedy eye and hard heart. I fear you are too much interested in his trial to give impartial evidence. Let all those who hear the testimony of this witness know that there is an old family quarrel between these two parties. There always has been a variance between the World and the Church, and while the World on the witness-stand to-day has told a great deal of truth about this Christian man, you must take it all with some allowance, remembering that they still keep the old grudge good. O World of the greedy eye and the hard heart, that will do. You may sit down.

The second witness I call in this case is Conscience. Who art thou, O Conscience? What is your business? Where were you born? What are you doing here? "O," says Conscience, "I was born in heaven. I came down to befriend this man. I have lived with him. I have instructed him. I have warned him. I showed him the right and the wrong, advising him to take the one and eschew the other. I have kindled a great light in his soul. With a whip of scorpions I have scourged his wickedness, and I have tried to cheer him when doing right; and yet I am compelled to testify on the stand to-day that he has sometimes rejected my mission. O, how many cups of life have I pressed to his lips that he dashed down, and how often has he stood with his hard heel on the bleeding heart of the Son of God. It pains me very much that I have to testify against this Christian man, and yet I must, in behalf of Him who will in no wise clear the guilty, say that this Christian man has done wrong. He has been neglectful. He has done a thousand things he ought not to have done, and left undone a thousand things he ought to have done." That will do, Conscience. You can sit down.

The third witness I call in the case is an Angel of God. Bright and shining one, what doest thou here? What hast thou to say against this man on trial? "O," says the Angel, "I have been a messenger to him. I have guarded him. I have watched him. With this wing I defended him, and oftentimes, when he knew it not, I led him into the green pastures and beside the still waters. I snatched from him the poisoned chalice. When bad spirits came upon him to destroy him, I fought them back with infinite fierceness; and yet I have to testify to-day that he has rejected my mission. He has not done as he ought to have done. Though I came from the sky, he drove me back. Though with this wing I defended him, and though with this voice I wooed him, I have to announce his multiplied imperfections. I dare not keep back the testimony, for then I should not dare to appear again amongst the sinless ones before the great white throne."

There is only one more witness to be called on behalf of the prosecution, and that is the great, the holy, the august, the omnipotent Spirit of God. We bow down before Him. Holy Spirit, knowest thou this man? "O yes," says the Holy One, "I know him. I have striven with him ten thousand times, and though sometimes he did seem to repent, he fell back again as often from his first estate. Ten thousand times ten thousand has he grieved Me, although the Bible warned him, saying: 'Grieve not the Holy Ghost. Quench not the Spirit.' Yes, he has driven Me back. Though I am the Third Person of the Trinity, he has trampled on My mission, and the blood of the Atonement that I brought, with which to cleanse his soul, he sometimes despised. I came from the throne of God to convert, and comfort, and sanctify, and yet look at that man and see what he is compared with what, unresisted, I would have made him."

The evidence on the part of the prosecution has closed. Now let the defence bring on the rebuttal testimony. What have you, O Christian soul, to bring in reply to this evidence of the world, of the conscience, of the angel, and of the Holy Ghost? No evidence! Are all these things true? "Yes. Unclean, unclean," says every Christian Greek was, more than other languages, current throughout the Old Testament, especially among the learned; Latin was the official language, which judicial decisions would be pronounced. "It was a triple pronunciation, in the words of Religion, culture, and Empire,"—Moulton. That as we study this very, na incident it takes upon itself a symbolic character. "The three cizations," says Dr. M. R. V. "which had prepared the way Christ, was thus concentrated a cross. The cross is the real cent the world's history.

dark for thee? Who will plead thy side in so forlorn a cause? times a man will be brought in court of law, and he will have friends and no money, and then will look over the bar and say there are any one who will volunteer to take this man's case and defend him, and some young man rises up and "I will be his counsel," perhaps ing on from that point to a great brilliant career. Now, in this m of the soul, as you have nothing to for counsel do you think that one will volunteer? Yes, yes, One rising, he is a young man, thirty-three years of age. I see countenance suffused with tears covered with blood, and all the ries of heaven are thrilled with spectacle. Thanks be unto God, have an advocate with the F Jesus Christ the Righteous." O (tian soul, your case begins to better. I think, perhaps, after you may not have to die. The advocate in all the universe has your side. No one was ever so d fied to defend a man as this ad is qualified to defend you. He l all the law, all its demands, its alties. He is always ready. No turn of the case will surprise and He will plead for you for no as earnestly as though you br a world of treasure to his feel sides that he has undertaken the of thousands who were as forlorn you, and he has never lost a Courage, O Christian soul. I that after all there may be chance for you, for the great cate rises to make his plea. He "I admit all that has been p against my client, admit all the aye, more; but look at that wo hand of Mine, and look at that wounded hand, and at My right and at My left foot. By all wounds I plead for his clearance, all the drops of My tears. Cou the drops of My blood. By th miliation of Bethlehem, by the of Gethsemane, by the sufferin the cross I demand that he go On this arm he hath leaned; t heart he hath flown; in My te hath washed; on my righteousness hath depended. Let him free the ransom. Let him escape the I took the scourgings. Let th pass from him; I drank it dregs. Put on him the cro life, for I have worn the cro thorns. Over against My cr shame set his throne of triumph

Well, the counsel on both side spoken, and there is only one thing now remaining, and that, awarding of the judgment. I have ever been in a court you know of the silence of the solemnity when the v is about to be rendered, or the ment about to be given. About th on trial, shall it be saved or s be lost? Attention! above, a beneath. All the universe cries, "hear!" the judge rises and give decision, never to be changed, to be revoked:—"There is the now no condemnation to them w in Christ Jesus."

"That soul that on Jesus hath for repose, I will not, I will not, desert t foes; That soul, though all hell shou deavour to shake, I'll never, no never, no never sake."

But, my friends, there is no day of trial, in which not only a ne hundred—that is, to administer the country by British brains through native hands. Lastly, administration is carried on in a liberal spirit, arbitrary power being used without fussiness or narrow prejudice, to secure the real interests and safeguard the rights of the natives, and having for its end the development of popular government.

GIRLS WHO WEAR CROWNS.

The evident beauty of the Russian Empress's face is so overshadowed by an expression of patient, pathetic melancholy that she arouses sympathy and curiosity in every one. Undoubtedly the Czarina is not a happy woman. Russian Empresses have little enough to inspire content, and this pale, pretty creature, with the sad eyes and mouth, endures daily such tests of her physical strength and moral courage as few Canadian women would care or consent, for all the Russian state and power, to undergo. Her husband, on the whole, is a kindly young man, who is considerate, even affectionate, but he can do very little to mitigate the severe, even cruel Russian court etiquette to which she must bow; with her he shares the daily terror of assassination, and with all people he laments the fact that the Empress has not yet given an heir to his throne.

In spite of her beauty and her virtues, the Empress is not loved by the Russian people nor consulted and confided in by her husband, as her mother-in-law, Empress Dowager, was. She has neither the robust physique, nor the ambitious interests of the clever dowager, and court intrigues, squabbles and etiquette distress, disgust and fatigue her. It is a fact well known that up to the very day before her betrothal, she resisted the change of her religion and Christian name that every Russian Empress must yield to; again and again she has fainted at the long receptions, balls and reviews, through which, in spite of her illness, she is obliged to stand, and the only true comfort and solace she finds in her dreary splendor is the personal services and attentions she is allowed to lavish on her tiny girls.

In sharp contrast to this sad-faced Empress of the vastest domain in Europe, is the young, pretty Queen of the tiniest, cleanest, freest little kingdom on that continent. The Queen of Holland lives far more like a popular, petted young belle of society than a sovereign. While the Czarina never puts her feet out the door without the heaviest guard, Queen Wilhelmina goes shopping, walking, skating and riding when the whim seizes her, with a single attendant, and that often but a favorite lady in waiting. For all her love of junketing, dancing and out-door sports, the Dutch Queen is a conscientious worker, and just now she feels deeply interested in the international peace congress that is now meeting in one of her palaces, the Huis ten Wood, just outside the Hague.

INDULGED BY ENGLISH WOMEN.

Just now, long walks are a fad in England, and the Princess of Wales is one of its devotees, which, of course, insures its popularity. It is an excellent idea, for no one exercise is considered so beneficial to the entire body as walking. Of course, the head should be held erect, the shoulders thrown back, and the breathing unrestrained. The "rest cure" is another craze with London society women. This consists in going away for a fortnight to some quiet place where there is plenty of fresh air and sunshine and then simply vegetating.

You remember how, from the head, and the hands, and the side, and the feet, there came bleeding forth these two words: "Remember Me." You recall how the cup of communion trembled in your hand when you first took it; and as in a sea-shell you may hear, or think you hear, the roaring of the surf even after the shell has been taken from the beach, so you lifted the cup of communion, and you heard in it the surging of the great ocean of a Saviour's agony; and you came forth from that communion-service with face shining, as though you had been on the Mount of Transfiguration; and the very air seemed tremulous with the love of Jesus, and the woods, and the leaves, and the grass, and the birds, were brighter and sweeter-voiced than ever before, and you said down in the very depths of your soul: "Lord, Thou knowest all things; Thou knowest that I love Thee." Have you kept the bargain, O Christian man? Have you not sometimes faltered when you ought to have been true? Have you not been proud when you ought to have been humble? Have you not played the coward when you ought to have been the hero? I charge it upon you, and I charge it upon myself—we have broken the contract.

Still further: this lawsuit claims damages at your hand. The greatest slander on the Christian religion is an inconsistent professor. The Bible says religion is one thing; we, by our inconsistency, say religion is some other thing; and what is more deplorable about it is that people can see faults in others while they cannot see any in themselves. If you shall at any time find some miserable old gossip, with imperfections from the crown of her head to the sole of her foot, a perfect blotch of sin herself, she will go tattling, tattling, tattling all the years of her life about the inconsistencies of others, having no idea that she is inconsistent herself. God save the world from the gossip, female and male. I think the males are the worst! Now, the chariot of Christ's salvation goes on through the world; but it is our inconsistencies, my brethren, that block up the wheels, while all along the line there ought to have been cast nothing but palm branches, and the shout should have been lifted: "Hosanna to the Son of David."

Now you have heard the indictment read. Are you ready to plead guilty or not guilty? Perhaps you are not ready yet to plead. Then the trial will go on. The witness will be called, and we shall have the matter decided. In the name of God I now make proclamation: O, yes! O, yes! O, yes! Whosoever hath anything to offer in this trial in which God is the plaintiff, and the Christian soul the defendant, let him now step forth and give testimony in this solemn trial.

The first witness that I call upon the stand in behalf of the prosecution is the World—all critical and observant of Christian character. You know that there are people around you who perpetually banquet on the frailties of God's children. You may know, if you have lived in the country, that a crow cares for nothing so much as carrion. There are those who imagine that out of the faults of Christians they can make a bridge of boats across the stream of death, and they are going to try it; but alas! for the mistake. When they get amid stream, away will go the bridge, and down will go their soul to perdition. O World of the greedy eye and the hard heart, come on the stand now and testify in behalf of the prosecution against this Christian soul on trial. What do you know about this Christian man? "O," says the World, "I know a great deal about him. He talks about putting his treasures in heaven, but he is the sharpest man in a trade that I ever knew. He seems to want us to believe that he is a child of God, but he is just full of imperfections. I do not know but I am a great deal better than he is now. Oftentimes he is very earthly, and he talks so little about Christ and so much about himself. I am very glad to testify that this is a bad man."

Trinity, he has trampled on My mission, and the blood of the Atonement that I brought, with which to cleanse his soul, he sometimes despised. I came from the throne of God to convert, and comfort, and sanctify, and yet look at that man and see what he is compared with what, unresisted, I would have made him."

The evidence on the part of the prosecution has closed. Now let the defence bring on the rebuttal testimony. What have you, O Christian soul, to bring in reply to this evidence of the world, of the conscience, of the angel, and of the Holy Ghost? No evidence? Are all these things true? "Yes. Unclean, unclean," says every Christian soul. What can we not begin to testify at the thought of condemnation, what?

We have come now to the most interesting part of this great trial. The evidence all in, the advocates speak. The profession of an advocate is full of responsibility. In England and United States there have arisen men who, in this calling, have been honored by their race, and thrown contempt upon those who in the profession have been guilty of a great many meannesses. That profession will be honorable as long as it has attached to it such names as Mansfield, and Marshall, and Story, and Kent, and Southard, and William Wirt. The courtroom has sometimes been the scene of very marvellous and thrilling things. Some of you remember the famous Girard will case, where one of our advocates pleaded the cause of the Bible and Christianity in masterly Anglo-Saxon, every paragraph a thunderbolt. Some of you have read the famous trial in Westminster Hall, of Warren Hastings, the despoiler of India. That great man had conquered India by splendid talents, by courage, by bribes, by gigantic dishonesty. The whole world had rung with applause or condemnation. Gathered in Westminster Hall, a place in which thirty kings had been inaugurated, was one of the most famous audiences ever gathered. Foreign ministers and princes sat there. Peers marched in, clad in ermine and gold. Mighty men and women from all lands looked down upon the scene. Amid all that pomp and splendour, and amid an excitement such as is seldom seen in any courtroom, Edmund Burke advanced in a speech which will last as long as the English language, concluding with this burning charge which made Warren Hastings cringe and cower: "I impeach him in the Commons House of Parliament, whose trust he has betrayed. I impeach him in the name of the English nation, whose ancient honor he has sullied. I impeach him in the name of the people of India, whose rights he has trampled on, and whose country he has turned into a desert. And, lastly, in the name of human nature, in the name of both sexes, in the name of every age and rank, I impeach him as the common enemy and oppressor of all." But I turn from the recital of those memorable occasions to a grander trial, and I have to tell you that in this trial of the Christian for the life of his soul the advocates are mightier, wiser, and more eloquent.

The evidence all being in, Justice rises on behalf of the prosecution to make his plea. With the Bible open in his hand, he reads the law, stern and inflexible, and the penalty: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." Then he says: "O, Thou Judge and Lawgiver, this is Thine own Statute, and all the evidence in earth and heaven agrees in stating that this man has sinned against all these enactments. Now let the sword leap from its scabbard. Shall a man go through the very flames of Sinai unsinged? Let the law be executed. Let judgment be pronounced. Let him die. I demand that he die."

O Christian, does it not look very non-universally accepted speech. Country folk from Galilee and the "common people" of Jerusalem would read most readily the "Hebrew," or to be more exact, the Aramaic, which had gradually superseded the ancient Hebrew in and after the exile; the on trial, shall it be saved or sha be lost? Attention! above, are beneath. All the universe cries, "Hear!" the Judge rises and gives decision, never to be changed, n to be revoked:—"There is ther now no condemnation to them who in Christ Jesus."

"That soul that on Jesus hath le for repose, I will not, I will not, desert to foes; That soul, though all hell should deavour to shake, I'll never, no never, no never, sake."

But, my friends, there is a som day of trial, in which not only cae; but the suffer must appear. Sent of trial will come very suddenly. farmer will be at the plough, the chant will be in the counting-r the woodman will be ringing his on the hickories, the weaver will his foot on the treadle, the manu turer will be walking amid the of looms and the clack of flying chinery, the counsel may be stan at the bar pleading the law, the ister may be in the pulpit plea the Gospel, the drunkard may be ing amid his cups, and the blasph with the oath caught between teeth. Lo! the sun hides. Night c down at mid-noon. A wave of c ness rolls over all the earth. The appear at noon day. The earth s ders and throbs. There an earthq opens, and a city sinks as a croc would cranch a child. Mountains in their sockets, and send down granite cliffs in an avalanche of. Rivers pause in their chase for sea, and ocean uprearing cries to ing Alps and Himalaya. Beasts be and moan, and snuff up the dark Clouds fly like flocks of swift ea Great thunders beat, and boom, burst. Stars shoot and fall. The mighty, rising on His throne, dec that time shall be no longer, and archangel's trump repeats it til the living hear and the continen dead spring to their feet. cry "Time shall be no longer!" O that day, will you be ready?

I have shown you how well the C tian will get off in his trial. you get off as well in your trial? Christ plead on your side, or will plead against you? O! what will do in the last great assize, if conscience is against you, and world is against you, and the ai of heaven are against you, and Holy Spirit is against you, and Lord God Almighty is against. Better this day secure an Advo

THE CHINESE FAMILY.

One of the most striking elemen Chinese life is its solidarity. As well known the family has a l larger function than with us. marriage of a son does not bre upon the family life, but enlarg the daughter-in-law becoming i porated in the family of her hus Several generations may be weld together in one home, the authori the elders becoming the more abs with time. Growing old is cert robbed in China of some of the te it has among us. The older a grows the more weight is accord his wisdom. A girl may be worse valueless; a young wife is the b servant of her mother-in-law, bu mother is sure of honor, who creases with the years, and a g mother rules the generations wit rod of iron.

DIDN'T SIGNIFY.

Look at this man, said the att pointing to the prisoner. Doe look like one who would comm crime.

No, replied the witness. But ne do you.

NOT NECESSARILY.

A man has to die to make any out of his life • insurance, said citizen. Oh, no, replied the insu agent, blandly. I never died ye was, more than other languages, throughout the Orient. It was the official language in judicial decisions; would be and. "It was a triple proclamation, in the words of Religion, Culture and Empire."—Moulton. So as we study this very natural it takes upon itself a lofty character. "The three civilizations," says Dr. M. R. Vincent, "had prepared the way for was thus concentrated at his The cross is the real center of world's history.

For thee? Who will plead on for so forlorn a cause? Some a man will be brought into a of law, and he will have no and no money, and the judge look over the bar and say: "Is any one who will volunteer to his man's case and defend him?" me young man rises up and says: "be his counsel," perhaps starting from that point, to a great and career. Now, in this matter soul, as you have nothing to pay unself! do you think that any will volunteer? Yes, yes, I see sing, he is a young man, only three years of age. I see his nance suffused with tears and with blood, and all the galle-heaven are thrilled with the de. Thanks be unto God; "we an advocate with the Father, Christ the Righteous." O Christ-soul, your case begins to look I think, perhaps, after all, ay not have to die. The best to in all the universe has taken ide. No one was ever so quali- defend a man as this advocate ified to defend you. He knows law, all its demands, its pen- He is always ready. No new of the case will surprise Him, will plead for you for nothing nestly as though you brought d of treasure to his feet. Be- hat he has undertaken the case isands who were as forlorn as and he has never lost a case. e, O Christain soul. I think after all there may be some for you, for the great Advo- to make his plea. He says: nit all that has been proved my client, admit all these sins, ore; but look at that wounded f Mine, and look at that other d hand, and at My right foot, t My left foot. By all these I plead for his clearance. Count drops of My tears. Count all ops of My blood. By the hu- of Bethlehem, by the sweat hsemans, by the sufferings of ss I demand that he go free. s arm he hath leaned; to this he hath flown; in My tears he ashed; on my righteousness he pended. Let him go free; I am isom. Let him escape the lash; the scourgings. Let the cup rom him; I drank it to the Put on him the crown of r I have worn the crown of Over against My cross of set his throne of triumph." the counsel on both sides have and there is only one more ow remaining, and that is the g of the judgment. If you ver been in a court room now of the silence and demnity when the verdict t to be rendered, or the judg- out to be given. About this soul l, shall it be saved or shall it? Attention! above, around, All the universe cries, "Hear! the judge rises and gives this, never to be changed, never evoked:—"There is therefore condemnation to them who are st Jesus."

soul that on Jesus hath leaned r repose, not, I will not, desert to His es; ul, though all hell should en- avour to shake, er, no never, no never, for- ke."

my friends, there is coming a rial, in which not only the saint suffer must appear, but the day

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON, JUNE 4.

"Christ Crucified." John 19. 17-30. Golden Text. Gal. 2. 20.

PRACTICAL NOTES.

Verse 17. Bearing his cross. Matthew, Mark and Luke tell us that Simon the Cyrenian was compelled to bear the cross part of the way. That it was an African who thus relieved a little the burden of our Lord, becomes, in the light of modern history, beautifully suggestive. Under the Roman empire neither race nor color entered at all into the question of slavery, and we are not to suppose that Simon was chosen as belonging to an inferior grade of society; he simply happened to be the first man on whom the soldiers laid their hands; any passing Jew or Gentile would have done as well. Jesus, weak with sufferings prolonged through the night, was probably fainting under the load of the cross, otherwise he would not have been relieved. In ancient times a condemned man need expect neither sympathy nor pity. Perhaps in no way so much as in the treatment of criminals have the teachings of Jesus permeated the world. The Hebrews punished with stern and rapid severity; but pagans have always delighted in intensifying and prolonging the tortures of those sentenced to death; and even Christendom, until within the last century or so, was disgraced by an absurd number of capital crimes, cruel neglect of prisoners, and a disposition to make the disgrace and pain of the culprit as public and bitter as possible. Indeed, those who follow with unprejudiced eye the doings of many modern district attorneys and police authorities cannot but feel that even yet to some degree and sometimes the cruelty of the savage avenger is seen rather than that nobler justice which weeps while it punishes. But if we still hang men for murder, at least we do not make them build their own scaffolds; and it was in this spirit of intense cruelty that the Roman convict was made to bear his own cross. During the three years of our Lord's teaching he had repeatedly said, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me." His audience could hardly have understood in these words a prophetic allusion to the manner of his death, but they must have understood clearly that to become a disciple of his was almost as fatal an act as to submit to a sentence of death. Our prayer meeting use of the words "taking up the cross" is often a trivial misuse of what, rightly understood, is one of the most pregnant phrases in the Gospel. Went forth, from Pilate's palace through the city gate. In common with many ancient nations, the Jews were scrupulous to execute criminals outside their city walls. The place of a skull. This is a name or title—"Skull Place." Called in the Hebrew Golgotha. If John had written immediately for us, he might have added what it was "called" in the Latin, for a few centuries later one half of the Christian world, reading the Gospels in a Latin translation, called the palace "Calvary," which is Latin for "skull;" and when, later still, each nation took to reading the Gospel in its own language, "Calvary" had become so familiar that it passed over into modern languages as the name of the place of our Lord's death.

18. They crucified him. Three small words to express the pivotal tragedy of earth's history. The heavy cross was laid on the ground; the clothing of Jesus was removed, and he was fastened with nails upon it; it was lifted and placed in the hole which had been dug for it, much as telegraph poles are fixed in the ground.

23. Compare Matt. 27. 35; Mark 15. 24. The soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus. The four that had been detailed to be executioners. Took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part. "On his head Jesus wore a white sudar, fastened under the chin and hanging down from the shoulder behind. Over the gray and red striped tunic which covered the body from the hands to the feet was a blue tallith, with blue and white fringes on the four ends, so thrown over and gathered together that the undergarment was scarcely noticeable except when the sandal-shod feet came into view."—Delitzsch. Also his coat. His tunic or undergarment. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. In this it resembled the tunic of the high priest. Such a garment would be valueless if "rent" or cut.

24. Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it. In ancient times, the lot was regarded as the handiest and justest ready court of resort, and all sorts of problems were settled by it. That the scripture might be fulfilled. The writers of the New Testament are always ready to see that "through the ages one increasing purpose runs;" that even when men act with freedom of will they, unknown to themselves, by sins and blunders, as well as by virtuous acts and wise judgments, carry out God's plans. They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture did they cast lots. See Psa. 22.18

Between verses 24 and 25 should be inserted the prayer of the penitent thief, Luke 23.39-43, and the "second word" from the cross, "To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise." This was a little before noon.

25. Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother. See Luke 2.34. Old Simeon himself could hardly have dreamed with what agony his prophecy was to be fulfilled. His mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleopas. This may or may not indicate that "his mother's sister" was "Mary the wife of Cleopas." In that age and country two sisters might bear the same name; but if, as is more likely, four women are referred to in this verse, then "his mother's sister" unnamed here, was probably Salome, the wife of Zebedee, and this would make John the cousin of Jesus. "Mary the wife of Cleopas" was the mother of the apostle James the Less, and her husband is almost certainly the man called Alphaeus in Matt. 10.3. Mary Magdalene. One of the close friends of Jesus. Her surname comes from Magdala, a town on the shore of the Sea of Galilee. The only recorded incident of her early life is that out of her Jesus had cast seven devils.

26, 27. Jesus therefore saw his mother. Physical anguish could not keep his hungering heart and eager mind and observant eyes from recognizing his heart's love. The disciple whom he loved. John, who, it would seem, was her nephew. Woman, behold thy son! The phrase "woman" was a highly respectful mode of address. Its literal translation into English cannot reproduce its effect. The exclamation Behold occurs four times in this chapter—"Behold the man," "Behold your King!" "Behold thy son!" and "Behold thy mother!"—and a sermon might be preached on these four uses of the word, for they show what Jesus was and what he revealed that men should be. This was the "third word" from the cross. From that hour that disciple took her unto his own home. The legends of the early Church tell us that Mary went with John to Ephesus, and was there most tenderly cared for by him for many years.

"Between verses 27 and 28 comes the "fourth word"—"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" which is the fifteenth verse of Psa. 22.

28. Knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled. Jesus had undertaken to fulfill all that prophecy had predicted of toil and suffering for the love of man, and his work was now done. I thirst. This was the "fifth word" from the cross. See Matt. 27.34. Compare Psa. 69.21.

SPRING SMILES.

Dasher didn't weigh his chances when he went into that enterprise. And yet he speculated on a large scale.

Mrs. Guzzler—Bah, you beast! You ought to be a dog! Mr. Guzzler—Wish I wash, m'dear; Dogah wives can't lecture 'em.

Who's that horrid little man over the way? Oh, that's my brother. How stupid of me, dear, I ought to have known by the likeness.

Do you think strong drink shortens a man's life? It may, but I never saw a toper who didn't live out the fullness of his days.

Frenchman—Do you think anything will be done at the czar's peace conference? German—Yes, sir! Even if we have to have war.

Maude—You wouldn't know my fiancé now if you met him. Nell—Why, has he changed so much as that? Maude—That isn't it exactly, I've changed him.

Browne—Waiter bring me a dozen oysters on the half shell. Waiter—Sorry, sah, but we've all out of shell-fish, sah, 'ceptin' aigs.

I would like a straw with this lemonade, said the lady at the table. Hey? ejaculated the waiter, who was hard of hearing. No; straw, I said.

Mrs. Murphy—Now, which wan of youse byes turn that ball t'ro'me basement windy? The Pitcher—All kicks must be registered with the umpire, leddy! Play ball, fellers!

The Wife—If you object to giving me money always, why don't you give me so much a year and have done with it? The Husband—I do give you so much. That's just what I object to!

Young optician—It seems to be a complication of conjunctivitis, presbyopia and astigmatism. The patient—Say, mister, how many pairs o' specs'll it take to cure 'em?

I hear that Mr. Whiffletree has secured a divorce from his wife, said Mr. Birmingham. He has been mustered out of the matrimonial army, replied Mr. Manchester.

Unto the pure all things are pure; So some expounders claim; But silt it's always well to boil. The water, just the same.

On the Train—Stranger—What was that? Native—That was the brakeman calling out the station. Stranger—But what has the station done to him that he should call it such a hard name?

It's a funny thing, when a fellow is hugging a girl, said the Cheerful Idiot, fixing the youngest boarder with his glittering eye, that then is the time she may be said to be more or less disarmed.

Mrs. Watts—Goodness me! This is the third time you have been here this week! Dismal Dawson—Madam, they was a time once when the wimmern didn't make any objection to my callin' so often.

Isn't San Thomas an English town? asked Van Braam. Of course not, replied Dinvydiddle. It's a Philippine town. What made you ask if it were English? I noticed that the h' had been dropped.

Old Timer—Of course I see a good many things in the market I'd like to buy, but I haven't got the money just now. New Timer—By jove, sir; but you're away off on business "shrewdness; that's just the very time I buy.

Yes, monsieur, these are the shoes worn by Louis XVI., when led to execution. He must have limped painfully. On the contrary, monsieur, he walked boldly upright and with great dignity. He must have been a marvel of stoicism. Both these shoes are rights.

Not Too Confident.—M. Muravieff,

all, shall it be saved or shall it st? Attention! above, around, th. All the universe cries, "Hear!" the judge rises and gives this on, never to be changed, never revoked:—"There is therefore to condemnation to them who are rist Jesus."

t soul that on Jesus hath leaned for repose, I not, I will not, desert to His foes; soul, though all hell should endeavour to shake, ever, no never, no never, forsake."

my friends, there is coming a trial, in which not only the saint but the sinner must appear. To-morrow day at will come very suddenly. The r will be at the plough, the mer will be in the counting-room, the goodman will be ringing his axe at the hickories, the weaver will have of on the treadle, the manufacturer will be walking amid the buzz of the loom, the clerk of flying machine, the counsel may be standing at the bar pleading the law, the minister may be in the pulpit pleading the gospel, the drunkard may be reeling with his cups, and the blasphemer may be swearing between his teeth. Lo! the sun hides. Night comes at mid-noon. A wave of darkness rolls over all the earth. The stars are at noon day. The earth shudders and throbs. There an earthquake and a city sinks as a crocodile cranks a child. Mountains roll in sockets, and send down their cliffs in an avalanche of rocks. A pause in their chase for the ocean appearing cries to fly to the Himalaya. Beasts below, man, and snuff up the darkness, fly like flocks of swift eagles, thunders beat, and boom, and Stars shoot and fall. The Almighty, rising on His throne, declares me shall be no longer, and the angel's trumpet repeats it till all ring hear and the continents of spring to their feet, crying: "I shall be no longer!" O! on lay, will you be ready? We have shown you how well the Christ will get off in his trial. Will it off as well in your trial? Will you plead on your side, or will He against you? O! what will you the last great assize, if your voice is against you, and the angels are against you, and the Spirit is against you, and the God Almighty is against you? This day secure an Advocate.

THE CHINESE FAMILY.

of the most striking elements in a life is its solidarity. As is shown the family has a much function than with us. The age of a son does not break in the family life, but enlarges it, daughter-in-law becoming incorporated in the family of her husband. Generations may be welded to one home, the authority of elders becoming the more absolute time. Growing old is certainly in China of some of the terrors among us. The older a man the more weight is accorded to him. A girl may be worse than a man; a young wife is the hapless of her mother-in-law, but a man is sure of honor, which increases with the years, and a grandfather rules the generations with a iron.

DIDN'T SIGNIFY.

at this man, said the attorney, to the prisoner. Does he like one who would commit a crime? He replied the witness. But neither I.

NOT NECESSARILY.

an has to die to make anything of his life? insurance, said the agent. Oh, no, replied the insurance agent. I never died yet.

added what it was "called" in the Latin, for a few centuries later one half of the Christian world, reading the Gospels in a Latin translation, called the palace "Calvary," which is Latin for "skull;" and when, later still, each nation took to reading the Gospel in its own language, "Calvary" had become so familiar that it passed over into modern languages as the name of the place of our Lord's death.

18. They crucified him. Three small words to express the pivotal tragedy of earth's history. The heavy cross was laid on the ground; the clothing of Jesus was removed, and he was fastened with nails upon it; it was lifted and placed in the hole which had been dug for it, much as telegraph poles are fixed alongside of our roads and streets. It was now the hour of morning sacrifice, nine o'clock; in the temple a lamb was sacrificed on the altar, while outside the city the Lamb of God "which taketh away the sin of the world" was sacrificed on the cross. Two others with him. Matthew and Mark call these two "robbers," Luke, malefactors." Probably they were brigands from the mountains, of whom there were many, ready to join each patriotic uprising, but in times of peace preying on peaceable travelers. On either side one. At this time he spoke his "first word" from the cross, a prayer for the soldiers who were crucifying him, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

19. Pilate wrote a title. We have here a technical Roman term, titulus, which was used of placards, notices of sale affixed to houses, titles of books, epitaphs, etc. Matthew, having regard to the character of the writing, calls it an accusation; Luke having regard to its position above the head of the sufferer, calls it a superscription; Mark combines the two and calls it the superscription of the accusation. John tells us that Pilate wrote it. Put it on the cross above the head of Jesus. On the way to Calvary it had probably been, as was the custom, carried on his breast, fastened with strings about his neck. Jesus of Nazareth the King of the Jews. Matthew gives this title as This is Jesus, the King of the Jews; Mark, the King of the Jews; Luke, This is the King of the Jews. Much has been made of these variations. It has been conjectured that one of the evangelists copied the Hebrew inscription, one the Greek, and one the Latin, while John, using more words, sought to combine the three. This is ingenious, but it seems to us to make too much of trifles. As Dr. M. R. Vincent suggests the essential element, "King of the Jews," in common to all; for Pilate's intent was to show contempt for his subjects.

20. This title read many of the Jews. Immediately it became matter of public note and discussion. The place where Jesus was crucified was high to the city. Probably near to a road which led from one of the gates, so that besides such throngs as always gathered to watch human suffering, and besides those that came because of their interest in Jesus himself, many were constantly passing to and from the city, for it was now in the height of the passover feast. Truly, "these things were not done in a corner." It was written in Hebrew, and Greek and Latin. To write such an inscription in three languages was to a man in Pilate's position a natural thing to do. The world of the Romans was a medley of tongues; so much so that a Roman hero whose tomb was erected on the Persian borders was honored by an epitaph written in Latin, Persian, Hebrew and Egyptian. There was

21. The chief priests, Annas, Caiaphas and their immediate associates. Write not the King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews. They dared not to resent Pilate's insult directly, and could only defend themselves against the aspersion that a peasant was their king by making a request that emphasized their bondage to the Roman Emperor.

22. Pilate answered. What I have written I have written. Weak in great affairs, he was firm in trifles.

that hour that disciple took her unto his own home. The legends of the early Church tell us that Mary went with John to Ephesus, and was there most tenderly cared for by him for many years.

"Between verses 27 and 28 comes the 'fourth word'—"My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" which is the first verse of Psa. 22.

28. Knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, Jesus had undertaken to fulfill all that prophecy had predicted of toil and suffering for the love of man, and his work was now done. I thirst. This was the "fifth word" from the cross. See Matt. 27:34. Compare Psa. 69:21.

29. A vessel full of vinegar. Sour wine, the posca, or ordinary drink of Roman soldiers. We read of a group of tender-hearted Jewish women who provided drugged posca to mitigate the sufferings of dying criminals. Hyssop. A hyssop reed; Matthew and Mark say simply "a reed." The greatest length of the hyssop is not more than three or four feet, and, as Dr. Vincent says, we have here a hint of the height of the cross.

30. It is finished. Prophecy is fulfilled. This is the "sixth word" from the cross. He bowed his head, and gave up the ghost. "What mortal man so resign himself at will to sleep as Christ resigned himself when he willed to die? What man with such freedom of the will lays aside his garments as Christ laid aside the clothing of the flesh? What man so readily departs from one place to another as Christ departed from his mortal life? What must we not hope or fear from his power when he shall come to judge, if so great appeared his power when he died?"—Saint Augustine. Luke gives his final words, "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit"—the "seventh word" from the cross.

TAME BUTTERFLY PETS.

Women have had all kinds of pets from time immemorial, but perhaps the strangest of all fancies in this direction is the latest news which comes to us from Paris, that two ladies have succeeded in taming dozens of butterflies.

These little insects eat from their mistresses' hands, alight on them and show no fear of any kind. They are certainly pretty pets, and well become the airy, fluttering sweetness of the typical woman's nature.

The summer girl during the dull days of the week, from Monday morning until Saturday noon, may in this new fad find a means of diversion, taming her butterflies in preparation to a series of fetching poses, with which to captivate susceptible man upon his arrival at the summer hotel for Sunday.

WOULD CREATE A DEMAND.

A speculator, who had made a large fortune out of a medicine for a disease common among sheep, thought that a fine market for his patent would be found in Australia.

He knew that there was an enormous number of sheep in that country, so he sent out his son to open out this most promising connection. The young man wrote to his father as follows:

"This is a splendid place. The sheep are as plentiful as reported, and I have no doubt we could do a glorious business if we had the chance. But before sending me out here you should have sent the sheep disease. They haven't got it, and unless you can let me have a box of microbes, I had better come home."

AN OCEAN OF TEA.

It has been calculated that something like 1,250,000 pounds of tea are imbibed yearly by Londoners, and that the teapot necessary to contain this amount, if properly shaped, would comfortably take in the whole of St. Paul's Cathedral.

English? I noticed that the h' had been drooped.

Old Timer—Of course I see a good many things in the market I'd like to buy, but I haven't got the money just now. New Timer.—By jove, sir, but you're away off on business shrewdness; that's just the very time I buy.

Yes, monsieur, these are the shoes worn by Louis XVI., when led to execution. He must have limped painfully. On the contrary, monsieur, he walked boldly upright and with great dignity. He must have been a marvel of stoicism. Both these shoes are rights.

Not Too Confident.—M. Muravieff, asked the czar, what luck are we going to have with the peace conference? Can't say, replied the statesman. If we could whip all the other nations, we might make them accept our benevolent propositions; but as it is—He shook his head dubiously.

No Cause for Apprehension.—Lady passenger, seated in the railway carriage underneath the rack which her fellow passenger has loaded with bundles—You have so many packages here, monsieur, I'm afraid they'll fall. The fellow passenger—Oh, never mind. There's nothing among them that would break easily.

Mr. Meeker stepped out into the kitchen a moment to speak a word to the new girl, Verena, he said, when you bring the turkey to the table place it before Mrs. Meeker. She will tell you to take it to me, and you can do so. This will start things right and you'll get along with Mrs. Meeker without any trouble.

SOLD FOR A LIVING.

An item has gone the rounds of many papers to the effect that there has lately been passed a law in China that women who wish to live a single life will be permitted to do so. Hitherto women in that country were obliged to marry whether they wished to or not. The law, or one representing it, provided them with husbands if they were unmarried at a certain age.

We smile at a country where such a law is necessary to prove a woman a human being, with rights over her own life, and having the ownership of her own person. Yet we duplicate the condition here when we call women "unnatural" who prefer to make their own living rather than owe it to another, no matter how much they may care for this other person.

The "nature" in this case is not so "natural" as one would try to think it. It is not human nature; it is artificial feminine nature. The notion that women should get their living only through a man, giving in return the "duties of wives and mothers," is not so beautiful and soul-inspiring as the world generally assumes, and the proof of it is the growing unwillingness of women to make the bargain. They are holding themselves at a higher price even than "bread-and-butter" with the jam of sentiment spread over the top.

Each nation has a different way of expressing its low estimate of women, and a different way of bringing a force to bear upon individual women to make them succumb to the doctrine. In some countries a club is used, and in some the sentiment of society.

FRANCE LEADS IN AUTO-CARS.

France is far and away ahead of all other countries in the production of auto cars. One factory in Paris employs 1,000 hands, another 800.

RUSSIAN PILGRIMS.

The greatest pilgrimages to the Holy Land are undertaken by the Russians. It is estimated that between 20,000 and 30,000 Russians visit Palestine every year.

About the House.

LOVE THAT REACHES HEAVEN.

The heart that feels for others' woes,
That wipes the tears of sorrow
From weeping eyes, when grief o'er-flows.

And brings us bliss to-morrow,
Is the true heart, of priceless worth,
Blest boon to mortals given;
It throbs with pure love here on earth,

And reaches up to heaven.

The voice that soothes us in our pain,
That cheers the hours of sadness,
And brings the sunshine once again
To souls who long for gladness,
Is the kind voice, whose words of cheer
In tried, true friendship's given!
It binds fond hearts with love-links
here,

And reaches up to heaven.

The hand that helps us in our need,
That leads us safe through sorrow,
And gives us trust and aid, in deed,
Till dawn the fair to-morrow,
Is the strong hand, so tried, so true,
In friendship's spirit given;
It fills the heart with love anew,
And reaches up to heaven.

The lips that kiss our cares away,
That brings the sunshine brighter,
And fills our home with bliss each
day,

And make the heart beat lighter,
Are lips so fond, so pure, so sweet,
In all life's pleasures given,
That oft their touch of love we'd greet,

Which reaches up to heaven.

The love that cheers us on our way,
That fond, sweet, tender token, Whose ties, grown stronger day by
day,

Binds hearts in links unbroken,
Is love so true, of precious worth,
To weary mortals given!
It thrills the hearts of all on earth,
And reaches up to heaven.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Japanese umbrellas have long been used to cover ugly ceiling. Lanterns have also been used, but they are not so pretty as the soft, bright crapes and chintzes which make looking upward a pleasure.

An ingenious young woman bought a roll of matting, pliable and jointless, with a design of diamonds of blue here and there. This, with a lot of picture molding from a sash factory, a paper of brads, a stepladder and considerable patience helped to beautify an ugly room.

The floor and ceiling of a room should be as pretty as the walls, and in a like scheme of color. Some summer art students who have a mountain college have made its walls of rough plaster, colored a dull brown, which shades on the ceiling with a grayish green. Along the walls, at the height of the picture rail, are narrow boxes, made of birch bows, full of wood earth. In these are German ivy roots, the tendrils trained in a spider web of green wires, which spreads across the ceiling. Another room has been arranged by its owner as a sort of mermaid's cave, the walls of stucco, covered with clam shells pressed into the plaster and tinted a soft green. The ceiling is draped with fish nets hung on spears. A whaler's lantern and a narrow painted frieze of red crabs heighten the illusion.

For grass stains in linen and lawn use alcohol, then cold water and soap. For iron rust use salt and lemon juice and sunshine. This is also good for ink stains in wash goods. For mildew, rub with soap and chalk freely.

A new method of taking out fruit

ed "layering in the air." The shoot is cut, but left hanging to the plant by a bit of bark, and is allowed to hang there for 10 or 12 days. The wound heals over, and if the plant has been kept in a moist atmosphere, the slip will already have begun to root in the air, but even if no roots have been sent out, the healed surface is the first step toward rooting, so all that is necessary is to detach it and plant it in a tiny pot. I have also rooted begonias, geraniums, wax plant and oleanders in a bottle of water. Fill the bottle up to the neck with warm water and insert the cutting a half inch in the water, letting the top extend out from the bottle neck. Place in the sun, and keep the bottle filled with water. After the first roots start, leave it alone for several days before potting. Begonias and geraniums will root in a week in either sand or water if kept warm enough. Some plants require longer. Verbenas and petunias also root quickly. Water with warm water, use small pots, protect from winds, supply good drainage, furnish rich, porous soil, then with good cuttings, onlookers will say you have magic in your fingers as regards your success in rooting growing slips.

SOME GOOD RECIPES.

Baked Potatoes with Cheese—Remove the potatoes from the skin, being careful not to break the skin. Mash in a hot bowl, season with salt, melted butter and grated cheese. Refill the skins, place a piece of butter on top of each potato and brown in the oven.

Rice and Cheese—Cook rice in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and place in a baking pan and cover with grated cheese. Bake in oven until brown on top.

Fish Balls—Ingredients, boiled potatoes, freshened, slowly boiled "salt, dry fish," pork gravy in sufficient proportions for hash. Peel potatoes while hot, mash and mix with the finely shredded fish and moisten with the pork, which has been cut into fine bits and tried out slowly, crisping the slices. Season to taste, adding a boiled, chopped onion if that flavoring is liked. Mold into balls and let it stand till next day, when brown in moderate oven. Half a cup rich, sweet cream is an improvement, mixed when mashing the potatoes.

Cheese Straws—To 1 cup grated cheese add salt and pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 3 tablespoons cold water and enough flour to make a soft dough. Mix with a fork until stiff enough to cleave from the sides of the bowl. Dust a molding board with flour, roll gently until as thin as pie crust, cut in strips 1-4 inch wide and six inches long, and bake in a moderate oven until brown.

Hazelnut Cake—One cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons shortening melted, 1 small cup chopped hazelnuts, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 1/2 cups flour. Frosting: One egg, 10 teaspoons sugar. Beat each. The nuts may be put in a small bag and pounded. Chopped raisins may be used instead of nuts.

LEMON ICE.

Put three pints of water into a saucepan with one quart of cutloaf sugar and let it simmer over a slow fire until it is reduced to a generous quart of syrup. When cold, add the strained juice of five lemons and the whites of four eggs beaten to stiff froth. If the syrup seems very thick a little water may be added. Stir the ingredients well together and pour into freezer to be treated like ice cream.

PLAYING AT PARLIAMENT.

A New Game Which is Proving Very Successful in the Schools of Japan.

An ingenious school teacher in Japan recently conceived the idea of having

NATIONAL FLOWERS.

Nearly Every Country in the World Has Chosen One.

Every nation seems to have a desire to equip itself with a symbolical plant. Scotchmen are said to owe theirs to the fact that, when a party of invading Danes were approaching the slumbering camp in the darkness, one of them trod on the prickly thistle, and announced his contact with it in rather loud tones. The Scots were awakened and drove off the enemy. Patriotic Welshmen decorate their caps with a leek on the 1st of March from an ancient custom of contributing a leek to the common repast at the annual gathering. England has always been famed for her roses; but the adoption of the rose as the national symbol does not seem to have taken place till Edward IV. introduced it on his seal. The lily of France has been traced to very early times, but probably owes its adoption to the Franks at the battle of Tolbiac, who crowned themselves with lilies after the battle.

Violets were especially associated with the fortunes of the Bonapartes.

In heathen countries certain trees are held sacred owing to their supposed connection with the heathen gods. The banian of India is sacred to the Hindu because the Hindu god Vishnu was said to be born under it; the peepul was supposed to be the favorite tree of Buddha.

The national plant of Upper Egypt is the lotus, on which the sun was supposed to rise; that of Lower Egypt, a tuft of papyrus reed; while the palm is typical of Judaea. The leaf and flower of the chrysanthemum were long ago adopted and are still used as the special emblem of the Mikados of Japan, and a festival in honor of the golden chrysanthemum is held yearly.

THE PARROT'S REVENGE.

He Sought to Make the Chickens Call Him "Uncle."

The parrot's home had been changed. Since then it had been sour and gloomy. Hardly had it spoken a word and, when it did, the words it used were short and snappish, which plainly showed its anger. When fed it would walk to the furthest corner of the cage and yell: "Get out, you rascal!"

One day the new owner, trying to get on friendly terms with it, went up to the cage, and, in a soothing tone, said:

"Does poor Polly want a crack-er?"

At this the parrot glanced at him as if saying, "Who are you?" and then walked to the further side of the cage.

"Now, why doesn't poor Polly talk to me?" he said.

Still the parrot was silent.

"Polly," he begged, "if you will just call me Uncle, I will not ask you to say anything else!"

But nothing he could say had any effect on Polly.

"Polly, say, call me uncle, or you will be sorry!" said the owner, rather angrily.

The parrot remained as sullen as ever. In no way could he get it to talk.

"Well, Polly, when I come home to-night, the best thing for you to do is to call me 'uncle'!" he said as he left the house.

At night when he came back Polly was as silent as ever. There it sat on its perch, with as haughty a look as any parrot could put on. From its looks it would never speak again. The

STRANGE HONEYMOONS.

A short while since an adventurous couple spent their first days of wedded life on the summit of Mont Blanc. The ascent, extremely hazardous because of terrific snowstorms, but successfully accomplished, the bridegroom, in the presence of the guests, embraced his young wife, to whom he swore eternal fidelity, and received from her lips an equally fervent assurance, says a London paper.

In the neighborhood of Dobscha, a small Hungarian town, there is an extraordinary ice cave. In this, some sixteen years ago, a couple, named Kolescy, effected to pass the winter immediately following their marriage. They took with them a plentiful supply of rugs, blankets and warm clothing, but notwithstanding all precautions their experience was not so sufficiently pleasant nature to tempt imitators.

A walking tour may make an durable honeymoon, but to conduct the latter into a walking match is a sadly incongruous with the rite of Hymen. Such, however, was the opinion of one James Muir and his young bride, who were united in lock last autumn. While out they had taken many a long walk together, during which a contention arisen respecting their pedestrian ability. So high did this kick run that they resolved as soon as they were married, to put their respective claims to the test by walking from London to Exeter, the bride being allowed to go by train to Basing, a distance of forty-seven and a quarter miles. No sooner had the bride been tied than the newly married couple took a cab to the station, while the bride started off westward at a pace. In the result the latter was gallant enough to win by over miles, though the lady kept the until Honiton, sixteen and one miles from the goal, was passed.

A month since a young couple, Birmingham came to London for three days' honeymoon. Alighting at Euston, they strolled down the Marlborough road until they sighted a building that contains Mme. Tussaud's famous collection. They entered so entranced were they by the wonders they beheld that they remained until closing time. Next day they were the first to enter the building and the last to leave; and so all the two succeeding ones. Then force they had to return home, but delighted with their London wedding trip.

The writer knows one couple spent their entire wedding day journeying round and round the circle of the underground railway, novel experience that pleased greatly; and of a pair who, in the of the Polytechnic, forewore wedding breakfast and affronted their friends by going direct from church to that resort of scientific tertainment, there to indulge in limited diving-bell descents. Only years ago, also, a young man and his bride spent their wedding day on the Earl's Court Wharf. Perhaps, however, the most strange and gruesome idea of a honeymoon record was that conceived by a to-do tradesman of Marseilles, in Dever, who in the autumn of 1888 his wedding day, travelled to with his young wife to show her execution of the miscreant M. Clou.

HIGH SPEED.

Records for high speed in express train service have been made on French railroads lately, showing 111 miles per hour, including Special compound locomotives of four cylinder type, designed for service, are employed exclusively these trains.

JUST SUITED HER.

drills trained in a spider web of green wires, which spreads across the ceiling. Another room has been arranged by its owner as a sort of mermaid's cave, the walls of stucco, covered with clam shells pressed into the plaster and tinted a soft green. The ceiling is draped with fish nets hung on spears. A whaler's lantern and a narrow painted frieze of red crabs heighten the illusion.

For grass stains in linen and lawn use alcohol, then cold water and soap. For iron rust, use salt and lemon juice and sunshine. This is also good for ink stains in wash goods. For mildew, rub with soap and chalk freely.

A new method of taking out fruit stains is to tie up cream of tartar in the spotted places and put the garment into cold water and boil it. If the stains are much spread stir cream of tartar in the water. If still visible, boil the garment in a mixture of supercarbonate of soda, a tablespoonful to a pail of water.

For summer cottages the latest style when papering walls with a vine or stripe is to have the lines meet at a point in the middle of the ceiling. It makes the walls seem lower, but it is novel and cheerful. Good effects can be secured with pink and white cheese-cloth, the pink gathered in tiny folds for the walls, and at about 20 inches from the ceiling the white is shirred and meets it, extending further to be gathered into a big rosette in the center.

HINTS ON ROOTING SLIPS.

In the saucer system of rooting cuttings, the vessels are filled with sand simply. The cuttings should be small, and several can be put in one saucer. The sand must be kept so wet that it is like mud, and the saucer must be placed where it will get plenty of sun. Never shade from the sun, but protect from the wind. This is all that is necessary to insure successful rooting with good slips. When pouring water on, care must be taken to do it very gently, so as not to throw down or even unsettle the slips.

The professional makes great use of tiny pots, two inches in diameter at the top and two inches deep. Rooted slips do far better in small than in large pots, where they are apt to become waterlogged. They should be potted in fine sandy soil and kept shaded for two or three days until the roots have time to strike into the soil. In from four to eight weeks, according to the nature of the cutting and the heat it has had, the little pot will be filled with a nest of roots and needs repotting, but do not use too large a pot.

Swamp moss is so useful that any commercial greenhouse would not think of getting along without it. In small pots half an inch at the bottom is filled with this moss for drainage. In six-inch pots and larger a layer of an inch or more of charcoal is used in the bottom and this covered with moss. I have used dried grass in place of moss with good results. It surely pays to use moss or grass. Another item of drainage much more important than the above, and not universally known, is to keep the pots on rough material, such as sinders, so that air can get under them and water pass off more freely. This drainage question is especially important with roses, as they especially dislike excess of water at the roots.

There is one simple rule for getting cuttings at the proper stage. If on bending the slip it breaks off short it is good. If it bends without breaking it is too old. One of the most certain methods, and one which does least injury to the parent plant where many slips are wanted, and especially good for foliage plants that are liable to rot under common treatment, is call-and let it simmer over a slow fire until it is reduced to a generous quart of syrup. When cold, add the strained juice of five lemons and the whites of four eggs beaten to a stiff froth. If the syrup seems very thick a little water may be added. Stir the ingredients well together and pour into freezer to be treated like ice cream.

PLAYING AT PARLIAMENT.

A New Game Which is Proving Very Successful in the Schools of Japan.

An ingenious school teacher in Japan recently conceived the idea of having his pupils hold sessions similar to those of the Japanese Parliament, and so successful has this novel idea proved that it is now being generally adopted throughout the schools of the country. It has also attracted the attention of many Europeans, and certain leading journals in Germany and France claim that school teachers in every county might well follow the example of the Japanese professor.

In his school the principal plays the part of the Prime Minister, and three teachers represent respectively the Ministers of Public Instruction, of War and of the Navy. Three of the senior scholars take the part of Privy Councillors, and the oldest professor acts as President of the Parliament, the place of Vice-President being taken by the professor of history. Other professors and pupils act the parts of Speaker, Secretary of State and the other official personages attached to the Parliament.

At the opening session, which was held in the large schoolroom of the High School at Sendai, a city in the north of Japan, an embryo member of Parliament presented for discussion a bill for the abolition of all examinations. The principal champion of the bill was a young student named Kato. He spoke for two hours in its favor, paying not the slightest attention to the many interruptions which were made by the deputies on the crowded benches. The newspapers next day gave a long account of his speech, and predicted for him a brilliant Parliamentary career if he decided to enter public life.

The speakers who followed him were not so fortunate. One of them, indeed, was so embarrassed by the interruptions from the benches that he lost his head completely, and was fain to turn aside and swallow a cup of tea, after which he hastily left the platform. A curious feature of the session was the gaiety of all those who took part in it. Students, as well as professors, did not hesitate to lay stress on the weak points of the grave dignitaries whom they represented, and many a hearty laugh was aroused by the skilful manner in which they portrayed the leading legislators of their country. This first session lasted for seven hours, and it might not have ended then if the Prime Minister had not remarked that it was time for dinner.

Evidently there will be no lack of candidates for Parliamentary honors in Japan, at least during the present generation.

DIDN'T WANT TO TALK SHOP.

Accepted Suitor. And now, dearest, about the ring. What kind do—
She, a telephone girl. Oh, mercy me! let's don't talk shop

VERY SELDOM VISITS THE NURSE.

Mrs. De Style. Has your baby cut any teeth yet?

Mrs. De Fashion. Really, now, I haven't heard the nurse say.

say anything else.

But nothing he could say had any effect on Polly.

"Polly, say, call me uncle, or you will be sorry!" said the owner, rather angrily.

The parrot remained as sullen as ever. In no way could he get it to talk.

"Well, Polly, when I come home to-night, the best thing for you to do is to call me uncle!" he said as he left the house.

That night when he came back Polly was as silent as ever. There it sat on its perch, with as haughty a look as any parrot could put on. From its looks it would never speak again. The owner thought otherwise. Going to the cage he said, in a commanding voice: "Polly, you rascal, call me uncle, or I'll fix you!"

But the parrot still held its peace. "One more chance, Polly, if you don't call me uncle, I will fasten you in the chicken house to-night!" he said, as he started to pick up the cage.

But the parrot said never a word.

The owner was mad. Taking the cage in one hand and a lamp in the other he made his way to the chicken house, where he dumped Polly on the ground. Carefully fastening the door he went back to the house, chuckling to himself and thinking how glad Polly would be to call him uncle in the morning.

When morning came, the owner, anxious to see how the punishment had worked on Polly, started to the chicken house. As he came near he heard loud talking on the inside. It was the parrot.

"Ah I knew that was the scheme to make him talk," smiled the owner to himself. He quietly opened the door. Behold the sight that met his eyes! Every hen was lying dead on the ground, the old rooster was backed up in the corner, and the parrot was walking to and fro in front of him saying: "Call me uncle, you rascal, or I'll fix you!"

ELIXIR OF YOUTH.

Said to Have Been Once More Discovered by Scientific Research.

One of the everlasting longings of the human race was expressed when Goethe penned his immortal "Faust," for the wish of mankind from time immemorial has been the rejuvenescence of the golden days of youth with its unsatiated enjoyment of the pleasures of the passing moment. In this age of cold, unfeeling scientific analysis, that one-time staff of life of the romantic novelist, the fountain of perpetual youth, has been laid on the table and progress toward unending life is proceeding with microscopic footfalls. However, one scientist, Dr. Althaus, claims to have discovered a method whereby he is enabled to rejuvenate the man who has seen too much of life in proportion to his years—in other words, the man who is prematurely aged.

Dr. Althaus's treatment consists in applying skillful electrical treatment to the brain, where he claims to have located the centers of nervous activity, which are soonest worn out by a man who has gone the pace too rapidly. Dr. Althaus is a Londoner who has won considerable renown as a practical scientist, and his results are being watched with interest throughout the scientific world, as developing new fields for the great natural phenomenon whose real origin has never been explained.

NOT MARRIED; ONLY ENGAGED.

I understand you're to be congratulated.

Right you are, old fellow.

So Miss Blinks is really yours?

Well, no; not exactly mine yet, you know. But I have a first mortgage on her.

Dever, who in the autumn of 1911 his wedding day, travelled to execution of the miscreant clou.

HIGH SPEED.

Records for high speed in train service have been made on railroads lately, showing 111.11 miles per hour, including Special compound locomotives of four cylinder type, designed for service, are employed exclusively these trains.

JUST SUITED HER.

I don't think she looks very marry a clerk.

Oh, but he was irresistible found him at the bargain count

"A Man's a Man for a' The

Even if he has corns on both feet he is a stronger, happier and man if he uses Putnam's Corn Extractor and gets rid unsightly corns, painlessly once.

WITH EMPHASIS.

Amy, reading. He gave her a ed v-i-n-a-i-g-r-e-tte e-how pronounce that, Uncle Isaac? Uncle Isaac, gruffly. I pronounce downright foolishness!

TO CURE A GOLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinoid Tablets.
Get refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c

THE SOFT ANSWER.

Do you think she would have him if he hadn't been wealthy?

Well, you know, he understood if he hadn't been wealthy he could have supported her.

"Pharaoh 100." Payne, of Gra. Cigar Manual

SOURCE OF THE TROUBLE.

Why must you and your go separate, Pat; can't the trouble patched up?

No, sir. That's joost it. She patch up me pants.

Hotel Carslake. European Hotel, from $1 a day. G.T.R. Station, Montreal. Geo. Carslake & Co.

A SEVERE SETBACK.

No, it will be several Sundays I care to hear the Rev. Mr. preach.

Why so?

He has just returned from a long trip, and it will take him long to get back his veracity

Have You Neuralgia?

If you suffer its agonies, a to get a remedy, we want you Nerviline. Its action on nerves simply marvellous. Nerviline most pleasant and powerful remedy the market. Try it.

MADE A BEGINNING.

Rev. De Goode—My young friend ever go to church?

Young Man—Um—er—not, sir; but I have flirted with prano.

Have Blue Rib

RANGE HONEYMOONS.

rt while since an adventurous pent their first days of wed-on the summit of Mont Blanc. ent, extremely hazardous by of terrific snowstorms, being uly accomplished, the bride-in the presence of the guides, d his young wife, to whom he ternal fidelity, and received r lips an equally fervent assu-ys a London paper.

neighborhood of Dobschau, a ungarian town, there is an linary ice cave. In this cave, teen years ago, a couple nam-sey, elected to pass the week tely following their marriage. ok with them a plentiful sup-ugs, blankets and warm cloth- t notwithstanding all precau-er experience was not of a tly pleasant nature to tempt rs.

lking tour may make an en-honeymoon, but to convert er into a walking match seems congruous with the rites of Such, however, was not the of one James Muir and his rde, who were united in wed-st autumn. While courting d taken many a long walk to-uring which a contention had respecting their pedestrian So high did this bickering t they resolved as soon as they arried, to put their respective to the test by walking from to Exeter, the bride being al-o go by train to Basingstoke, nee of forty-seven and three-miles. No sooner had the knot d than the newly married wife ab to the station, while the hus-arded off westward at a good n the result the latter was un-enough to win by over two ough the lady kept the lead oniton, sixteen and one-half ad with their London wedding nth since a young couple from gham came to London on a y's honeymoon. Alighting at they strolled down the Mary-road until they sighted the g that contains Mme. Tussaud's collection. They entered and anced were they by the won-ey beheld that they remained losing time. Next day they e first to enter the building e last to leave; and so also on e succeeding ones. Then per-ey had to return home, highly ad with their London wedding writer knows one couple who their entire wedding day in ring round and round the inner of the underground railway—a xperience that pleased them ; and of a pair who, in the days d Polytechnic, foreswore the g breakfast and affronted all iends by going direct from the to that resort of scientific ement, there to indulge in un-diving-bell descents. Only two go, also, a young man named nd his bride spent their wed-y on the Earl's Court Wheel.

ps, however, the most strange esome idea of a honeymoon on was that conceived by a well-adesman of Marseilles, named who in the autumn of 1880, on iding day, travelled to Paris is young wife to show her the on of the miscreant Menes-

CLOCKS OF BYGONE DAYS.

Curiosities in the Museum of a Clock Making Wurtemberg Village.

In the town of Schramberg, in the Black Forest district of Wurtemberg, Germany, where one of the chief industries is clock making, there has recently been established an interesting museum of timepieces. The collection displays the gradual development in the making of clocks for many centuries.

Among the curiosities are many of great historical value. There is an alarm clock constructed in the year 1680 for the use of travelers. In form it resembles a lantern and the interior is designed to hold a lighted candle. The candle is slowly pushed forward by a spring, which also controls the mechanism of the clock. A little pair of shears clip the wick of the candle automatically every minute to regulate its light. The lantern is enclosed with movable slides, so that the sleeper is not at first disturbed by the presence of light.

The alarm is set by inserting a peg in the second dial plate. When the required hour arrives the alarm is sounded, and at the same time the movable slides fall, flooding the room with light.

Among the curiosities is a Japanese saw clock. The clock itself produces the motive power by descending a saw-formed strip of metal, the teeth of which operate the wheel of the clock-work. In another Japanese clock the hand is attached to a weight, which sinks once in twenty-four hours. The time is indicated by a hand on the perpendicular scale.

A GREAT VICTORY

After a Short, but Hot and Decisive Contest.

The Enemy Driven Out—Dodd's Kidney Pills the Victors—Mr. Gillen Tested Them, and They Proved True and Steadfast Friends.

Amherstburg, Ont., May 29.—Jas. R. Gillen, proprietor of the Lakeview Hotel, here, is one of the happiest men in town. For some years past, he has been in very poor health, and was a great sufferer from Kidney Disease.

In spite of all that medical skill, and numerous remedies could do, Mr. Gillen grew gradually worse. His sufferings increased, and there seemed to be no hope of curing the disease.

One day a friend called to see him, and advised him to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, telling him they had cured a number of cases, of which he knew, and which were all worse than Mr. Gillen's. The latter procured a box, and so much good did it do him, that he bought three more. These cured him completely, and he is now obliged to hold quite a reception, every day, so many friends call to congratulate him on his happy recovery.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are astonishing the medical fraternity daily, by their marvellous success in cases of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gravel, Urinary Troubles, Female Complaints, Blood Impurities, and all other Kidney Diseases. Many physicians in this district prescribe them in their practice, all ways with the best results.

Kidney Diseases cannot resist the action of Dodd's Kidney Pills which are the only cure on earth for such diseases.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, and boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A DEAD SHOT.

DON'T YOU THINK it is about time you were using

LUDELLA

Lead packages. CEYLON TEA. 25, 30, 40, 50 & 60c.

AN ABNORMAL PAIR.

What immense ears Mr. Bullinger has. Make him look quite unnatural, don't they?

Yes, kind o' eerie!

NOT NATURAL.

Did you enjoy the circus?

No. I forgot to get a bag of peanuts before I went in.

NEW VERSION.

Laugh, says Sinicus, and the world laughs at you. Smile, and you treat the crowd.

A VOLUME IN A WORD.

Friend—What became of that young man you were engaged to last summer?

Miss Catchem, innocently—Which one?

W P C 974

CALVERT'S

Carbolic Disinfectants, Soaps, Ointment, Tooth Powders, etc., have been awarded 100 medals and diplomas for superior excellence. Their regular use prevent infectious diseases. Ask your dealer to obtain a supply. Lists mailed free on application.

F. C. CALVERT & CO.,
MANCHESTER, ENGLAND

ONE NIGHT

Corn Cure. Ask your druggist for it. Price 10c.

$25 to per week is paid by city houses for all practical cures. Write for terms.

$50.00 C. W. BUNT & CO., Toronto, Tailors

MANITOBA LAND - NEAR POST-OFFICE

school, station; $1.50 per acre.

CLARKE, 21 Avenue Place, Toronto.

"BEAVER BRAND" Mackintosh never hardens & is guaranteed Waterproof. Ask for it take no other. Beaver Rubber Clothing Co., Montreal.

COMMON SENSE KILLS Roaches, Bed Bugs, Rats and Mice.

Sold by all Druggists, or 551 Queen W. Toronto.

HARRIS Buys Scrap.

LEAD, COPPER, BRASS.

Wholesale only. Long Distance Telephone 1720.

WILLIAM ST., TORONTO.

The Dawson Commission Co., Limited

Cor. West Market & Colborne Sts., Toronto.

Can get you best prices for your Apples, Butter, Eggs, Poultry, and other produce, if you ship it to them.

Stammerers

Especially those who have failed to be cured elsewhere. Dr. Arnott, Berlin who will convince you he can cure you.

O'KEEFE'S LIQUID EXTRACT OF MALT

Invigorates and Strengthens.

W. LLOYD WOOD, Toronto, GENERAL AGENT.

MONTREAL

The "Balmoral" Free Bus

Am. Plan. $1.50 & up.

Rheumatism

Cure assured in 24 hours, a new specific, sent by mail on receipt of $1. DR. ROUBEY, P.O. Box 365, Montreal.

WHITE'S BROMO SODA

An Effervescent Phosphate, excellent cleanser for liver, kidney and stomach, takes the place of coal tar preparations in case of headache, its effect is immediate. Sold by all druggists, in 10c, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50 packages.

Canadian Bromo Co., 27 1/2 Wellington-St. E., Toronto.

Baking Powder.

Formula to make it yourself, easily made at small cost. Equal to the best. Formula sent for 12c. in stamps.

A. LAPIERRE, 19 Leroy St., Montreal.

WOOD & PHOTO ENGRAVING

J. L. JONES ENG. CO.

Printers in ADELAIDE ST. W. TORONTO.

ton $25; An allowed to lie on

BRIDGE, C.E.,

TEMPLE BUILDING, TORONTO.

Plans, Estimates, etc., for Municipal and Private Sewerage and Water Supply

ENTRANCE DRAINAGE AND IMPROVEMENTS, Bridge Foundations, Concrete Construction, Etc.

Shannon

LETTER FILES and TRANSFER CASES.

CUTTING SCHOOL

Tailors and Dress-makers, send for catalogue. C. & D. SCHOOL CO., Montreal.

LAW

Mills, Mills & Malice Barristers, etc., removed to Wesley Bldg., Richmond St. W., Toronto.

Catholio Prayer

Books, Rosaries, Oura-offices, Souvenirs, Religious Pictures, Statuary, and Church Ornaments Educational Works. Mail orders receive prompt attention. D. & J. SADDLER & CO., Montreal.

Hobbs Hardware Co.

LONDON.

BINDER

HIGHEST GRADES.

TWINE.

LOWEST PRICES.

Dealers, Ask For Quotations.

EVERY WISE MOTHER KNOWS THE VALUE OF

INDIAN WOMAN'S BALM

AS A PARTURIENT MEDICINE.

$2.95

GOLD PLATED. Out this out to us with your name and address and we will forward this watch to you by express for examination. It is a map-book and keeps you up to date on the latest news and gold plated, handsomely engraved. It looks like a gold watch, is fitted with a Jewelled American Watch Movement that we warrant to give good satisfaction, and is just the watch for trading purposes. If after careful examination you find this watch to be exactly as represented, pay the express amount of $2.95 and charges, and it is yours.

Dep. Z. Terry Watch Co., Toronto, Ont.

BRASS BAND

Instruments, Drums, Uniforms, etc.

Every town can have a band.

Lowest prices ever quoted. Fine catalogue, 500 illustrations, mailed free. Write us for anything in Music or Musical Instruments.

WHALEY ROYCE & CO., - Toronto, Can.

$150 will, IF TAKEN at ONCE, buy a PATENT MEDICINE BUSINESS, stock sufficient to make $3,000 worth. No other pill like it on market. Fortune for energetic man. Box 17, TRUTH OFFICE.

AMBITIOUS MEN

with push and energy can secure permanent, profitable positions as our exclusive dealers. Little capital required. We have established over 500 young men in paying businesses of their own, and we are ready to do the same for you. Enterprising merchants also represent us, with profits to themselves and absolute satisfaction to their customers. Write us to-day for full particulars. You earn a better percentage from our goods than from any other staple line.

ROKCO MFG CO., Toronto, Can.

FREE

This beautiful Gold-shell Solitaire Ring, in exquisite Flush-lined case, for selling 1 doz. dairy packets of Heliochrome, Rose and Violet perfume. No brown or granular salt at 10c each. Return us $1.20 and receive ring FREE by return mail. Liberal commission, if preferred. Unsold goods returnable.

HOME SUPPLY CO.,
Dept. Z, Toronto, Ont.

Ideal Leather Polish

Will keep your shoes soft as velvet

MADE IN ALL COLORS.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

tradesman of Marseilles, named who in the autumn of 1880, on adding day, travelled to Paris his young wife to show her the ion of the miscreant Menes-

HIGH SPEED.

rds for high speed in express ervice have been made on French ds lately, showing a page of les per hour, including stops, l compound locomotives of the yinder type, designed for this, e, are employed exclusively on rains.

JUST SUITED HER.

n't think she looks very high to a clerk.

but he was irresistible. She him at the bargain counter.

A Man's a Man for a' That."

if he has corns on both feet. But a stronger, happier and wiser if he uses Putnam's Painless Extractor and gets rid of the tly corns, painlessly and at

WITH EMPHASIS.

, reading. He gave her a jewel- i-n-a-i-g-r-e-tt e-how do you nce that, Uncle Isaac?

es Isaac, gruffly. I pronounce it ight foolishness!

CURE A COOLD IN ONE DAY

tative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Drug the money if it fails to cure. 25c.

THE SOFT ANSWER.

ou think she would have married he hadn't been wealthy?

, you know, he understood that adn't been wealthy he couldn't upported her.

traah 10c." Payne, of Granby, Que' Cigar Manufacturer.

URCE OF THE TROUBLE.

must you and your god wife te, Pat; can't the trouble be d up?

sir. That's joost it. She won't up me pants.

I Carslake, European Plan. Room* from $1 a day up. Opp. ation, Montreal. Geo. Carslake & Co., Props.

A SEVERE SETBACK.

t will be several Sundays before to hear the Rev. Mr. Dakter so?

as just returned from a fish- ip, and it will take him that o get back his veracity.

Have You Neuralgia?

ou suffer its agonies, and fail a remedy, we want you to try ne. Its action on nerve pain is marvellous. Nerviline is the deasant and powerful remedy in arket. Try it.

MADE A BEGINNING.

De Goode-My young friend,do ver go to church?

13 Man-Um-er-not exactly, t I have filled with the so-

Have you tried Blue Ribbon Ceylon Tea
yet?

marvellous success in cases of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gravel, Urinary Troubles, Female Complaints, Blood Impurities, and all other Kidney Diseases. Many physicians in this district prescribe them in their practice, always with the best results.

Kidney Diseases cannot resist the action of Dodd's Kidney Pills which are the only cure on earth for such diseases.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, or six boxes $2.50, or will be sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A DEAD SHOT.

Amateur Sportsman. What did I bring down, Pat?

Pat. Yer dog, sur; blew his head all off.

Amateur Sportsman. Wheres the bird?

Pat. Picking at the dog, sur.

LUBY'S Gives new life to the Hair. It makes it grow and restores the color.

Sold by all druggists. 50c. a bottle.

A SURE SIGN.

Jenks. That baby of yours ought to be a good tennis player later on.

Jones. What makes you think so?

Jenks. Oh, the way he keeps up his racket.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by mothers for their chil ren teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c. a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be care and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

ALLOWANCES.

Mrs. Cadger. They tell me, Henrietta, that your husband is unkind to you.

Mrs. Howes. Yes John is not very gentle in his manners, I must admit; but there is one thing I will say for him—he never kicks up a rug or creases a tidy.

La Toscana, 10c. RELIANCE CIGAR FACTORY, Montreal

NO CAUSE FOR SUICIDE.

Miss Dreamier-When you stood on the brink of Niagara, and looked into the seething, surging, unfathomable depths below, did you not feel that you would like to jump in?

Mr. Tourier-No, I hadn't received my hotel bill then.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO } ss.

LUCAS COUNTY,

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & CO., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me, and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A.D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

AN EXTENDED EXAMINATION.

He-Are you sure I am the only man you ever really and truly loved?

She-Perfectly sure. I went over the whole list only yesterday.

kindness and stomach, takes the place of ointment preparations in case of headache, its effect is immediate. Sold by all druggists, in 10c, 25c, 50c and $1.00 packages.

Canadian Bromo Co., 275 Wellington-St., E., Toronto.

Baking Powder. Formula to make it yourself, easily made at small cost. Equal to the best. Formula sent for 12c. instants.

A. LAPIERRE, 19 Leroy St., Montreal.

WOOD & PHOTO ENGRAVING

J. L. JONES ENG. CO.

Printers & Engravers, 140 LADELAIDE ST W TORONTO.

BRIDGE, O.E.,

125 & 124 Bay St., TORONTO.

Plans, Estimates, etc., for Municipal and Private Sewerage and Water Supply ENTATE DRAINAGE AND IMPROVEMENTS, Bridge Foundations, Concrete Construction, Etc.

Shannon LETTER FILES and TRANSFER CASES.

File Complete $1.00. Board and Arch 50c. Simple, Board and Arch 25c. Binding Cases, $3.00 per dozen complete.

The Office Specialty Mfg. Co., Limited 122 and 124 Bay St., TORONTO. Factory: Newmarket.

TRY OUR OILS, PACKING & ENGINEERS' SUPPLIES.

The Wm. Sutton Compound Co. Limited, Consulting Engineers. Office: 186 Queen St. East Toronto, Canada.

Michigan land for Sale.

8,000 ACRES GOOD FARMING LANDS - ARENAC.

Isosco, Ogemaw and Crawford Counties. Title perfect. On Michigan Central, Detroit & Mackinac and Loon Lake Railroads, at prices ranging from $2 to $5 per acre. These Lands are Close to Entering New Towns, Churches, Schools, etc., and will be sold on most reasonable terms. Apply to

R. M. PIERCE, Agent, West Bay City, Mich.

Or J. W. CURTIS, Whittemore, Mich.

Hotel and Saloon men cannot afford to be without the Automatic Faucet Attachment, as it pays for itself in one week drawing beer. No drip, no waste. You only need one hand to draw beer with the Automatic but in case of rush you can hold glasses in each hand, as the Automatic is always ready. The Automatic draws the finest glass of beer and is used for any trade, as it puts the kind of head on the beer that you want. Price $1.50 pre-paid money refunded if not satisfactory. Hamilton Mfg Co., Toronto

BEAUTY

The Talisman of Beauty shows how a Captivating Complexion

Beautiful as a rose-leaf; clear, soft and velvety as an infant's, can be obtained. Sent free on application.

THE TALISMAN CO. 77 VICTORIA ST., TORONTO.

Cylinder Engine Machine Dynamo

OILS

Spindle Lard Neatsfoot Castor

Germania Oil Co., 134 Bay St., Toronto.

Dominion Line ROYAL MAIL STEAMSHIPS

Montreal and Quebec to Liverpool.

Large and fast Steamers Vancouver, Dominion, Scotsman, Cambrian.

Rates of passage - First Cabin, $50 upwards; Second Cabin, $35; Steerage, $22.50 and $13.50

For further information apply to local agents, or

DAVID TORRANCE & CO., General Agents, 17 St. James Street, Montreal.

L. COFFEE & CO., Established 1845

GRAIN AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Rooms 408-12 Board of Trade Building, TORONTO, ONT.

THOMAS FLYNN JOHN L. COFFEE

FREE!

We give this 4-Blade Pearl Handle KNIFE for selling 6 packages of our ELITE PENS at 10 cents per package (1 doz. pens in each package).

Simply send your address and we will forward the Pens post-paid. When sold send the 60 cents and we will send Knife with all charges paid. Address, Gem Novelty Co., Toronto, Ont.

FREE This beautiful Gold-Sheaf Solitaire Ring, in exquisite Plush-lined case, for selling 1 doz. dainty packets of Heliotrope, Rose and Violet perfumes. No brown or counterfeit. Sold at 10c. each. Returns us $1.50 and receive ring FREE by return mail. Liberal commissions, if preferred. Unsold goods returnable.

HOME SUPPLY CO., Dept. 'Z,' Toronto, Ont.

Ideal Leather Polish

Will keep your shoes soft as velvet

MADE IN ALL COLORS.

SOLD EVERYWHERE,

De Laval Cream Separators,

ALPHA - HAND AND POWER.

CANADIAN DAIRY SUPPLY CO.,

Of Montreal and Winnipeg

Sole Agents for Canada.

FREE! This lovely Little Lady's Watch, with guard or chain, for selling 8 doz. of our full-sized Linen Doyleys at 10c. each; Lady's Sterling Silver Watch for selling 5 doz. Doyleys in latest and prettiest design. They sell at sight. Write and we send them postpaid. Sell them, return our money and we promptly forward your watch free. Unsold doilies returnable.

LINEN DOYLEY CO., Dept., 'Z,' Toronto

Deafness and HEAD NOISES relieved by THE COMMON SENSE EAR DRUMS.

Made of soft rubber, are safe, comfortable and invisible. Write for pamphlet showing benefits in case of Catarrhal Deafness, Roaring and Hissing Sounds, Ringing, Sunkens and Thickened Drums.

The Common Sense Ear Drum & Medicine Co., Limited, Freehold Building, Toronto.

THE PETERBOROUGH CANOE Co. SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

Successors to..... Canoe Co. (LIMITED.)

Ontario Canoe Co.

J. Z. ROGERS, Manager.

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA.

ALLAN LINE

ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS ST. LAWRENCE ROUTE, MONTREAL TO LIVERPOOL.

SUMMER SAILINGS.

NUMIDIAN-May 6, June 10, July 15.

CALIFORNIAN-May 12, June 17, July 20.

GALLIA-May 20, June 25, July 30.

CORDON ROUGE-May 27, July 1.

Cabin Passage-$50.00 and upwards.

Second Cabin-$35.00, Return $65.50.

Steerage-Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Londonderry, Queenstown, $23.50.

For further information apply to

H. BOURLIER, 71 Yonge St., Toronto, or H. & A. ALLAN, Montreal.

HEALTH RESTORED without medicine or expense to the most disordered Stomach, Lungs, Nerves, Liver, Blood, Bladder, Kidneys, Brain and Breath by

Du Barry's Revalenta Arabica Food, which saves Invalids and Children, and also Bears successfully Infants whose Aliments and Debility have resisted all other treatments. It digests when all other Food is rejected, saves 50 times its cost in medicine.

50 Years' Invariable Success. 100,000 Annual Cures of Constipation, Flatulency, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Consumption, Diabetes, Bronchitis, Indurated Cough, Asthma, Catarrh, Phlegm, Diarrhoea, Nervous Debility, Sleeplessness, Despondency, DuBarry & Co., (Limited), 77 Regent Street, London, W., also in Paris, 14 Rue de Castiglione, and in all the great Cities and Stores everywhere, in King St. W., 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102, 104, 106, 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200.

Agents for Canada: The J. Eaton Co., Limited, Toronto.

Men's Clothing Boy's Clothing

Bicycle Suits
Straw and Linen
Hats and Caps
White Shirts,
Colored Shirts,
Soft Summer Shirts
of all kinds.

HOT WEATHER IS HERE

and you will find us prepared. Come and see us.
One case of SOFT HATS received from New York this week.

J. L. BOYES,

Men's and Boys' Furnishers.

To the Farmers,
We Don't Want the Earth

Nor we don't want you to sow any Eldorado or China Wheat. It is too soft and gives such unsatisfactory results the millers are compelled to reject it, and will not mill it another season. Fife and Red Fern are the best varieties to cultivate—and are more satisfactory for both miller and farmers.

Good seed Barley and Manitoba Fife Seed Wheat for sale at Big Mill.

TRY NONESUCH FLOUR.

J. R. DAFOE,

Live Hogs
-----Wanted

We are prepared to pay the market price for good live hogs. Call at Our office on market square and get quotations.

The Napanee Express

NAPANEE, FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1899.

All local reading notices or notices announcing entertainments at which a fee is charged for admission, will be charged 50 per line for each insertion, if ordinary type. In black type the price will be 100 per line each insertion.

A pressed steel ceiling and wall has been placed in the Brisco House hall, greatly improving the appearance of the house.

Capt. Holmes hauled his new yacht out on Dufresne's ways last week and repainted her. This week he is repairing the rigging.

Miss Ethel Reid, daughter of Mr. Geo. E. Reid, Belleville, was married in that city on May 24th to Mr. Geo. H. Gorman, of Toronto.

Norman McGill, of Petrolia and Miss Lillita McGill, daughter of Mr. Wesley McGill, of Camden, were married at Newburgh on May 24th.

Special offer on bicycles. We will sell first class guaranteed wheels for $30 as good as lots of $50 wheels.

BOYLE & SON.

Messrs. Carson and Wager expect to have their racing skiff in running order by the end of the week. It will be the hottest boat on the river.

The French government has officially announced that Capt. Dreyfus will be retried by court marshal in some garrison town distant from Paris. The proceedings will be public.

Brookville, May 27.—Antoine Wendling appeared again before the magistrate yesterday to answer to a charge of ballot stuffing. No evidence was offered against him, and he was discharged.

On Friday morning last while Mr. Walker, of Marysville, was about to put his horse in the Brisco house barn the animal bolted up Dundas street but was captured before doing much damage.

Driver Lasher "A" battery, Kingston, deserted three times within six months. For the last offence he has been court-martialed and sentenced to eighty-four days in Central Prison at hard labour.

The radical novelties in the Cleveland bicycle for '99 includes new Cleveland combination ball and roller bearing. An entirely new method of anchoring the spokes in the hubs. Call and see them.

BOYLE & SON,
Agents.

The officers on board the steamer Alexandria, which crossed from Charlotte on Sunday night, say they never were out in a worse storm. Besides a rough sea the lightning was very vivid, and they had great difficulty in keeping the steamer on its proper course.

A strike occurred at the Deseronto iron works on Saturday morning. The unloading gang being paid thirty cents per hour, struck for thirty-five cents per hour. This was refused and they were told to take leave. After a delay of some three or four hours some of the gang returned to work and the unloading continued as before.

A very successful "At Home" was given by Mrs. M. C. Bogart and Mrs. W. T. Gibbard at Mrs. Gibbard's residence on Friday eve. Miss L. M. Hall and Miss De Guerre, of Toronto, assisted in the programme. A very pleasant evening was spent by the large number in attendance.

Montreal, May 29.—The Minerve, the French Conservative organ, suspended publication for the second time on Saturday, and the name of the paper reverts to Sir Adolphe Caron, who allowed the new company to use it. It is understood that a new morning French conservative paper will shortly be established with abundance of capital to back it, and the name of Joseph Royal is mentioned as the probable editor.

Belleville, Ont., May 30.—The stationing committee of the Bay of Quinte conference, made good progress yesterday, most of the ministers being satisfied with the changes proposed. The committee resumed work this morning, and will report to conference on Monday, and the statistics of the great Workman alleged heresy case will be

GO TO—
THE MEDICAL—HALL
FOR Drugs. (Everything fresh and good)
OUR MOTTO
"Quality" First, Last and Always.
DETLOF & WALLACE.

Delays Are Dangerous.

If you are straining your eyes you are draining your entire supply of nerve energy. Our record book contains names of hundreds whom we have fitted, who can testify to the benefits they have received from our glasses and to our ability of adapting them to their requirements. Sight tested free.

F CHINNECK'S Jewelry Store.

An Action for Libel.

The other day a writ for $2,000 was issued against W. J. Taylor, of the Tweed News. The damages are asked by a man, whom the Tweed News charged with ill-treating a girl. As this is the first time Mr. Taylor has had to defend a libel suit, he decided to settle the matter as easily as possible, but the complaints lawyer wanted to much money, and Mr. Taylor decided to defend his action. He has got all the necessary evidence, and is ready for the suit. Notwithstanding that the writ was issued, it was not served up to the Queen's birthday.—Kingston News.

Ladies, Joyful News!

It is not very often that the ladies of Napanee have an opportunity of having among them Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, the world-known hair goods artist, whose skill in the manufacture of both ladies' and gents' wigs, toupees, wavy bang fronts, switches, etc., is second to none. He will be at Paisley House, Napanee, on Friday June 16th with a full sample line of hair goods styles. Every attention will be given in each case. Ladies having partly or wholly lost their hair should not miss this opportunity to call at the hotel, where private apartments have been secured and proper demonstration will be given free of charge. The proper style of hair plays an important part to refine the face and effect a younger and handsomer appearance. Remember, Paisley House.

Beautiful Hammock's at Pollard's Bookstore.

Quinte Bicycle League.

A meeting of the executive of the Bay of Quinte Racing League was held at the Paisley House, Napanee, May 31st, 1899. Present: G. A. Ireland, Trenton; H. A. Fish, Belleville; A. Jackson, Deseronto; F. J. Hoag and R. J. Wilson, Kingston; E. Huff and F. W. Scott, Napanee.

The minutes of meeting of April 7 were read and adopted.

The former motion regarding the setting aside of five per cent of proceeds of meets as a sinking fund was rescinded.

Moved by F. W. Scott, seconded by A. Jackson, that R. J. Wilson and E. Huff, be permitted to vote on executive pro tem.—Carried.

Moved by A. Jackson, seconded by R. J. Wilson, that the sum of $2 from each club be set aside as a sinking fund. Carried.

Moved by F. J. Hoag, seconded by E. Huff, that the former motion of five riders from each town be rescinded.—Carried.

Moved by E. Huff, seconded by G. A. Ireland that three men compose each team.—Carried.

Moved by G. A. Ireland seconded by R. J. Wilson, that Mr. Spencer, Trenton, be appointed Vice-Chairman.—Carried.

Moved by A. Jackson, seconded by G. A. Ireland, that the trophy be selected and purchased by Mr. R. J. Wilson.—Carried.

The following dates for meets were selected subject to the approval of each town: Deseronto, July 1st; Trenton, July 12th; Napanee, July 21st; Picton, July 28th; Kingston, Aug. 7th; Belleville, Aug. 16th.

Bay of Quinte Conference.

Leave you. Q. Chris the conference in Belleville on Wednesday afternoon first draft of stations for this district was presented:

PERSONALS.

Mr. Ralph Ham wheeled to Kingston May 24th.

Edmund C. Shorey, M. A. graduate of Queen's College, Kingston, the past six years chemist to the sugar company, Hawaii, has been food commissioner and analytical board of health of the Hawaiian Islands. He will have his office in Honolulu. Shorey is a son of the Rev. E. B. of Morven, and cousin of the Messrs. and Henry Richardson, Kingston.

The quarterly board of the W. received the resignation of Mr. Thexton as choir leader. Mr. Th. secured a situation in Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dickenson, guests of Mrs. W. J. C. Allen, Kingston, Thursday of last week.

Miss Lena and Nellie VanNo Belleville, were the guests of Miss Lee a few days this week.

Mr. Caswell Burley is home from Ter.

Miss Woddy Kent left on Saturday for Rochester.

Mr. Will Conger left on Tuesday for Watertown.

Miss Minnie McDonald has been in a few days in town the guest of Maggie McGowan.

Robt. Sagar, of Richmond, under operation on his foot in Kingston Hospital this week.

Mr. Ed. Spole, Odessa, spent Saturday in town.

Mrs. Cleworth, Mill street, left on day on an extended visit with friends in Chicago Ill.

James and Frank Hawley, at Calvert, of Kingston, left for Dawson Monday.

Miss S. E. Allen, of New York, in her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mill street.

Mr. J. L. Boyes spent a few days in New York, attending the session of the Ticket Sellers Association.

Rev. A. Coon, of Belleville, a guest of Mr. H. V. Fraalick for a few days last week.

Mr. W. G. Wilson was in Belleville Friday.

Mrs. G. W. Spencer, returned home the Kingston General Hospital on evening last not much improved in health.

Miss Tillie Quinn, of Kingston, guest of Miss Minnie Wales a few days last week.

Mr. T. M. Henry spent last Saturday in Kingston.

Messrs. R. G. Birrell and J. W. were in Kingston on Sunday.

Mrs. James Daly left for Buffalo on Monday on a visit to relatives.

Mr. F. P. Douglas left on Monday for Eastern counties on a business trip.

Mr. G. A. Blewett spent a few days in town this week.

Rev. W. P. Reeve has taken charge of the rectory of Sydenham, Huron Harrowsmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Loynes, of Dakota, are the guests of his sister Jno. Webster.

Mr. Dan Goodmurphy, of Deseronto in town on Wednesday.

One of the pleasing features of the bishop Gauthier's reception on Monday was the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of roses to His Grace, by little Helene.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Denyes, of Belleville, and Mrs. F. P. Johnson, and Mrs. Beryl, Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Ketcheson, and son, Richie, Sidon Mrs. C. Lloyd, Fredericksburgh, guests at Denyes farm, South N. this week.

Mr. E. H. Baines, of Trenton, town on Tuesday.

Miss Luella McDermott, of Whitby, and Mrs. Thompson, street.

Miss James Daly left on Monday for Buffalo.

Mrs. McCloud, Miss McCloud Cheevers, Miss Cheevers, Miss Mad

Live Hogs

-----Wanted

We are prepared to pay the market price for good live hogs. Call at Our office on market square and get quotations.

162m DEY & KNIGHT.

CARLETON WOODS.

ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.
1v Roblin, Ont.

JOHN POLLARD.

ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.
Express Office, Napanee.
Strictly Private and Confidential.

R. J. WRIGHT.

Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Bridge Street, opposite West Ward School, Napanee.

The cement walk on the south side of Dundas street has been completed.

New Yale locks have been ordered for the gaol to replace those broken by Pare.

Close's Mills grind every day. I have put in a large pair of scales to weigh loads in and out. JAS. A. CLOSE.

As a result of a fisticuff affair in the Kingston post office one clerk has been suspended and an investigation ordered by the Post Master General to take place on Saturday.

The Cataraqui Cemetery Company, at its meeting in Kingston on Saturday decided to prohibit Sunday funerals except in cases where interments must take place on sanitary grounds.

At Winnipeg Man., on Saturday, the two Galicians Guszczak and Czuby, convicted of murdering another Galician and his four children at Stuartburn on Oct. 15th last, paid the extreme penalty of the law by being hung.

William Jackson, Kingston, a striking G. T. R. sectionman, was struck by a train at Kingston on Monday. Jackson was one of the lookouts for the strikers and was watching a switch and did not notice the oncoming train. He was severely injured about the head.

TO THE DEAF.—A rich lady, cured of her Deafness and Noises in the Head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear Drums, has sent £1,000 to his Institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the Ear Drums may have them free. Apply to Department A. W. G. The Institute, "Longcott," Gunnersbury, London, W., England. 24-1 ly.

Children Cry for
CASTORIA.

A. Kimmery has a large stock of Seed Corn, Millet, Hungarian Timothy and Clover Seed in stock. Good flour $1.75 per 100. Our 25c. tea beats the world. Good tea 2lbs for 25c. A car of self sealers to be sold at lower prices than other dealers are paying. All patent medicines at cut rate prices, our Native Herbs 75c. per box. I am paying 10c. per doz. for eggs. Sugars cheaper again.

The experimental ride indulged in by officers of the 47th. Battalion last week was a decided success. Shortly before midnight on the 23 inst., two couriers left Kingston, lieut. Col. Hunter going to Inverary and Surgeon Curtis to Odessa. From Odessa Major Mabey rode to Napanee. After all officers had been notified and the returns made it was calculated that without the aid of the telephone, telegraph or railway the regiment could be mobilized in Kingston in eleven and one half hours.

Sir Solphre Caron, who allowed the new company to use it. It is understood that a new morning French conservative paper will shortly be established with abundance of capital to back it, and the name of Joseph Royal is mentioned as the probable editor.

Belleville, Ont., May 30.—The stationing committee of the Bay of Quinte conference, made good progress yesterday, most of the ministers being satisfied with the changes proposed. The committee resumed work this morning, and will report to Conference on Friday, and yet. The statistics of the great Workman alleged heresy case will be brought up in the Ministerial session to-morrow. About 200 delegates will be here by evening.

Wanted.

Good milch cow wanted, apply to Rev. Jarvis, at the Rectory, on the Newburgh road.

For Sale.

Good cow. Would accept good approved note, six months, 6%. Enquire of JAMES BIRRELL.

The Largest and Finest

Assortment of belt buckles, neck buckles, blouse sets and ladies' long guards in town at prices to surprise you. Examine our window display for the newest things.

F. CHINNECK'S Jewelry Store.

Annual Church Services.

The annual church parade of Napanee Lodge No 194 A.O.U.W. took place to the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning last. A very appropriate and eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. W. W. Peck. A large number of the members turned out.

A Runaway Lad.

The Chief has received a notice from John Newton, chief constable of Belleville, to be on the lookout for a young lad named Arthur Collins, aged 13 years, red hair, dressed in navy blue coat and knee pants, blue cap with shiny peak. He left home about May 13.

At Home.

The next "At Home" under the auspices of St. Mary Magdalene's Guild will be given by Mrs. W. H. Boyle and Mrs. C. Bartlett on Wednesday afternoon next the 7th inst., from 4 to 6 o'clock, to take place at Mrs. W. H. Boyle's residence. All gladly welcome.

Children Cry for
CASTORIA.

A Small Blaze.

A small fire occurred at the skating rink on Monday eve. The Hornerites have been holding meetings in a tent in the rink for some time past, and while a meeting was in progress on Monday eve the high wind caught the tent and caused it to fall on the lamps setting the canvas on fire. An alarm soon brought the fire brigade to the spot and the flames were extinguished before very much damage was done. The tent was almost demolished and a few of the benches caught fire.

A Matter of Wisdom.

It is foolish to wear glasses when you do not need them. It is worse than foolish not to wear them when you do. The latter course involves discomfort or serious injury to the eyes. Smith the optician will tell you whether you need glasses or not. Do not stand in your own light. If your eyes smart and burn try Smith's glasses they will afford relief and preserve your sight for old age, the time you need it most. You cannot afford to neglect your eyes. Eyes tested free, Smith's Jewellery Store.

Buying a pig in a poke has never been considered good business. Buying a bicycle that you know nothing about is something dangerous. When you buy a bicycle from us you get one made at home all throughout, not just put together but made. Every part turned from solid steel, and backed by a guarantee that is worth something. BOYLE & SON. Agents for Cleavelands, Perfects, Dominions and Chainless.

J. Wilson, that Mr. Spencer, Trenton, be appointed Vice-Chairman.—Carried.

Moved by A. Jackson, seconded by G. A. Ireland, that the trophy be selected and purchased by Mr. R. J. Wilson.—Carried.

The following dates for 'meets were selected subject to the approval of each town: Deseronto, July 1st; Trenton, July 12th; Napanee, July 21st; Picton, July 28th; Kingston, Aug. 7th; Belleville, Aug. 16th.

Bay of Quinte Conference.

Have you? O. Chri the conference in Belleville on Wednesday afternoon first draft of stations for this district was presented:

NAPANEE DISTRICT.

Napanee East—W. J. Crothers, M.A., D.D., M. J. Bates, evangelist, by permission of conference. Napanee West—C. Parker, David Wilson, G. S. White, superannuated. Deseronto—G. H. Copeland. Morven—W. H. Cook, E. S. Shorep (Napanee). Newburgh—C. L. Thompson, W. J. Cragg (Camden East), J. H. Chant, superannuated. Odessa—T. S. McKee. Bath—D. Williams. Adolphustown—W. J. Sanders (Sandhurst). Bay—S. Crookshanks (Napanee). Selby—Wm. Limbert. Wilton—E. B. Rowe, R. Sanderson, superannuated. Yarker—Chas. Adams. E. W. Wagg goes to college.

TAMWORTH DISTRICT.

Tamworth—J. G. Lewis, B.A. Centre-ville—J. S. McMullen (Enterprise). Roblin and Marlbank—H. S. Spence, B.A., B.D. (Roblin), R. A. Whattam (Marlbank). Arden—D. C. Day. Mountain Grove—W. T. Wicket. Plevna—T. H. P. Anderson. Folger—J. Snell. Vennachar—George McConnell. Flinton—W. S. P. Boyce, B.A. Cloyne—M. W. Leigh, B.A. Wm. Higgs, J. M. Whyte go to college. Rev. G. S. White was continued in his superannuated standing.

The Workman heresy case was brought up, the report being asked for. Dr. Carman said he would refuse to receive a report, as the committee had no power to deal with the matter. Dr. Burwash expressed dissent from this ruling, and may probably appeal against it.

Hats

We are sole agents for the Wilkison and Carter, and no better Hats are made.

Shirts

We are showing a very handsome line of Colored Good, and also the CELEBRATED KING SHIRT.

Suits and Overcoatings.

We are showing the finest range of Spring Suits and Overcoatings we ever had. Imported direct by us from London and Glasgow.

D. J. Hogan & SON.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Denyes, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Johnson, and Byrel, Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Ketcheson, and son, Richie, Sid Mrs. C. Lloyd, Fredericksburgh, guests at Denyes farm, South this week.

Mr. E. H. Baines, of Toronto town on Tuesday.

Miss Luella McDermott, of W visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thompson street.

Joe Davies Daly left on Monday for Buffalo.

Mrs. McCloud, Miss McCloud Cheevers, Miss Cheevers, Miss Ma Miss Paisley were visiting friends on last week.

Miss Annie Coxall returned Tuesday visiting friends in Kingston.

B. S. O'Laughlin, Yarker, was in Saturday.

B. B. Shibley, Wilton, was in Monday.

Mr. Fred T. Byers, Montreal, I Alliance Insurance Co, spent a few town this week.

Mr. Zina Ham left for Albany, to visit his brother, John Ham.

Arney Wolte spent Sunday in to friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Ming spent last with friends in Wilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Curlette of were in town on Tuesday.

Rev. Dr. McDiarmid, of Whit preach in Eastern Methodist Chu Sunday morning and evening.

John Wales, of Kingston, spent in town.

Mr. Uriah Wilson, M. P., Napa in town last week en route to Otta J. P. Vrooman, Napanee, and Dr. of Newburgh, spent Thursday last on their return from a trip to Tweed News.

Mr. R. G. Wright was in Ty Thursday.

Among the names of those who passed their first year examination law school is that of W. A. Napanee.

H. B. Sherwood, supt., B. Q. R. Tweed on Saturday.

DIED.

DALY.—At London, on May 27: erica Dickson Daly, aged 3 yrs daughter of Fred Daly, of London

POLICE COURT.

Frank Murphy a tramp appeared the Police Magistrate on Saturday charged with being drunk orderly on the streets. He was sent to 30 days in gaol.

Ed. Symons appeared before the on Saturday morning for drunk the public streets. He pleaded guilty his case was adjourned for or Symons is a prohibited person name of the one who supplied liquor has been communicated License Inspector and the guilty probably appear before the magis a hearing in a few days.

The case against the Salvation holding meeting on Dundas street for a hearing in the police court today and was further adjourn Thursday next.

The Chief of Police has accot names of a number of bicyclists been in the habit of riding on walks. The offenders will be bro for the Police Magistrate some week.

Close's Mills grind every day. put in a large pair of scales to weigh in and out. JAS. A. CLOSE.

USE—

COFFALINE
for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Grippe.

"IT CURES"

Sent by mail on receipt of price.

Detlor & Wallace
AGENTS.

PERSONALS.

Ralph Ham wheeled to Kingston on 14th.

and C. Shorey, M. A. D. Sc., a son of Queen's College, Kingston, for six years chemist to the Kohala company, Hawaii, has been appointed commissioner and analyst to the health of the Hawaiian Islands. He has his office in Honolulu. Mr. is a son of the Rev. E. S. Shorey, sen., and cousin of the Messrs. Geo. and Harry Richardson, Kingston.

Quarterly board of the W.M.C. has accepted the resignation of Mr. G. W. as choir leader. Mr. Thexton has a situation in Buffalo.

and Mrs. R. Dickenson were the guests of Mrs. W. J. C. Allen, Kingston, on 14th of last week.

Lena and Nellie VanNorman, of Buffalo, were the guests of Miss Minnie W. on 14th of last week.

Lawell Burley is home from Rochester.

Weddy Kent left on Sunday for Buffalo.

Vill Conger left on Tuesday for Buffalo.

Finnie McDonald has been spending 7 days in town the guest of Miss McGowan.

Sagar, of Richmond, underwent an operation on his foot in Kingston General this week.

d. Sprole, Odessa, spent Sunday in Kingston.

W. W. Spencer, returned home from Kingston General Hospital on Tuesday and is not much improved in health.

Miss Minnie Quinn, of Kingston, was the guest of Miss Minnie Wales a few days this week.

M. Henry spent last Saturday in Kingston.

R. G. Birrell and J. W. Sproule left Kingston on Sunday.

James Daly left for Buffalo, N. Y., on a visit to relatives.

P. Douglas left on Monday for the counties on a business trip.

A. Blewett spent a few days in Kingston.

P. P. Reeve has taken charge of the office of Sydenham, Murvale, and 14th.

and Mrs. Jno. Loynes, of North York, are the guests of his sister, Mrs. J. Loynes.

and Goodmurphy, of Deseronto, was in Kingston Wednesday.

The pleasing features of Archbishop's reception on Monday, representation of a beautiful bouquet by His Grace, by little Helen Trim.

and Mrs. Horace Denyes, Fellows, Miss F. P. Johnson, and daughter, Miss Cheevers, Miss Madole, and Miss Denyes farm, South Napanee, were the guests of Mrs. J. Loynes.

H. Baines, of Toronto, was in Kingston Tuesday.

Jella McDermott, of Whitley, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Bridge Street.

James Daly left on Monday to visit his mother in Buffalo.

McCloud, Miss McCloud, Mrs. Miss Cheevers, Miss Madole, and Miss Denyes farm, South Napanee, were the guests of Mrs. J. Loynes.

WHAT SO RARE AS A DAY IN JUNE!

And what so rare as the bargains to be had at the Big Store in up-to-date, fresh, seasonable Dry Goods and Clothing for Men, Women and Children! "OUR WEEK'S WORK"—always caring for our own customer's interests—always having just what you want—always combining the the reliable quality with a little lower price than you expect to pay—that keeps the departments fresh and tempting all the time. This store's prices always benefit the consumer.

TRUE ECONOMY

in the buying of Clothes means getting the greatest possible measure of satisfaction and intrinsic value for the smallest price.

Clothes that are disappointing in either service or style are not cheap at any price.

Our made-to-measure suits are bound to give satisfaction.

Our Ready-to-Wear Suits come from the best houses in Canada, and are correct in material, style and price. Suits to suit men who would not be suited with suits that are not all right.

Little Clothes

Little Money.

Clothes for little folks for little money.

Every boy's wants supplied at the BIG STORE.

Mothers should see our little Men's Suits before purchasing elsewhere.

New Shirts, Ties, Underwear, Linen Hats and Caps, etc.

WHITEWEAR WEATHER

is here—and white-wear bargains too—in Ladies' Drawers, Night Gowns, Chemise, Underskirts, Corset Covers, etc.

White Pique Skirts and Waists, White Lawn Blouses, White Apron Lawns, deep hem with tuck and insertion at 12½c, 15c, 20c, and 25c yd.

White Swiss Spot Muslins 9c, 12½c 15c, 18c, 20c, 25c, 30c and 35c yd.

India Linen and Victoria Lawns 10c to 25c yd.

White Piques in medium and heavy welts 20c yd.

The D and A and E T White Summer Corsets 50c and 75c.

Embroideries and Laces.—Ask to see our White Standard Quilts at $1.00

SHIRT WAIST

WEATHER

is here—why not choose early and get select styles which can never be had once the summer sales are on. Come and see what we offer at 49c, 75c, 98c, $1.25 and $1.50.

JUNE DAYS DRESS GOODS

are here in abundance. All the newest designs in Priestley and Son's, and the great Gold Medal black goods. We sell the SEABELLE SERGES in Navy and Black at 35c, 50c and 75c yd. New Percale Dress Linings at 12½c and 15c yd.

OUR CORSET DEPARTMENT

is filled with all the best makes at lower prices than you will find elsewhere.

We have the largest and nicest stock Kid Gloves ever shown in Napanee—50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.25 a pair.

New Japanese and China Matting 18c to 25c yd.

New Union Carpets in great variety—25c, 38c, 48c, and 58c yd.

New Linoleums and Oilcloths—New Art Blinds and Curtain Poles, etc.

Our Staple Department is always filled with the best values in Grey and White Cottons, Table Linens, Towels, Sheetings, Ticks, Shirtings, Cottonades, etc.

LAHEY & CO.

THE STRIKE.

Superintendent Jones arrived in town on Saturday with a gang of Italians to replace

Detroit, Mich., May 31.—The body of Norton Noy, aged 25 years, who was last seen alive just two months ago last night, was found in the river near Wyandotte last evening. The body was so badly

Church of England Notes.

PARISH OF ADOLPHUSTOWN—Services Sun.

Ir. F. P. Johnson, and daughter, oscow, Mr. and Mrs. Selden, and son, Richie, Sidney, and loyd, Fredericksburgh, were the Denyes farm, South Napanee.

H. Baines, of Toronto, was in uesday.

ella McDermott, of Whitby, is fr. and Mrs. Thompson, Bridge

mes Daly left on Monday to visit Buffalo.

McCloud, Miss McCloud, Mrs. Miss Cheevers, Miss Madole and ey were visiting friends in Kings-ek.

nie Coxall returned Tuesday from lides in Kingston.

Laughlin, Yarker, was in town on ibley, Wiltou, was in town on l T. Bryers, Montreal, Inspector, insurance Co, spent a few days in week.

ham left for Albany, Tuesday, brother, John Ham.

Volte spent Sunday in town with

Mrs. Ming spent last Sunday is in Wilton.

Mrs. Chas. Curlette of Dorland, wn on Tuesday.

McDiarmid, of Whitby, will Eastern Methodist Church next rning and evening.

les, of Kingston, spent Sunday

h Wilson, M. P., Napanee, was it week en route to Ottawa.—Dr-uman, Napanee, and Dr. Beeman, gh, spent Thursday last in town return from a trip to Perth.—ws.

G. Wright was in Tweced last the names of those who have ir first year examinations at the l is that of W. A. Grange, erwood, supt., B. Q R., was in Saturday.

DIED.

at London, on May 27th. Fred-son Daly, aged 3 years, only f Fred Daly, of London

POLICE COURT.

lurphy a tramp appeared before Magistrate on Saturday morn- ad with being drunk and dis- the streets. He was sentenced in gaol.

ons appeared before the P. M. y morning for drunkenness on streets. He pleaded guilty and was adjourned for one week, s a prohibited person and the he one who supplied him with been communicated to the spector and the guilty party will ppear before the magistrate for n a few days.

against the Salvation Army for eting on Dundas street came up ng in the police court on Wed- d was further adjourned until next.

ief-of-Police has accused the number of bicyclists who have e habit of riding on the side- e offenders will be brought be- lices Magistrate some day next

Mills grind every day. I have rge pair of scales to weigh load JAS. A. CLOSE.

COFFALINE

gths, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and Grippe.

'IT CURES'

y mail on receipt of price, 25c.

lor & Wallace.

AGENTS.

wear, Linen Hats and Caps, at 49c, 75c, 98c, $1.25 and $1.50.

Sheetings, Ticks, Shirts; Cottonades, etc.

LAHEY & CO.

THE STRIKE.

Superintendent Jones arrived in town on Saturday with a gang of Italians to replace the striking sectionmen on this section. Neither love nor money could procure board or lodging for the Italians and the superintendent took them to Belleville. On Saturday eve he returned with a gang of French bridge builders from Montreal and three constables to protect them, also a couple of cars to board and lodge them in. On Sunday morning the Frenchmen refused to go to work, saying they were bridge builders and not sectionmen. On Monday the constables and Frenchmen left for Montreal. The strikers are conducting themselves quietly and well, but it is hard to say what would have happened had the G. T. R. found new men to take their places in this section.

At the Union Station, Toronto, there is a stifled activity. Odd gangs of four and five men saunter mysteriously into the superintendent's office and drift away again on the departing trains. These are said to be men engaged by the company to take the place of the strikers, a husky looking lot, but evidently good enough for the meantime. It is also said these men will receive $1.25 a day for their services, but this is a matter of conjecture. It is certain, however, the company is making every effort to secure sectionmen.

On Wednesday the pay cheques and notices of dismissal arrived from headquarters for the striking trackmen at Kingston, but the men refused to accept them or to sign for their receipt.

An amusing incident occurred this week in town in connection with the G. T. R. strike. One of the French constables entered a hotel and asked for a glass of beer. The proprietor replied "no beer." He then asked for a cigar, and was answered "no cigar." He then asked for whisky and the proprietor replied "no whisky." He then said to the proprietor "what for you keep this house anyway." Such is the treatment accorded all the men who are trying to take the places of the striking section men.

RIOT AT KINGSTON JUNCTION.

Late Wednesday night there was a riot at the G. T. R. junction, Kingston, when a mob of about fifty city symyathizers of the striking trackmen ordered the men from Montreal to take their departure from that section. This they refused to do, and there was a volley of stones, followed by another and another, and the sound of breaking glass told that the boarding car windows were suffering. The row became general, and the whole neighborhood was alarmed. In the car were twelve persons, ten bridgemen and two G. T. R. detectives. Suddenly there was a sharp report and this was soon followed by several others. Revolvers were used by the parties, and many shots were exchanged. No person was injured by them, but quite a few of the strangers bear witness as to the fact that they came in violent contact with hard missiles. The new workmen were finally routed, and, deserting their car, sought refuge at the station offices. The police were summoned, but when they reached the scene the attacking party had disappeared. The car to-day presented a tough spectacle. All the windows but three were shattered and the doors demolished. Five more G.T.R. detectives arrived this morning to assist in maintaining order and they assert that they will protect the men. More trouble is feared. Among last night's attacking party were four or five women.—Globe.

Mr. C. T. Botting has become a member of the Citizen's band. He has purchased a new slide trombone and from the sound's issuing from his shop on the market one would suppose a whole band had broken loose.

Detroit, Mich., May 31.—The body of Norton Noy, aged 25 years, who was last seen alive just two months ago last night, was found in the river near Wyandotte last evening. The body was so badly decomposed that papers, including a Y.M.C.A. card, were the only means by which it could be fully identified. This is the young man who was advertised for some few weeks ago.

An old man who applied at the Police Station, Kingston, on Wednesday, afternoon to get into the House of Industry, was named John Cornelius. He said he was sent there from Napanee. He was very feeble, but as a rule has been established that each county shall look after it's own poor, he was sent back again. The aforssaid John Cornelius is a native of Pictou and a former Napaneean.

Everything Comes.

"Still writing for the magazines?" He asked as one who yearns To learn his neighbor's ways and means. "Well, what are the returns?"

As one whose voice did lack the ring Of pure, spontaneous glee The other said: "Oh, everything! They all come back to me." —Richmond Dispatch.

Papa's Idea.

"Pa, what is a hero?" "A hero is a man who tries to read a newspaper in the same room with a boy about your size."

Romance Shattered.

He kissed her! She neither drew back nor turned red, And she did not deliver a slap on his ear. He kissed her! No word by the lady was said. She had ceased to be thrilled—they'd been married a year. —Chicago News.

As Usual.

"I understand Gotrox made his fortune out of a simple invention." "No; out of a simple inventor." —Indianapolis Journal.

Dancing.

She trips the light fantastic With the grace of one from France And an ease which quite assures us She will make her husband dance. —Philadelphia North American.

Church of England Notes.

PARISH OF ADOLPHUSTOWN—Services Sunday, June 4th. S. Paul's, Sandhurst, at 11 o'clock; S. Alban's, Adolphustown, at 3 o'clock; S. Jude's, Gosport, at 7.30.

PARISH OF SELBY—Services for first Sunday after Trinity. St. Jude's, Napanee Mills, Matins and Holy Communion, 10.30; S. S. at 3. St. Jude's, Kingsford, Evensong at 3; special offering for Mission fund. St. John's, Selby, Evensong at 7; S. S. at 10. Special collection for Mission fund.

WE SAY SO.

IT IS SO

Even if we desired to mislead it would not be good policy; after forty years we must not jeopardise our reputation for giving the consumer full value for his money; still we say

MYRTLE CUT IS THE BEST!

The 1899 Seed Store

All kinds of field and garden seeds. Also the Belleville Canning Co's seeds.

For sale at the old stand.

THOS. SYMINGTON,

South Side Dundas street, NAPANEE.

JUST ARRIVED

.....A SPECIAL LINE OF.....

"HARRIS TWEED SUITINGS"

IN LIGHT AND DARK COLORS

MADE TO ORDER FOR..... $13.00

Lined with a Fine Satin Lining—Fitting and Making Qualities are always A 1, at

J. A. CATHRO'S,

THE TAILOR.

Dundas Street East, Napanee.